

"It was bittersweet celebrating our last spirit week as seniors." - Senior Taylor Williams

spirit week

Laughter and excitement filled the halls during Spirit Week.

It was one of the most cherished times of the whole school year. The first day of Spirit Week was Matching Monday, where friends wore identical outfits. Tuesday was Tropical Tuesday, and grass skirts and Hawaiian shirts were some of the favorites worn. On Western Wednesday, cowboy boots shuffled down the halls during class changes. Thursday was Tacky Thursday, where students came in their wildest attire.

Friday was Fun Friday, and the student body was able to dress out and show their Cougar pride for the Homecoming game later that night.

"School spirit to the MAX!"

Junior Victoria Dalton is very focused reading her book, while senior Peyton Pryor patiently attempts to distract her with his large, colorful sombrero. Tacky Day is the craziest day of the week because everyone goes all out. No shame is shown!

Freshman Carson Walker strikes an unforgettable pose on Tropical Tuesday. Her neon colors and spirited attitude was just one sliver of the tropical scene on Tuesday. By participating in Spirit Week, Carson lived her first year of high school to the fullest!

Juniors Jar-red McCoy and Ryan Penfield express that they enjoyed spirit week, "because we were able to show our school spirit." Some might have thought they were in it for the for the free food!
