

1 Chief Petty Officer, sophomore Stephen Seabrook, a sophomore, is a member of the color guard and the naval flag barer. 'Murray' gives credit to NJROTC for his betterment as a person.

2 During an after school rehearsal, the armed drill team, under the command of junior Christian Beasley, prepares for an upcoming drill meet. Although it may look simple, their routines can be very difficult.

3 One of the platoons demonstrates their marching skills during AMI. It takes hours of practice and dedication to do the complicated moves the groups execute.

4 Cadets await their duty as sword bearers for the homecoming court. It is a tradition for NJROTC cadets to escort homecoming court candidates onto the field as well.

5 Cadet Commander Andrew Dantzler, a senior, stands with his fellow staff during AMI. He feels that NJROTC is like a big family of support that he can always count on.

"ROTC is my big, happy, second family." - junior Dylan Davis