

stories from the bench

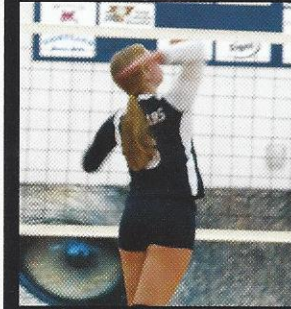

3 Annually, the volleyball teams host a Pink Out. The stands are drenched in pink, and the game helps raise money for breast cancer awareness. The teams wore special jerseys, too!

4 Junior Kennedy Maxey serves the ball on Pink Out night. "Skylar" felt that the team had had a successful season, but there is always room for improvement.

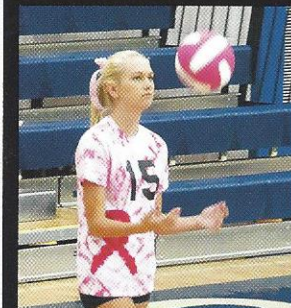

5 Senior Deyja Brown is able to jump all the way over the net to block the ball. This was not only a skill to be proud of, but one that significantly helped the team.

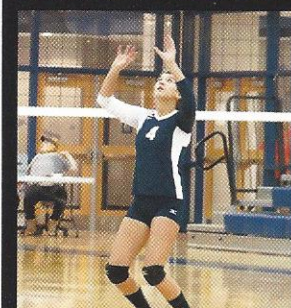

Senior Madison Lucas sets the ball to her pepper partner. "I'm glad that we had such a successful season during my senior year!" "Maddie" said.

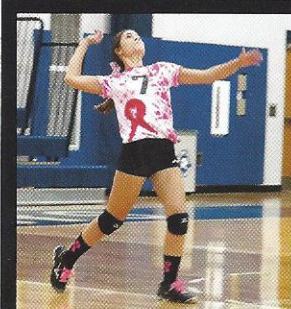

Junior Taylor Shuman jumps high to hit the ball. Taylor feels that being a part of the volleyball team helps to improve her self confidence.

Sophomore Marilyn Nolte waits for the whistle. Being new to the school, "MariBeth" was glad to have made friends with her fellow teammates.

Junior Hannah Perritte practices setting before a game. "We were very successful this year, and I loved every minute of it!" she commented.

Sophomore Emily Eaves demonstrates her serve- a skill that Emily feels she has significantly improved on since last season.
