

Epilogue

As the school year comes to a close, and we all are overwhelmed with summer fever, take a minute to look back and reflect on the year that passed in the blink of an eye. We have all had our chances to write our own story, and we left a perpetual mark on the 2013-2014 school year. As everyone leaves the school building for the next three months, they will have their memories eternally printed in this book.

One day you will look back on these pages and remember the crazy memories you made at sporting events, how exciting your clubs were, and how happy you were to be finished with your classes. You will look back and think about how happy you were to finally pass that math test, and how great it felt when you finally got the courage to go and talk to the new student.

The pictures and words in this book will forever be with you and you will always be able to look back on your old life. The stories within these pages will give you the opportunity to relive your high school years. You and all of your friends will fondly look back upon the "good old days." You will always be able to feel the simplicity and happiness of high school life, so long as you keep this story. Your story.
