

JV Boys Basketball

This year, the junior varsity boys made many improvements as they focused on their fundamental skills and learning how to work together as a team. Even though they did not win all of their games, they still managed to lift each other up and continued to work together as a team. Between practicing for a couple of hours after school and having games throughout the week, they put in an extraordinary amount of time and effort. Playing a sport is all about team work and that is exactly what these boys did from the beginning to end of the season!

Freshman Latrell Jenkins attempts to navigate around his opposing teammates to steal the ball. A good defense is really important to shifting the outcome of the game.

The team comes together for a brief pep talk from the coach to make sure they know what is expected of them when they go back on the court.

Freshman Nyeem Green stated, "My cousin is my inspiration and I have been playing for four years."

Sophomore Reggie Gadsom said, "Scoring fifteen points was my favorite memory of the season."

When asked why he enjoys playing basketball, freshman Jemari Stephens stated, "I like winning. It is fun, and I like being with my teammates." Kevin Durent inspires him to play basketball and he has been playing since he was in the fifth grade.

Sophomore Jonathan Monroe has grown up around basketball. He has been playing since he was four years old. Jonathan explained, "I chose to play basketball because it is what I love and being on the team makes me feel like brothers with the other players."

Freshman De'ajeh Ferguson has been playing basketball for eight years. De'ajeh explained, "my favorite memory of the season was when I tried to dunk."
