

JV girls basketball

During the game the team comes together on the sidelines to discuss what needed to be done if they wanted to win the game.

When asked why she chose to play basketball, Freshman Michele Holmes replied, "I felt that I would advance in it and make something out of myself. Also, my father inspires me to play basketball."

The opposing team tries to score while the Cougars defend their half of the court.

JV Girls Basketball

Throughout the season, the Junior Varsity girls came together as a team and managed to end their season with 9 wins and 5 losses. Working together as a team made it possible for these young ladies to accomplish this record. With five days of school along with hours of practice after school and games throughout the week, they were able to keep their grades up and still excel on the court. These ladies made many memories together during the season. Making memories and working together to succeed is what being on a team is all about.

Junior Caprice Walker said, "playing on the team was my favorite part of basketball." Also, she plans on playing beyond high school, and credits Brandy Brown as her inspiration to play the game.

Freshman Shantasia Allen stated, "growing up, I just started playing basketball. I have been playing since I was in the eighth grade and my family members inspire me to play." Her favorite memory is being part of the team.

"I do want to play basketball in the future. I have only played last year and this year. My favorite memory about this season is always seeing everyone smile and laugh. We always joke around and everyone always has fun no matter what. This is one reason why I want to keep playing basketball," explained Freshman Alexis Gladden.

The Lady Cougars get keyed up for a rebound during an intense game against the Woodland Wolverines.