

WOW!

WINTER GUARD

The Colleton County High School Varsity Winter Guard performs their first show of the season, Mad Hatter, at the CWEA competition hosted by Colleton County High.

After hard work, determination, and long practices, the Colleton High School Varsity and Junior Varsity Winter Guard teams are proud to perform their crowd-pleasing shows that have a touch of literary fantasy to them. The Varsity's show, Mad Hatter, is about a journey to create the perfect hat for the Mad Hatter from Alice in Wonderland. The JV's show, Going back to Neverland, is about staying connected with your inner childhood. They as the success of this year proves, these teams continue to keep surprising us with their captivating performances.

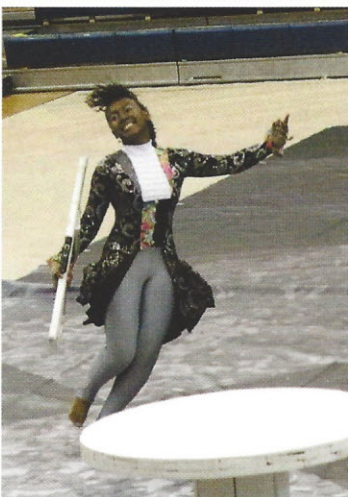

Seniors Priscilla Chapman and Shaquanay Kelly, along with Juniors Shayvaughn Sweat and Zykria Walters, wait patiently for their awards.

After long hours of practice, the Colleton County High School junior varsity winter guard gracefully perform their first show of the season titled Going back to Neverland. Throughout their performance the crowd could not take their eyes off the girls.

To quote senior Tiffany Infinger, "Self-belief and hard work will always earn you success."

Left: "Guard gives you the opportunity to express your feelings through music, without having to say a word," says Junior Dyneira Brown.

Right: "Winter guard is a team effort. If one wins we all win, if one fails we all fail," says Freshmen Lindsey Barnes.
