

JV Softball

GOOD PLAYERS INSPIRE THEMSELVES; GREAT PLAYERS INSPIRE OTHERS.

CONCENTRATION

Here goes Sophomore Ashlynn Hammonds, #11, starting the game off with strong third base coverage. She stays focused and determined to do what's needed to get her opponent out. Down and ready for whatever comes her way, with two outs she's hoping to get the last player out of here.

Softball isn't just another sport to these girls; it's a way of bonding, releasing stress, and enjoying competition—all in one. What's the point of playing if you're not going to have fun, right? Welcoming a new coach to the team, these young ladies work hard for their wins and together they've taken the Colleton County High School JV Softball Team to new heights this season. They know that as long as they're motivated to learning and improving their game, all things are possible on the field. "Always keep your head in the game, not just your helmet."

LET'S GO, COUGARS!!!

What's a good softball game without teammates cheering each other on from the dugout? It's not! The girls encourage each other and every player, rooting for their peers' success.

GO, FIVE!

Freshmen Julie Bryan, doing what she loves best, plays her favorite position in center field. She likes the important role of this defense position where a strong arm and speed are key.

HEY! BATTER, BATTER!

Batter up! When Freshmen Jirah Pinckey, #20, is at the plate, she is more focused on making her hit than anything. She's going for the homer to put her team ahead.

(AND SHE'S OUT)

Freshmen Bailey Cox, #4 (right) comes in with a powerful pitch to stike out the third player for the inning so her team can get back at bat.
