

During Spirit and Red Ribbon Week, students "earn by doing."

Special Weeks

The C.P.A. halls seem to be decorated all the time, thanks to the Youth Advisory Board members and the cheerleaders. During the week of Homecoming, halls were adorned with blue and white graffiti. Posters informing the students about the weeks' events were hung. Two weeks later, C.P.A. adopted a new color — RED! Red posters, streamers, and ribbons filled the blue and white halls with a splash of color. The color "red" signified free from drugs. Several organizations worked on projects for Red Ribbon Week. These encouraged students to say "No to drugs and yes to life." The Student Council gave out red ribbons to wear, dressed the fences with red streamers, and tied red ribbons on every antennae in the students' parking lot. The Youth Advisory Board decked the halls with red streamers, tied red ribbons around doorknobs in each building and displayed red posters with mottos coordinated with each teacher's subject. Students were encouraged to dress in red showing school spirit and unity.

During Spirit Week these juniors Paige Headden, Holly Davenport, Cope Johnston, Mandy Jones, Dawn Burros, Harper Kinsey, Randee Ritter, Anne Clamp, and Craig White dressed in 1960's fashions to observe "Hippie Day." Flowers, peace signs, tie-dyed clothes, and bandanas were common sights. "Peace."
