"I couldn't wait to go to school so I could play basketball and golf again. I wanted to see all of my friends that I hadn't seen."

Ginger Speaks

Ginger Speaks, Garnett Johnston, and Lindsay Davenport report to the first day of school. They couldn't wait to be involved in activities.

Eighth

LARGE IN SIZE — BIG ON ENTHUSIASM

The eighth grade got a taste of what high school life would be like next year. They were finally awarded the privilege of having a locker in the high school building. They were also able to elect class officers to represent them on Student Council. This class became involved in many different types of athletic programs. They had several girls who participated in tennis, cheerleading, and softball. The boys took interest in football and baseball. Both boys and girls enjoyed playing basketball and golf. The class was able to take a trip to the State Museum during the fall. They were able to see the simple technique used to make a laser. They were also able to see many exhibits that they missed last year.

Gary Herndon, Tamara Stanfill, and Ashleigh Padgett listen carefully to the explanation of the problem. The class had the opportunity of taking Algebra I early. This taught the students that responsibility isn't easy.
