

THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES

Term paper time! File cabinets overflow and reference books are piled up. Term papers are a dreaded but valued experience for all Seniors.

Mrs. Linder has become known as the "Holder of the Diploma". Seniors must pass her rigorous english class to be awarded the coveted sheepskin.

Finding appropriate words for a person who has come to symbolize CPA is not easy. Truthfully, three Talon editors, the advisor, and even Peggy Smoak worked on the dedication copy. What Senior won't remember, "Whan that Aprille with his shoures sootë, The droughte of March hat perced to the rootë ..." Worth remembering also were the weekly vocabulary tests — spell "a lot", or the term papers that were always due the week after Spring Break. Mrs. Betty Linder has welded her skills here for the past 27 years, during which time she has seen 3 of her children and 1 grandchild graduate. Her grandson Will, will "just have to make do" without her guidance. Among faculty members, Mrs. Linder has been bestowed with the nickname, "Little Betty" for obvious reasons. With her wonderful sense of humor she has endured constant, fun-loving harassment from co-workers. The only "Little Betty" left to carry on will be Mrs. Goehring, whom we all feel sorry for because who will be on the receiving end of All the short jokes. With fond memories, we will bid one of our own a "happy, healthy, travel-filled retirement."
