

New Faces

Making The Change.

"A year ago I heard I was to move to the South for my last year of school. I thought I just wanted to go and get it over with. Now I wish it could last forever." — Nathan Hinz

On September 6, the cafeteria overflowed with new faces as the kindergarten parents and students were introduced to the teachers.

Walking through the halls of C.P.A., one will find many new faces: teachers and students from different places. On the first day of school, many felt lost. But as the year continued, they began to feel as if they were a part of the big family at C.P.A.
