

Amy, Life is one big party, but don't live it up so much that you can't live it down. Congratulations! Love, Mom, Dad, Kristy, & Pam

AG

"I can still recall, as our parents dropped us off on our first day of kindergarten, the tears we cried, afraid of a new beginning. It took only a few minutes for us to meet a new friend. How could we have known that the friends we made would be friends for life? Through it all, we have shared our failures and our successes, our tears and our triumphs. Through it all, we have remained together: faithful, devoted, and unwavering. We have had our conflicts, but through them we have grown closer, a closeness that we will carry with us in our hearts forever. Now, we shed tears again, more afraid of leaving the past than entering the future. We must now take the same path our parents have taken before us. We must become adults. We must shed our innocence. However, we cannot lose the bond that has grown between us all. We just keep the faith in each other and ourselves. Remember, you'll never know where you're going until you know where you're from. To my family at CPA, I know where I'm from, and I will never forget you."

Your's forever, Patrick Ritter.

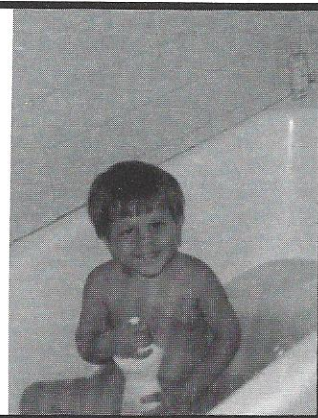

Joseph Perry Hunt, We love you!! Mom, Dad, & Garry

PH

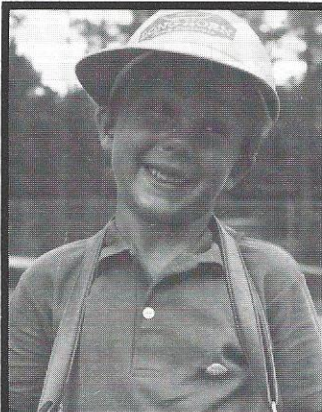

Jon, It is hard to believe that you are a senior. We are very proud of you. Always remember you can be anything if you believe. We love you very much and wish you the very best. Love You, Mama, Dad, & Rob

JB

Brandon, We will always be proud of you. Remember that no matter what size you are that you can accomplish anything that your goal might be. Love, Mom, Dad, & Scott

BH

Chad: Aim high; the sky is your limit. Luv Ya! CKR, SDR, SDS, JWS, & GAGE

CR

