

Davenport Doo. Having borrowed her mom's hair net, senior Lindsay Davenport searches for some shampoo and conditioner to help her recover from a bad hair day.

Blue Light Special. Shoppers Courtney Stevenson and Christina Aichele look for bargains to "improve" their tacky wardrobes.

remember
the time

Spirit Week Pajamas, Tacky-wear, & Togas

Spirit Week is always a fun time. The students love to show their enthusiasm for the Homecoming football game and dance. Each day of Spirit Week, the student body dresses in various styles: pajamas on Tuesday, "tacky" clothes on Wednesday, togas on Thursday, and finally, blue and white outfits were saved for Friday (face and leg paint included).

To culminate the activity week, each class competes to see who has the most spirit: the middle and high school students build spirit chains of blue and white paper, then perform skits at the pep rally.

As usual, most of the students have an enjoyable time, whether or not their class wins. After all, the whole point is for students to show their spirit.