The Talon

in memory of
Will Haynes

*"Smart lad, to slip betimes away
From fields where glory does not stay
And early though the laurel grows
It withers quicker than the rose.
Eyes the shady night has shut
Cannot see the record cut,
And silence sounds no worse than cheers
After earth has stopped the ears:
Now you will not swell the rout
Of lads that wore their honors out,
Runners whom renown outran
And the name died before the man.
So set, before its echoes fade,
The fleet foot on the sill of shade.
And hold to the low lintel up
The still-defended challenge cup.
And round that early-laureled head
Will flock to gaze the strengthless dead,
And find unwithered on its curls
The garland briefer than a girl's."*

The End of the millenium leaves students thinking

So Little Time, So Much To Do!

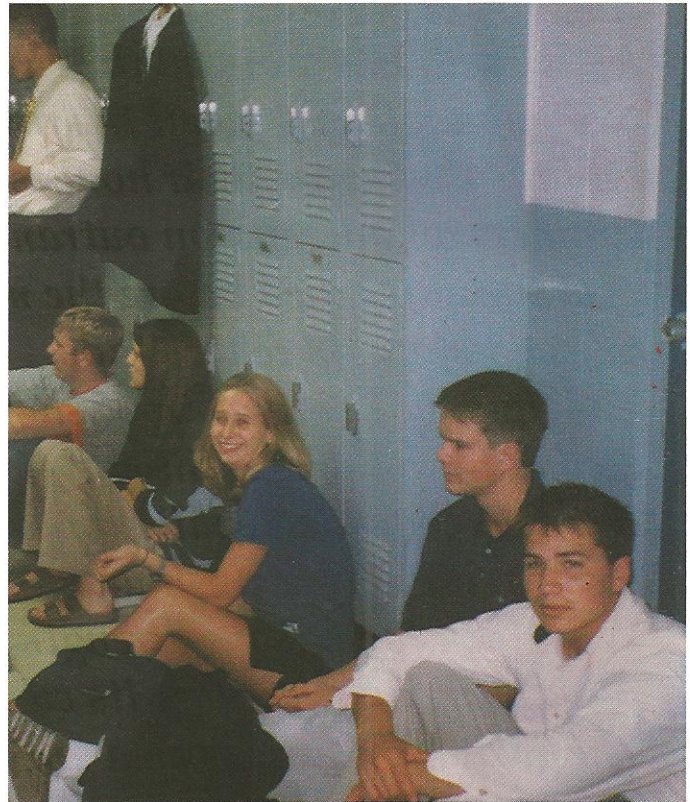

We all desire to see it happen within our lifetime. Few of us are fortunate to experience it twice. Experiencing the end of the Millennium and watching as a new one dawns allows us to remember the events of the years gone past, embark on new journeys of the present, and to contemplate our future. The Senior class of 1999 looked back on memorable times and hard work as they prepared to become the first college class of the new Millennium. The remaining students looked forward with anticipation to experiences that would prepare them for the year 2000 and beyond.

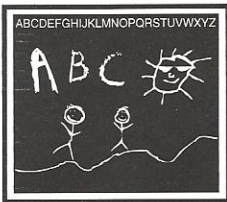

The entire CPA student body shows that hanging out in the hall waiting for tornado warnings to stop can be fun.

Tindall Pryor, Brook Baggerly, and Kallie Drawdyn show that time together really is time spent well.

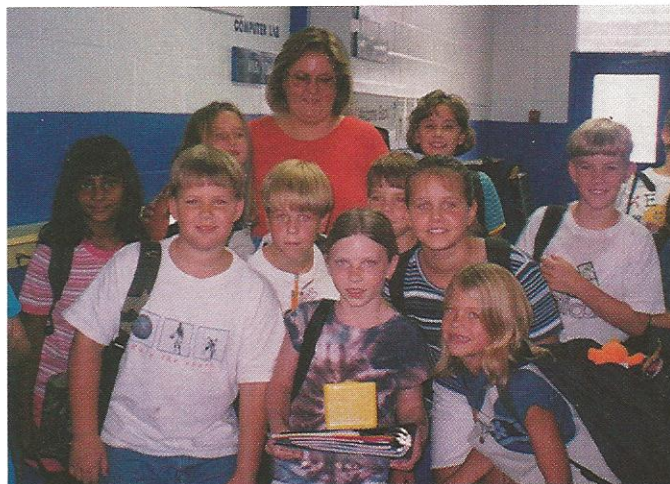

Senior Chris Zipperer and Junior Brian Grievara anxiously wait with the rest of their classmates for the next class to begin.

For educating our children through the Millenium

We Say Thank You

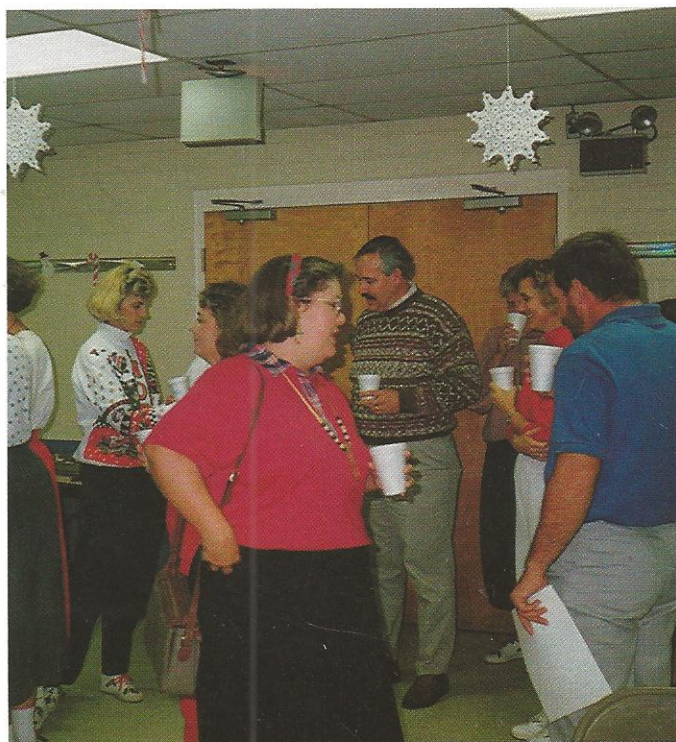

In a time of rapid change, improving technology and fierce competition, it is imperative that the next generation be educated well to survive the next Millenium. Teachers play an obvious but special role in that educational process. This year, the Talon staff, would like to recognize Beth Bolt as an integral part of the quest for outstanding educational leadership. For educating our children into the next Millenium, we say thank-you and proudly dedicate to her the 1998-99 Talon.

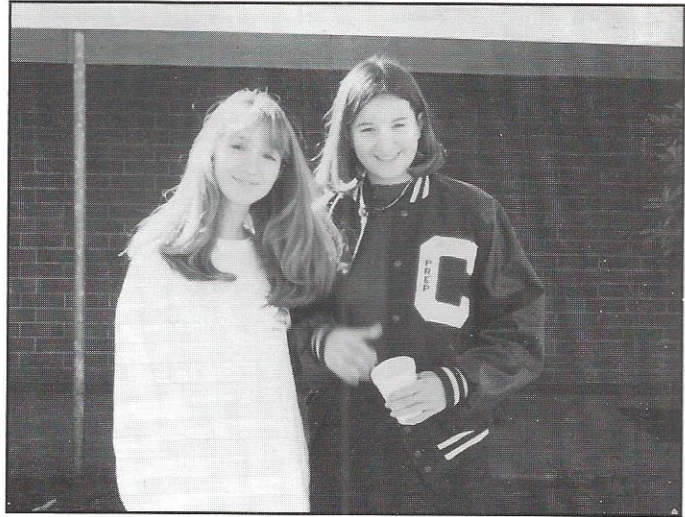

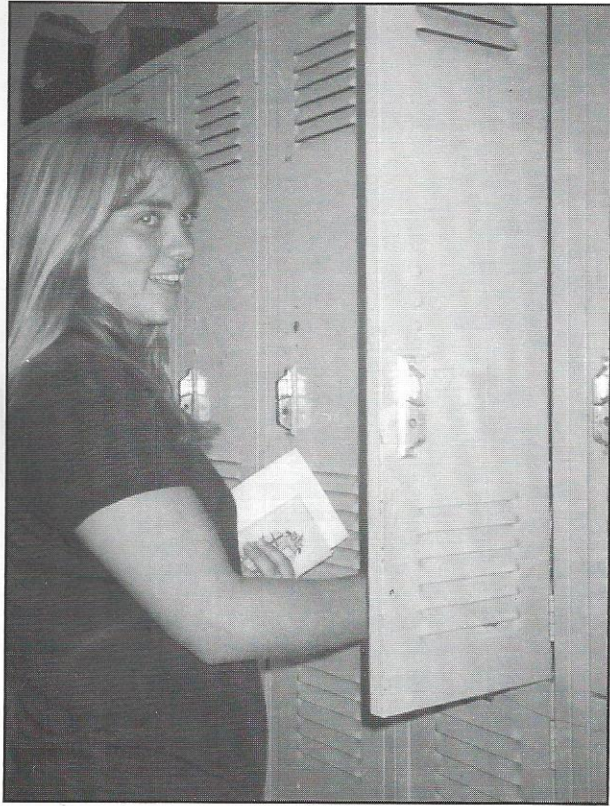

The Fourth grade is proud to be Mrs. Bolt's students. Mrs. Bolt has taught 4th grade since 1997.

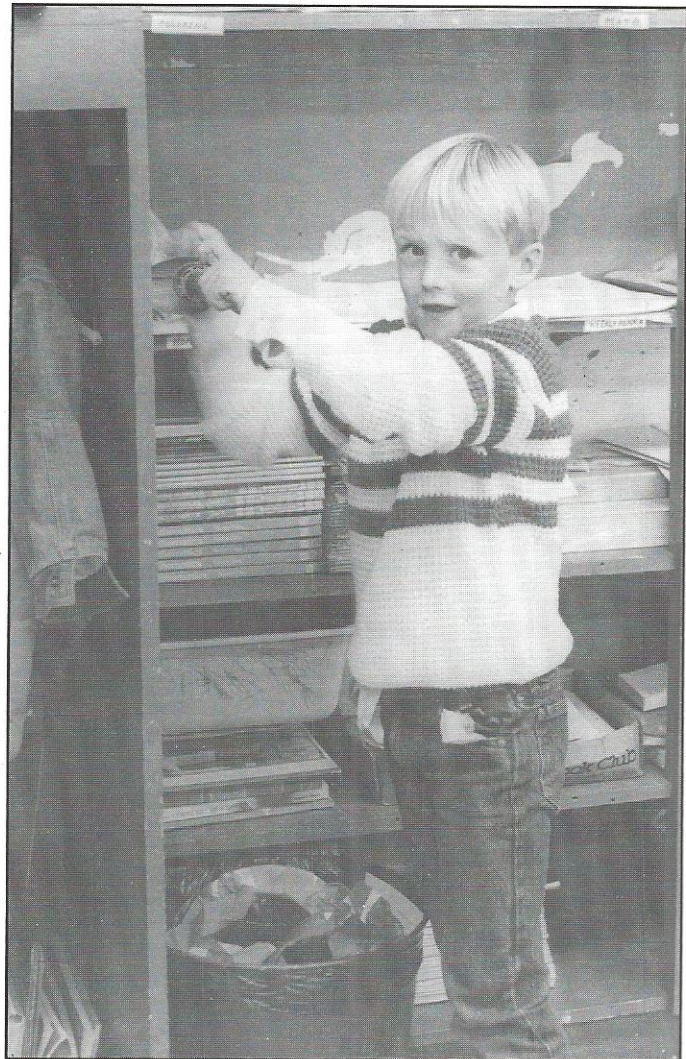

Mrs. Bolt and Kim Hulseley take a break on the swing. As a lower school teacher Mrs. Bolt has spent a lot of time at recess.

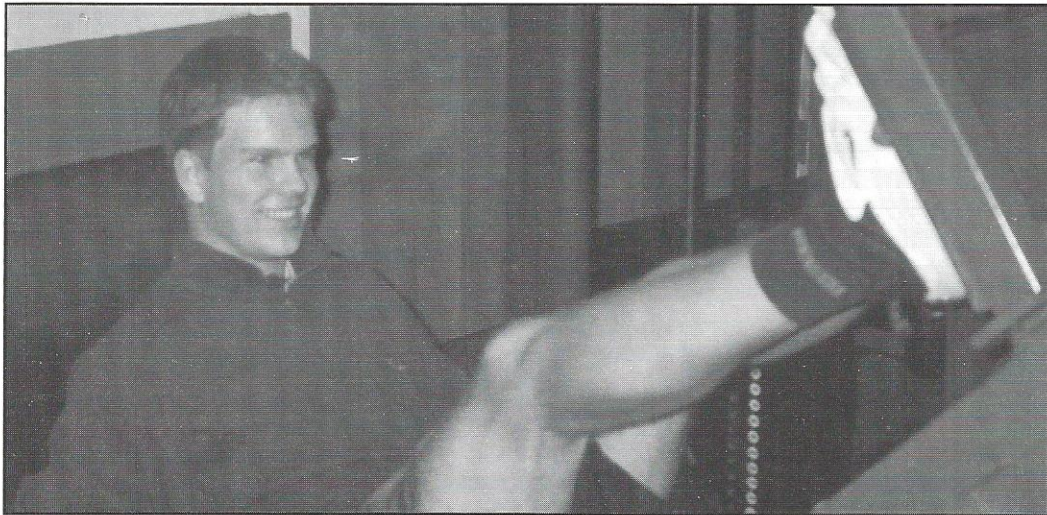

As a CPA faculty member, Mrs. Bolt has attended many faculty Christmas parties.

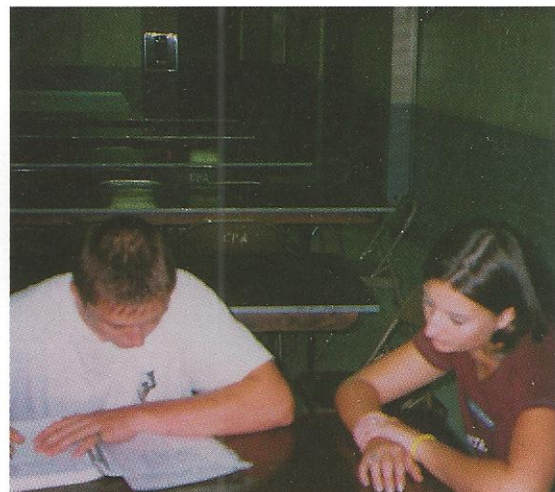

The Best Class of the MILLENNIUM

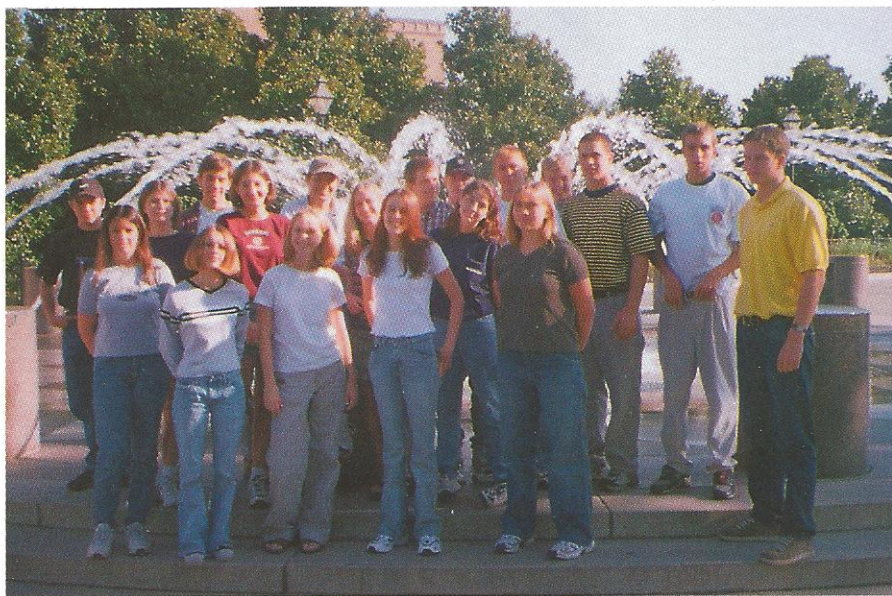

STENIORS

Ending The Millennium

The Class of 1999 is the last class of the second millennium. Like the first class of the millennium, this class is one of a kind. It is fitting that the most unique class of this millennium should also be its last. Over the years they have achieved greatness and been handed defeat as individuals; but as a group they have created a bond that withstood the tests of time. Now they look forward to ending the millennium together.

One Last Trip

On September 24th, the small class of 19 Seniors took what would probably be their last field trip together. But this was no ordinary field trip. There were no trips to the same old museum, no lectures given, and no agonizingly long ride on the WarHawk Activity Bus, This was Senior Picture Day. First stop was Waterfront Park where the Seniors stood around, and looked cool for the camera. From there they headed to Q-Zar. There they did laser-battle with one another and generally had a good time (and got pretty sweaty). After eating they all headed back with a few more memories to keep forever.

Amy and Mary-Margaret take a little time to enjoy the peace during their trip. (And do a little personal grooming)

After the long ride to Charleston, the park was a refreshing relief for Brent, Riley, and Corey. Meanwhile, Oystein contemplates this strange American custom.

Amy and Mills spend a little time in the Q-Zar Arcade discussing the more technical aspects of basketball. Amy might actually go to one of the games this year.

The Senior guys pose for one more picture at the park. Tommy and David are caught off guard and forget to suck in their bellies. Duncan and Corey bicker over who's taking up more space. Mills and Oystein share a knowing look: "Only four more hours till we can hit the basketball court."

The Good

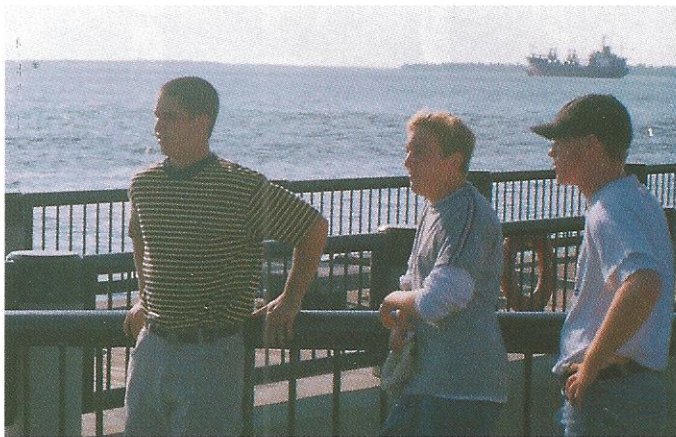

The Bad

And The Ugly??

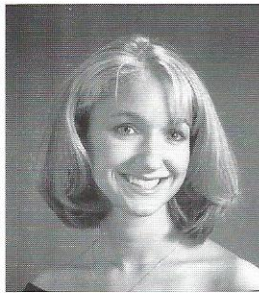

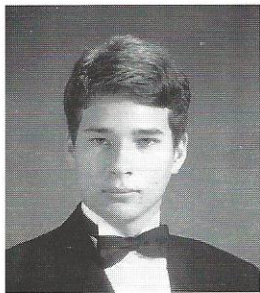

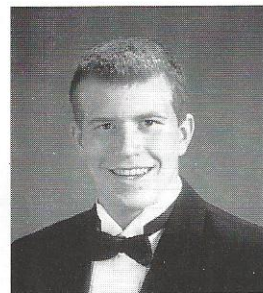

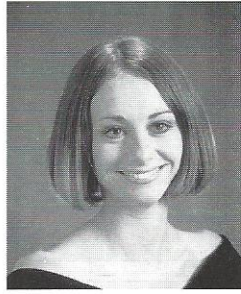

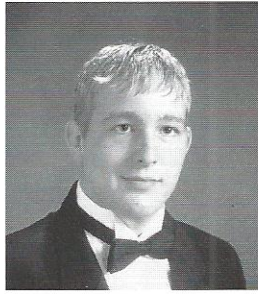

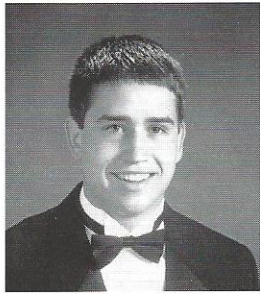

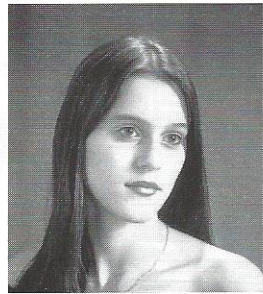

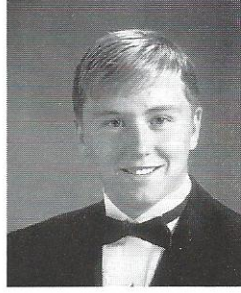

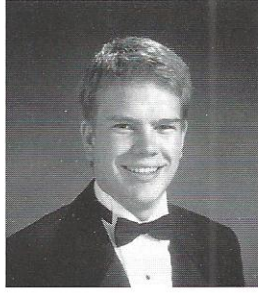

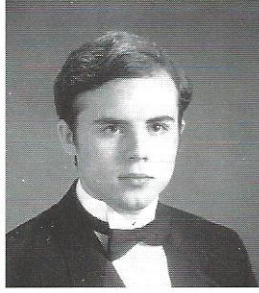

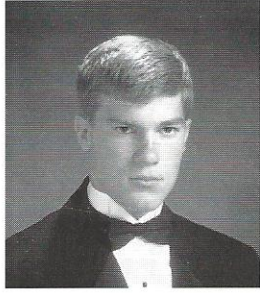

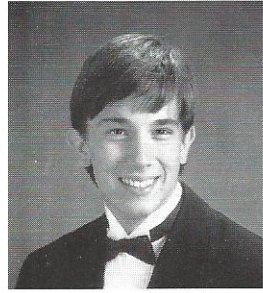

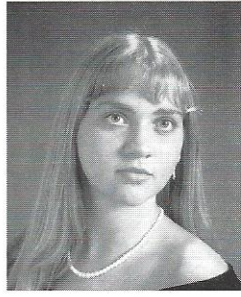

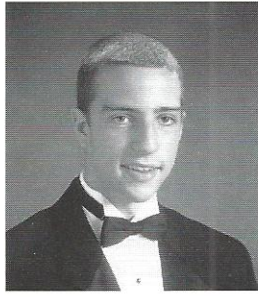

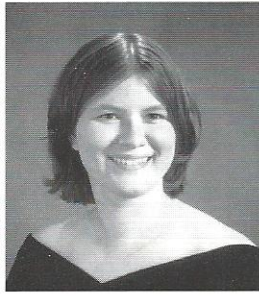

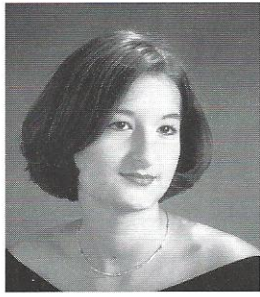

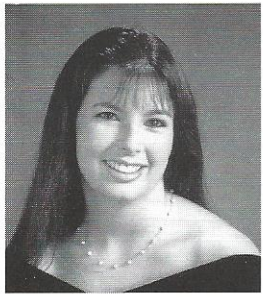

Riley takes a little time to do his best David Hasselhoff impression.

While Riley practices water safety on the pier, David, Corey, and Duncan take a moment to contemplate how hungry they are.

The Seniors put on their game faces before heading off to the Q-Zar Battle Arena.

ALMOST THERE

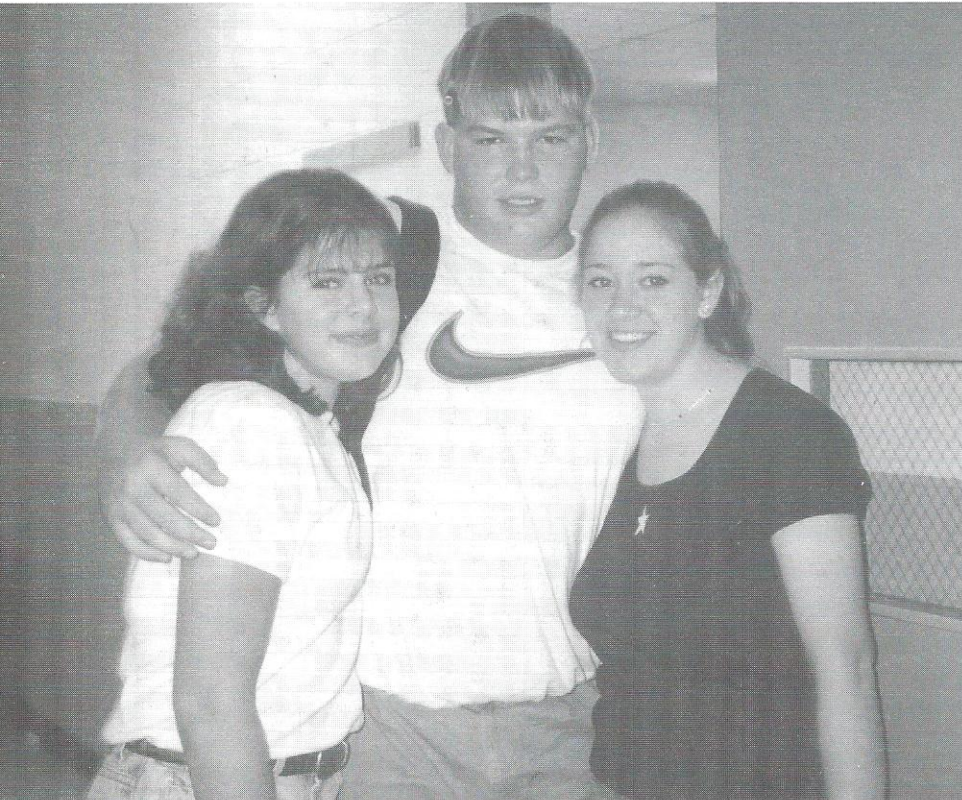

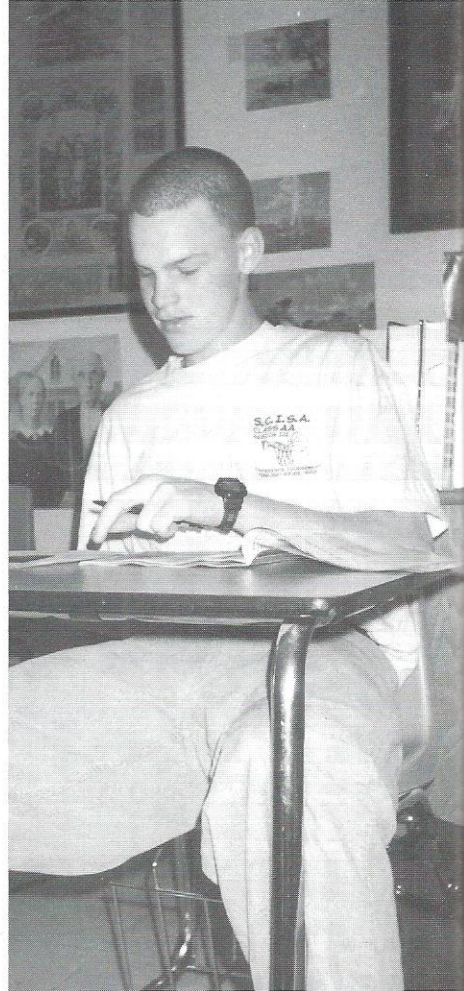

I like Colleton Prep. because I think everyone is nice and I have met a lot of new firends.

Cindi Bishop

The Junior Class worked very diligently planning this years prom. During October, their busiest month, the Juniors were busy hosting the bon fire and Halloween Carnival which were both very succesful. They gave a lot of time and put in a lot of hard work, all for the enjoyment of the younger kids. Mr. Robertson, the Junior Representative certainly enjoyed his time with these young adults.

Deana Carter

This year brought many challenges for the tenth grade. They took many difficult subjects, such as geometry, biology, and typing. They also showed genuine interest in lab. While being involved in sports they still managed to keep up their grades. The Sophmores had a great year even though they had many new challenges throughout the year.

The Freshmen have made a successful transition from middle to high school. Their year has been

The Eighth grade kept their heads high in anticipation for high school. They experienced lots of changes such as having lockers and being on Student Council. They learned a lot about SC History. Some of the students participated in the Junior Math Meet. Most Eighth graders worked hard on this years homecoming dance. It seems like they will be a good class in high school because they put all their effort into everything they can.

CAUGHT IN THE MIDDLE

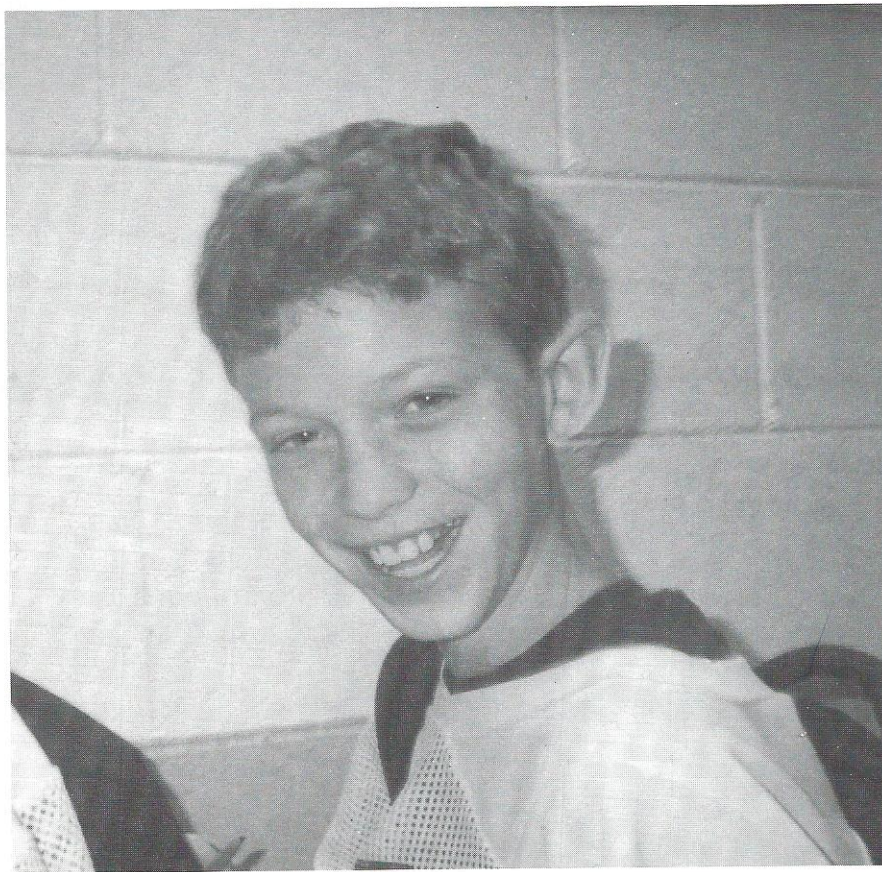

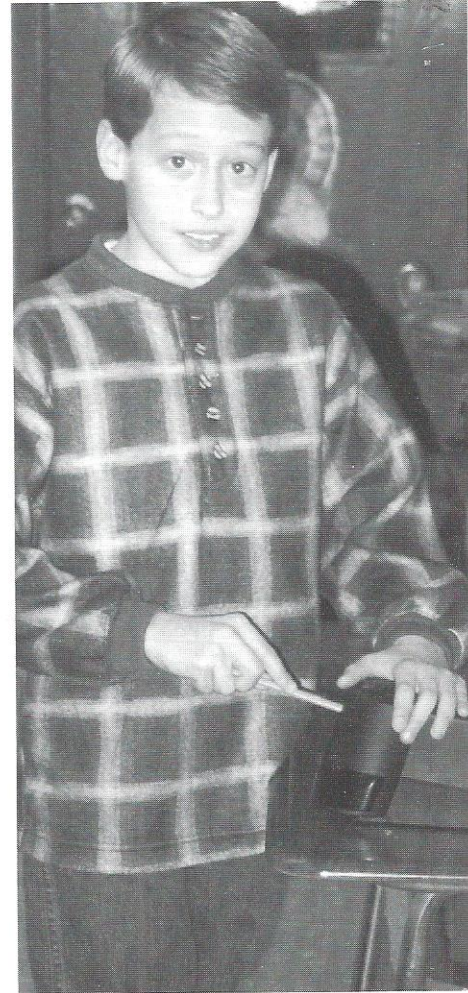

Math and P.E. are my favorite subjects.

Tyler Odum

This year, 24 students advanced to the 7th grade, only to find themselves stuck in the middle of their school careers. However they adapted well. They not only found time for their schoolwork, but participated in sports and clubs like football and the Jr. Math Team. The 7th grade had a great time showing off their school spirit during Homecoming Week.

As the newest additions to the Middle School, the 6th graders were uncertain

Along with the obstacles came many privileges which were warmly embraced such as changing classes, eating outside, and playing sports.

ON THEIR WAY

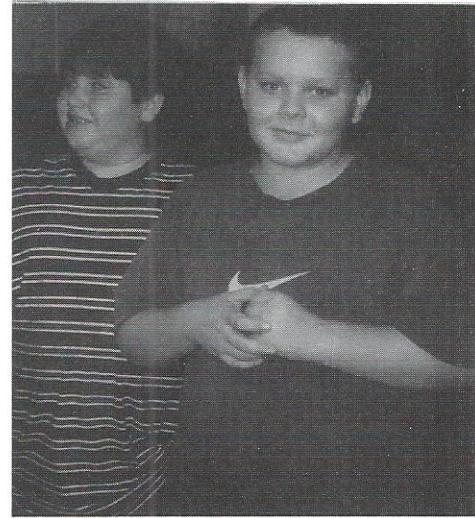

Science is my favorite subject because I like experiments.

Travis Crosby

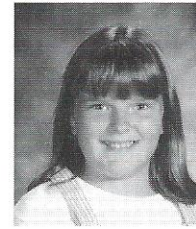

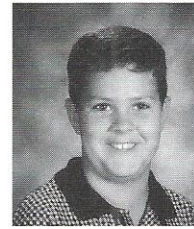

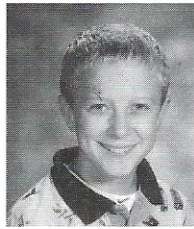

These fifth graders enjoyed their last year in elementary school. They worked hard all year preparing themselves for the middle school. Mrs. Tuten and Mrs. Hogan rewarded their class for their hard work by taking them to Fort Sumter and to the Floralife Plant in Walterboro, where they learned about chemical reactions. Now that they have enjoyed elementary school it is time for them to get ready for middle school.

These third graders showed great interest in learning. They spent a lot of time in math and like adding, multiplying, doing fractions, and graphing. They also got to start learning about their culture and history in SC History. To show off their hard work the thrid grade got to visit the Pumpkin Patch and the watch the plays "Charlotte's Web" and "Gift of the Cricket". They are looking forward to only two years left before they leave the elementry shoool.

Reading is my favorite subject.

Hardee Baldwin

These first graders faced a challenging year after they left kindergarten. Mrs.

Armentrout and Mrs. Thomas kept these first graders busy all year by teaching them how learning is a great experience. Though they are still in the very beginning of what will be a long educational career, these kids are learning a lot and having fun doing it.

READY, SET, GO

Recess is my favorite part of the day.

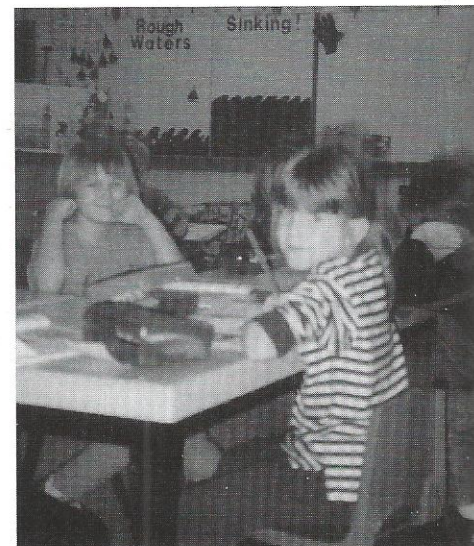

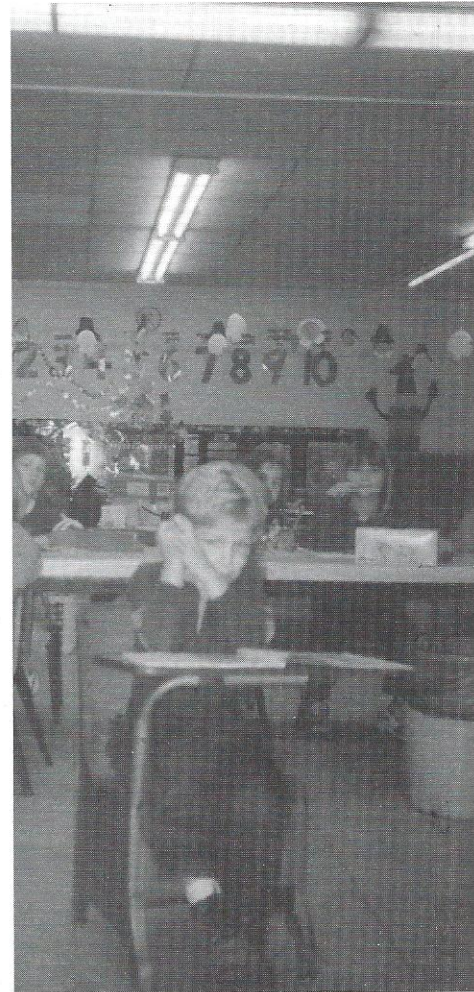

Nicole Bennett

The kindergarten class is moving right along on their road to success. They have had a lot of mixed emotions as they have had to leave home each morning for the first time. They have learned many new things such as the alphabet, numbers, and how to write their names. They have taken a lot of field trips this year. The entire class had a great time keeping all three of their teachers, Mrs. Howell, Mrs. Aichele, and Mrs. Smoak, very busy all year.

LEADING THE PACK

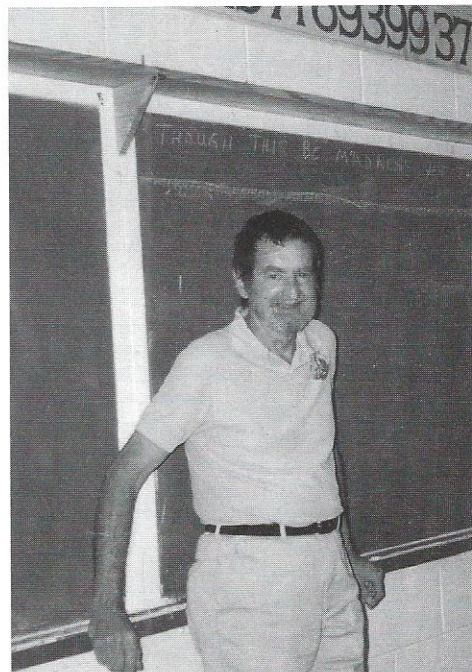

The best part about my job is that not only do I get to teach the Seniors, I am also their class sponsor.

Susan Upchurch

Teachers and faculty members have very demanding jobs everyday. Grading papers, preparing class lectures, making sure that shirts are tucked in, and keeping the attention of more than 350 students are just a few of the responsibilities of the teachers. The faculty had their own jobs such as keeping up with tardies, absentees, and detentions, preparing lunch and keeping the girls' restroom clean. They also had time for more fun while having many interesting conversations with one another during lunch in the Faculty Lounge.

ACTIVITIES

Busted! Zann Hawkins and Graham Buckner look guilty of mischief during this meeting.

Tastin' Good! These Student Council members enjoy their lunch before this meeting's discussion.

Leaders of Our Future

"I think my experience from Student Council will help me in college because it has taught me to take on leadership and responsibility."

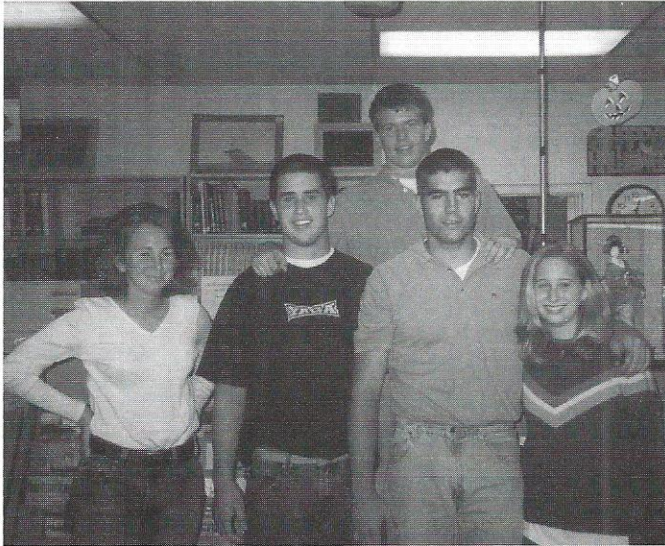

-Chris Zipperer
12th Grade

"If I joined an organization in college I will use the experience I gained in Student Council to help complete the tasks that I'm given."

-Emily White
11th Grade

This year, Student Council has become more involved with school activities. They were committed to Spirit Week, not only to raise money for themselves but also to help a needy family. They participated in the 1998-99 Homecoming/Senior Parent Night activities. The Student Council held a pre-game festivity honoring all Senior athletes and their parents. In the spring, they hosted Secret Pal Week which helps unite the upper, middle, and lower schools.

Smile Everyone! Student Council would not be the same without these officers.

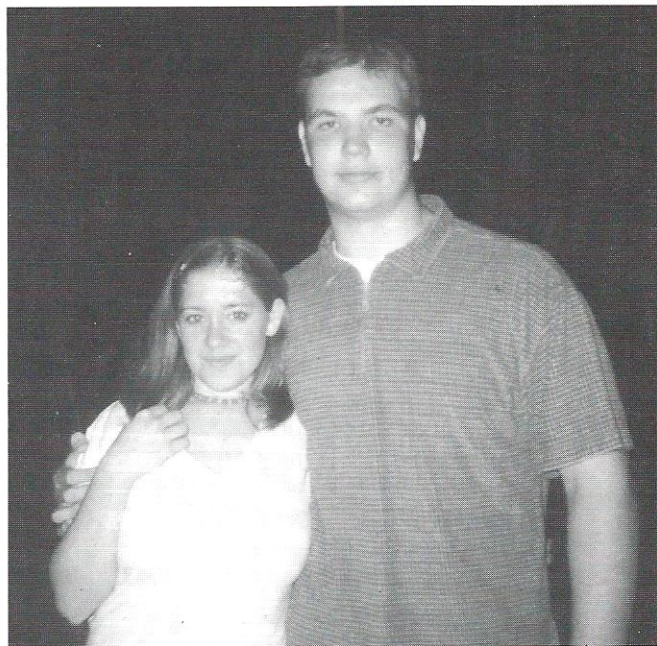

Strike A Pose! Mrs. Daniels, the Student Council Sponsor, takes a break to pose for the cameras.

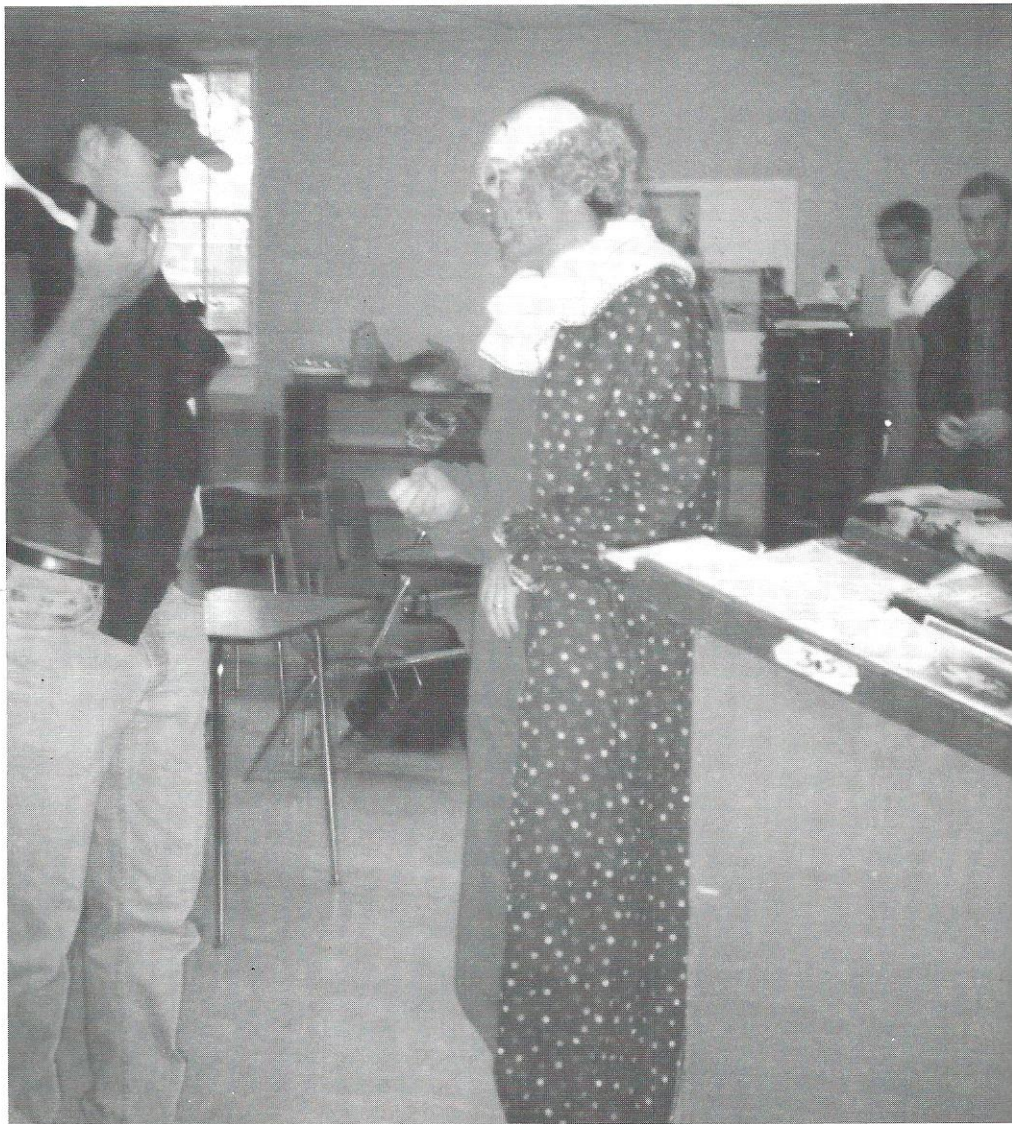

Grocery man! Jeremy Langdale uses his trusty cart to collect food for a Junior class fund raiser.

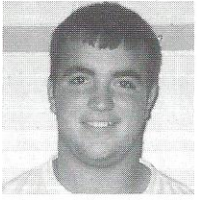

Sharing Smiles! Caroline Henderson and Jeff Gresham stop for a moment to show that friends mean a lot to the Junior Class.

No Clowning Around! Mr. Robertson, the Jr. Class Sponsor tries to be serious with Jared Fralix, but has difficulty due to the goofy outfit.

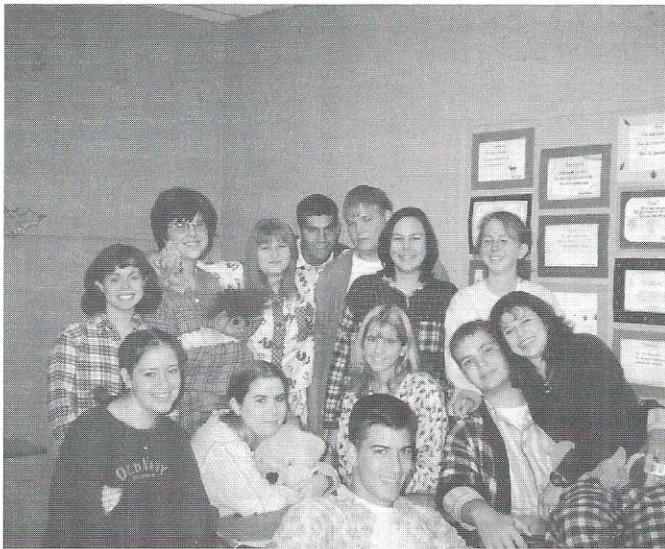

Working Towards The Future

"I think the best part was working my classmates and friends to raise money for Prom." -Josh Joyner 11th Grade

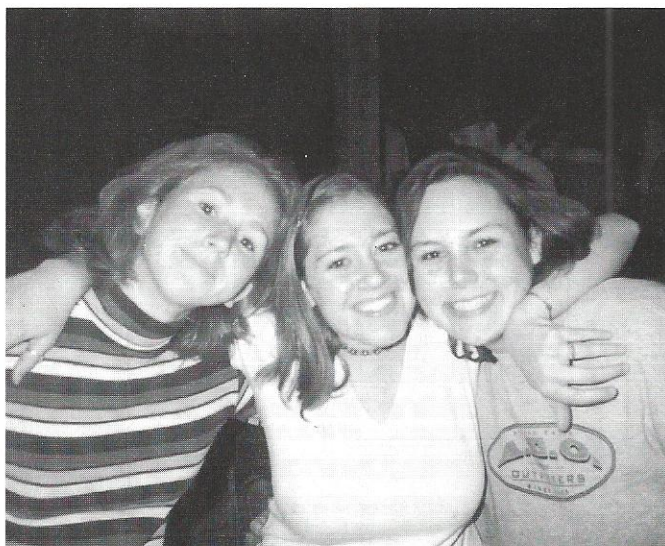

This year's Junior class has 22 members who busily worked to raise money for Prom. They hosted the Homecoming Bon Fire, Halloween Carnival, held raffles, and many other fund raising events. All were very successful due to the Juniors hard work. Even though their year was very busy, they still found time to participate in sports and other clubs. The Juniors had fun this year raising money and hanging out together over Jr/Sr weekend and Spring Break. They pulled together and had a memorable Prom.

Friends Forever! Part of the Junior class show their friendship and school spirit on Pajama Day.

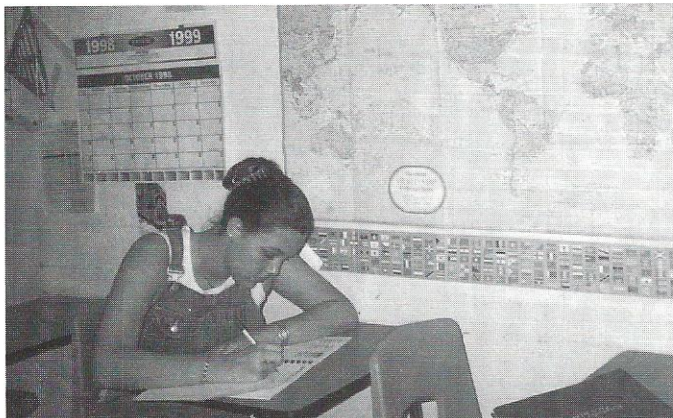

"I learned how to be more responsible and how to work together with others." - Ashley Stewart 11th Grade

Sticking Together! Emily White, Caroline Henderson, and Michelle Hoats show that friends are important during busy times.

Work Hard! Michelle Hoats searches for names to finish a class layout.

Patience! Jess Clamp works dilligently to meet an upcoming deadline.

Meeting Future Deadlines

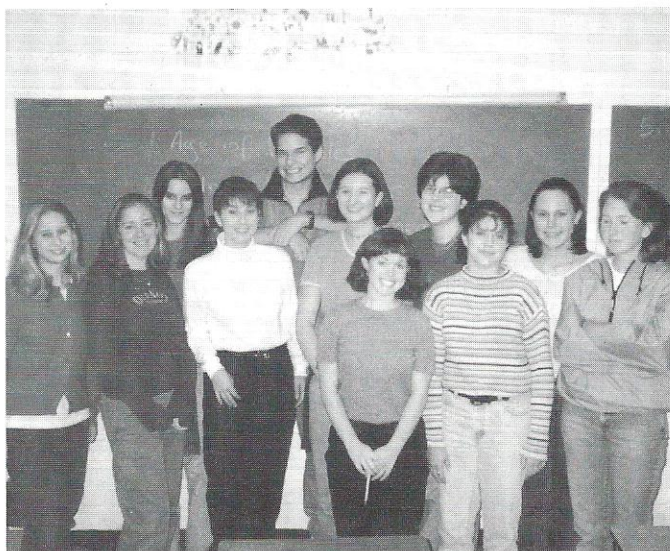

Everyone thinks that a Journalism class is easy. But if you ask the 98-99 yearbook staff they'd only tell you that it's not a piece of cake. They work hard all year by meeting deadlines and working together to make the yearbook special. Mrs. Shelton kept all of them on their toes by working them to the best of their ability. But don't think that they didn't have fun because the class was not all work. They shared many fun, exciting memories together too. In spite of their differences on what picture to use or how to draw a layout, they pulled together and created the 1998-99 Talon.

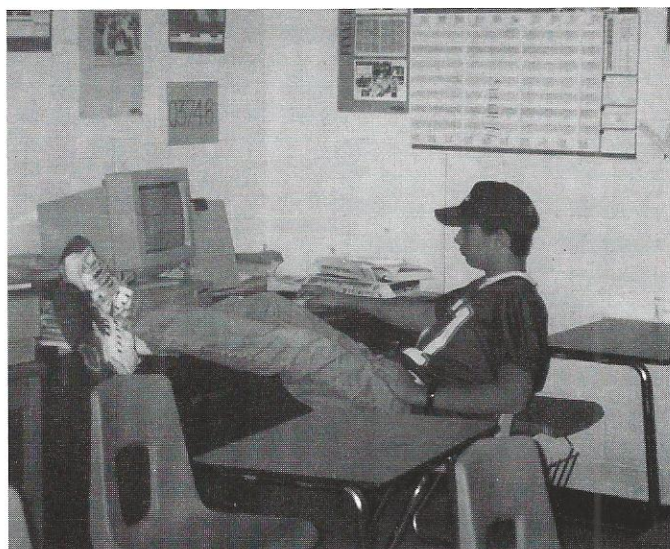

"I enjoyed selecting pictures and writing captions." - Caroline Henderson 11th Grade

"I enjoyed working on the yearbook because I got to have a lot of fun with my friends." Jess Clamp 12th Grade

Sweet Rewards! The 1998-99 Talon Staff takes time from a busy schedule to take a group photo.

Easy Business! Brent Snead makes changes to a layout before printing a final copy.

Academics Pay Off In The Future

"Being inducted into the NHS was a big accomplishment for me." -Fay Helmly 9th Grade

The National Honor Society is a club which honors the students who showed their hard work through good grades. . These students worked hard all year to keep their grades up or beyond the NHS standards. NHS is a way for students to show their academic excellence not only to colleges but also to feel good about an accomplishment not involving an athletic title

"Being in the NHS will be helpful to me in the future because it has helped me strive for better goals." -Smith Richardson 10th Grade

Patiently Waiting! Some of last year's members wait to help induct the new members.

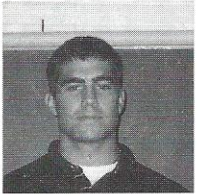

Proud Smiles! These students are the newest members of the National Honor Society.

Intelligence Can Stop Future Mistakes

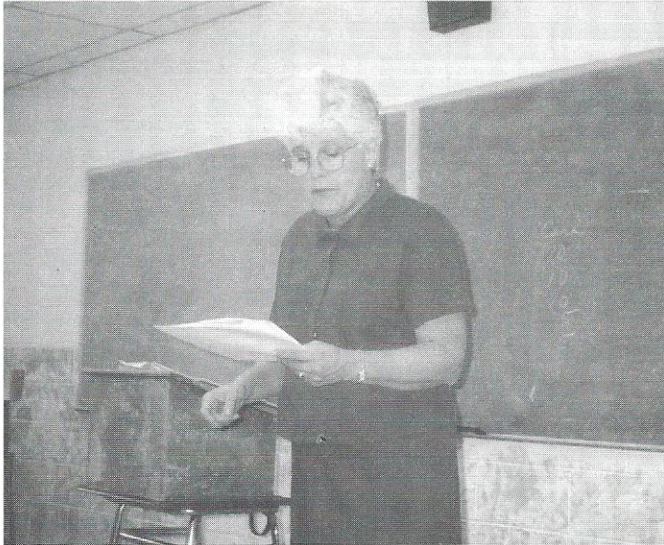

"The best part about being on Quiz Bowl is that it gives you a chance to work with the brightest students in the school." -
Cara Pickney
12th Grade

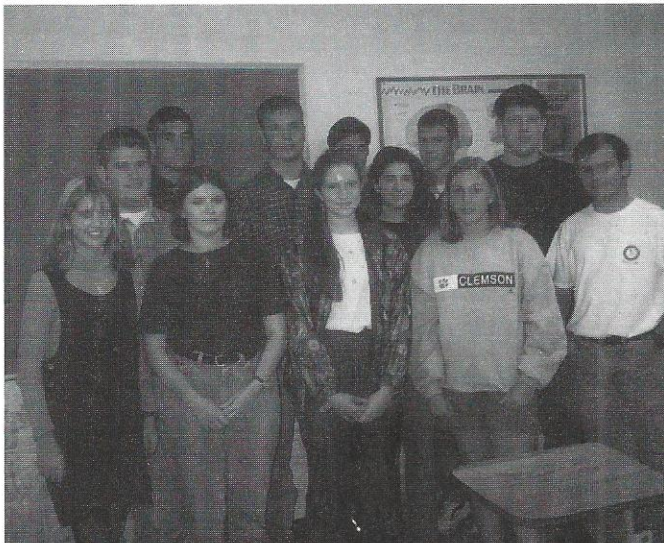

"What I like about being on the quiz bowl team is that it is like an extra class because you get to learn more." -
Jeremy
Langdale
11th Grade

Students take time to share their knowledge with others on the 1998-99 Academic Quiz Bowl team. Their meetings are held during lunch on days that the sponsor Mrs. Werntz, is able to attend. They discuss a variety of topics such as history, literature, math, science, music, and sports. This year, they worked hard to prepare for the meet. Quiz Bowl was also an opportunity for younger members to gain experience, since the team will lose 5 seniors next year.

Listen Closely! Mrs. Werntz tries to find a question to help prepare them for the meet.

Inquiring Minds! The 1998-99 Quiz Bowl Team stops for a picture after a meeting.

Learning Math For A New Millenium

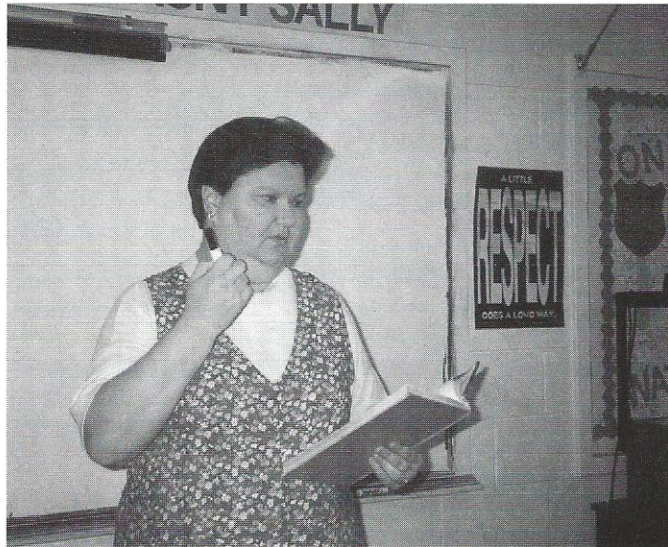

The 1998-99 Jr. Math Team has been very determined this year. They worked hard all year to prepare for the meet. They practiced during lunch with their sponsor, Mrs. Fischer. The Jr. Math Team had to work together to help each other understand problems and the students had to be very determined to keep their grades up and study hard every day.

"The best part of being on the Jr. Math Team is being out of school with my friends." - Amanda Morgan 7th Grade

"Although it was a great honor to be part of the Jr. Math Team it was not easy and you must be determined to learn." - Daniel Lewis 8th Grade

Listen Class! Mrs Fischer makes the most of students' time teaching them all the math skills they will need to do well at the meet

Think Math! The Jr. Math Team stops for a picture before leaving for the math meet.

Future Cheerleaders

"I want to be a real cheerleader because it is fun and something I enjoy doing."

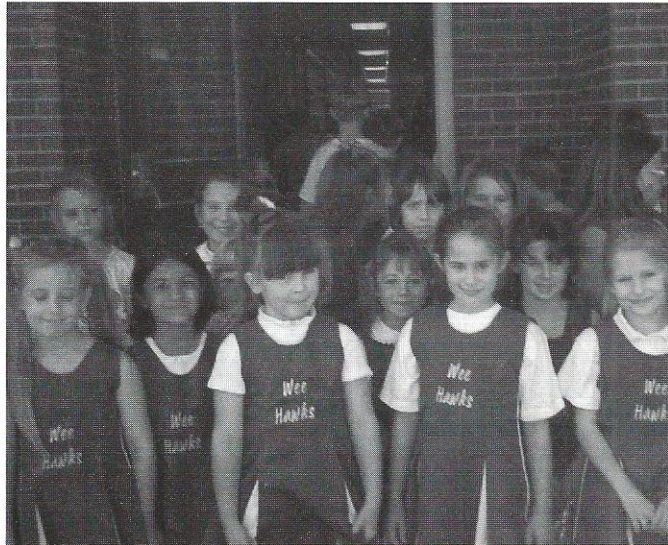

-Chancey
Watkins 4th
Grade

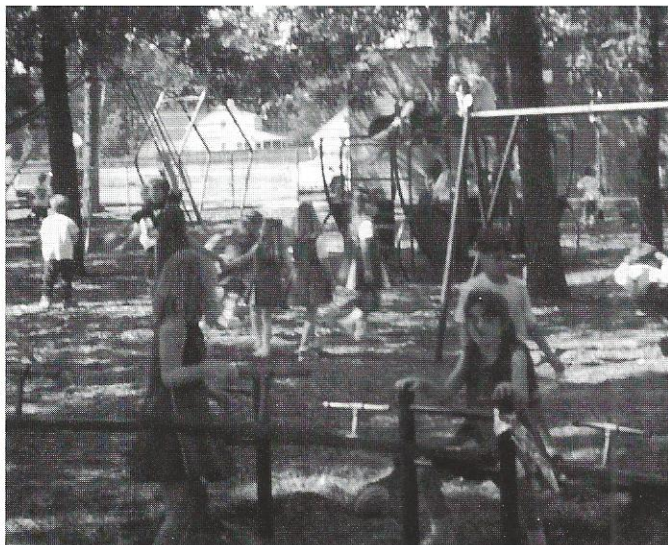

"I like being a Weehawk because it is fun and it's exciting to do at half-time."

Meredith
Drawdy 4th
Grade

The 1998-99 Weehawks were a major asset to our athletic department. Kindergarten through fifth grades were involved in the program. The girls worked hard at their practices after school so that they could provide half-time entertainment for football and basketball games. Being a Weehawk inspires some to become cheerleaders when they are older and it helps them to be better at it.

Show your spirit! Some of the Weehawks stop to show that they are supporting the Hawks too.

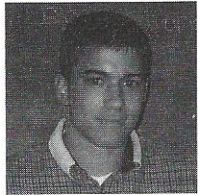

Playing Around!
These Weehawks show that recess can be fun while wearing a cheerleading skirt.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes

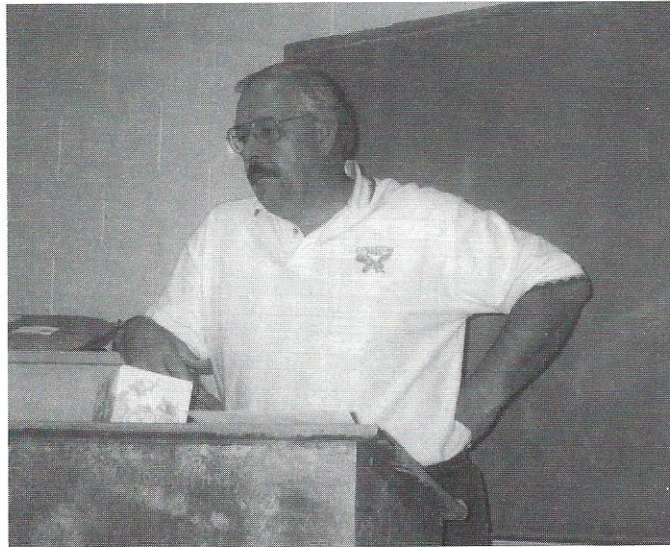

"My desire to be a better person led me to join FCA" Mary Stone 11th grade

"FCA helps challenges me to spread God's word to people our own age when it might not be the most popular thing to talk about" Jared Fralix 11th grade

Students at CPA were given the opportunity to be part of a new organization, Fellowship of Christian Athletes or FCA is an organization that stresses to students that being a good Christian is not considered "uncool". Colleton Prep's FCA was headed by Coach Moorehead who helped these students to recognize that following a sound Christian way of life could bring many benefits.

Pay Attention! Coach Moorehead prepares to lead the group in prayer before a meeting

Coming together! Members of the FCA join together to spread the message.

Creations of the Future

"I like music because of the instruments and I like art because I like to be creative" Elizabeth Smoak 5th grade

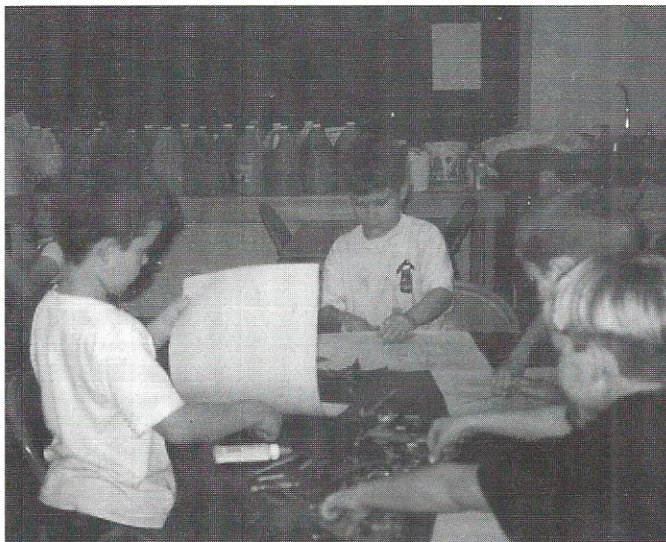

"I like music because you play instruments and I like art because I like to draw." Hunter Bartlett 5th grade

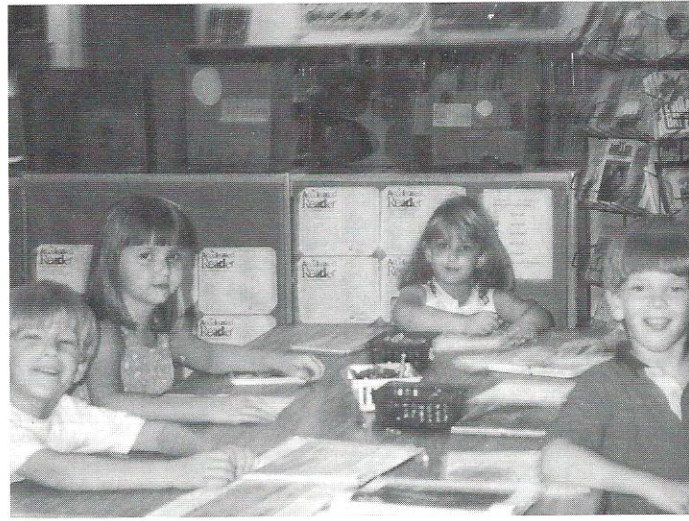

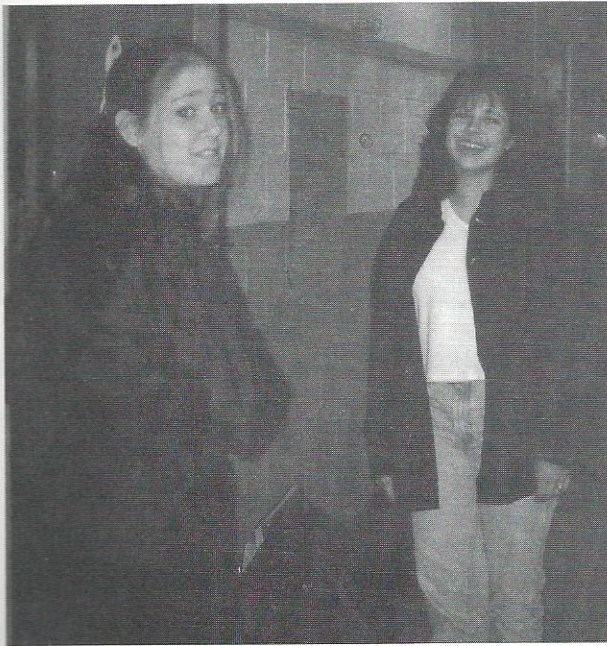

This year, students at CPA were able to enjoy two new courses: Music and Art. Mrs June Craig joined the CPA faculty as the new music teacher and taught the children the basics of musical instruments. The students put on a Christmas show to show everyone how much they had learned. Mrs. Suzanne Bowman taught art class to the lower school students who had a lot of fun being creative and getting to display their work.

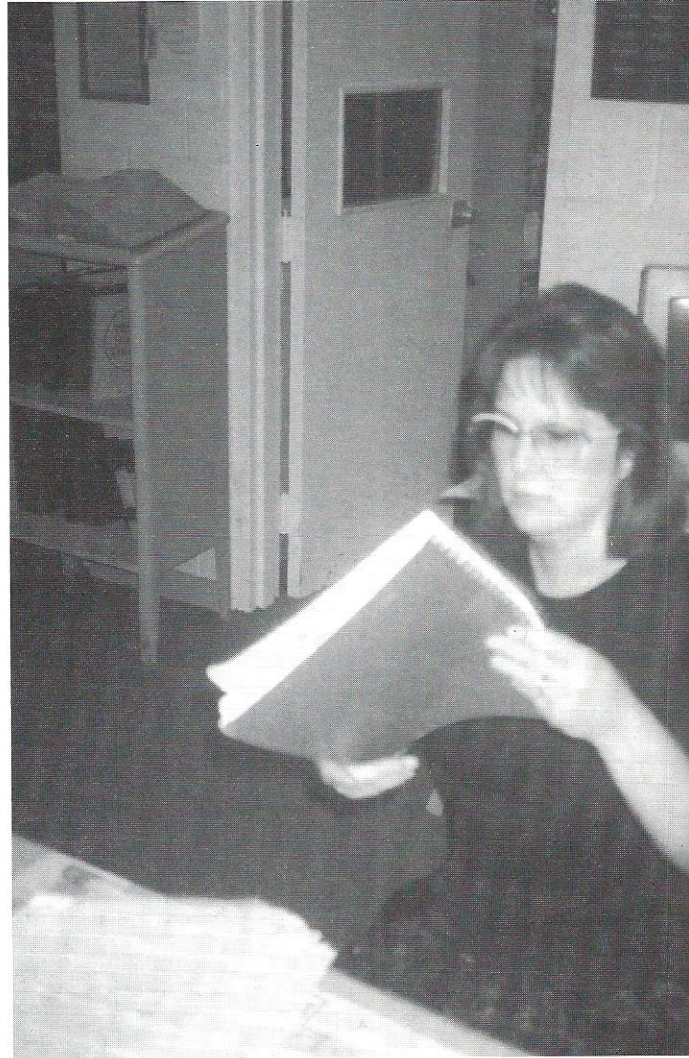

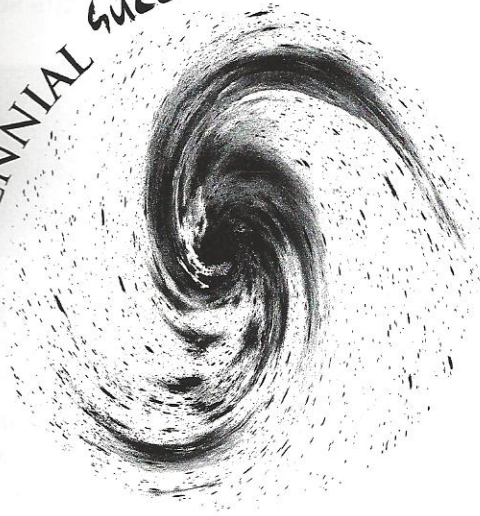

Wonderful sounds! Mrs Craig allows the students to explore and hear how different instruments sound.

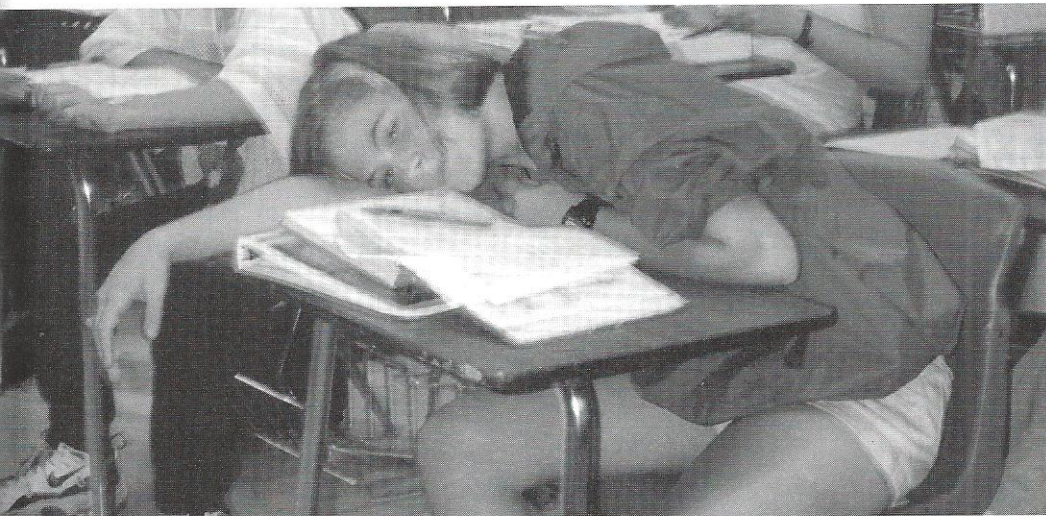

Creative works! These students show that being creative can be fun

ACADEMICS

Shhh!

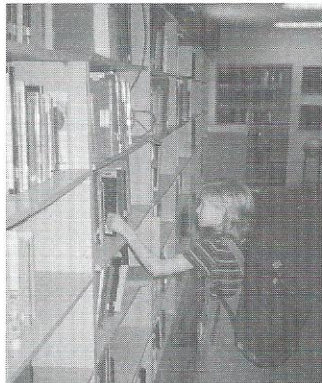

Students show how important the library really is.

This year Mrs. Anne Daniels, a veteran of Colleton Prep, returns once again to make more improvements to the school's library. She tried all year with a new program to collect more funding for the library due to the extensive use by students. The lower school had library classes on a weekly basis while students from sixth to twelfth grades used it for various reasons such as test taking, make-up work, research, and using the internet.

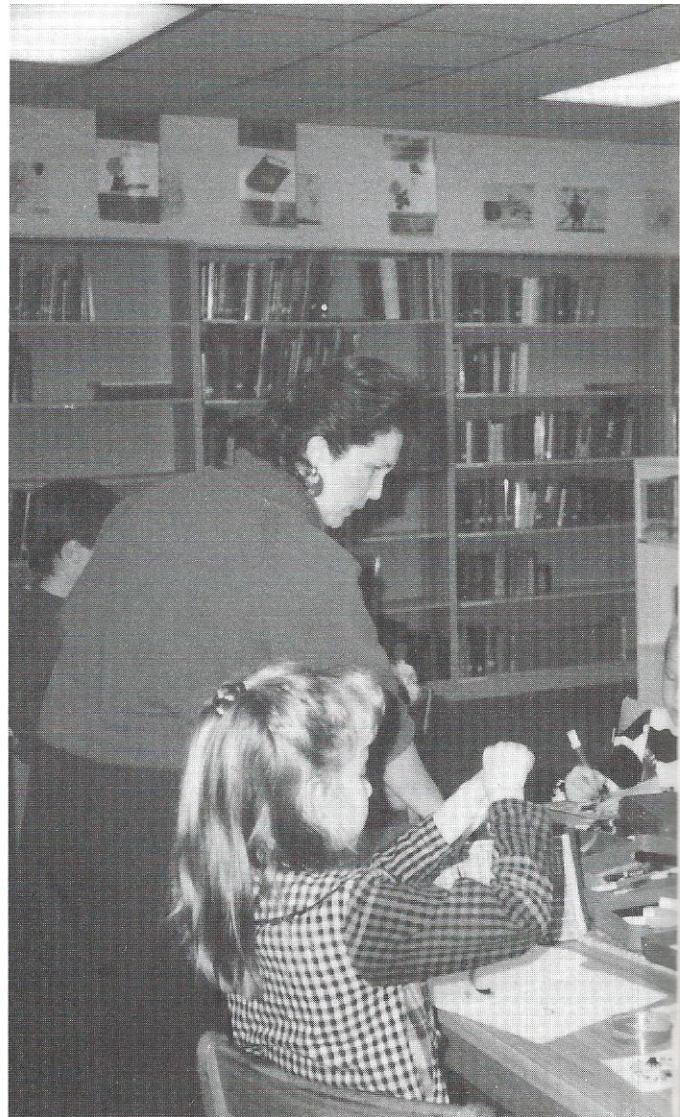

Mrs. Daniels is busily looking up something on the internet.

These students participate in one of Mrs. Daniels' library activities.

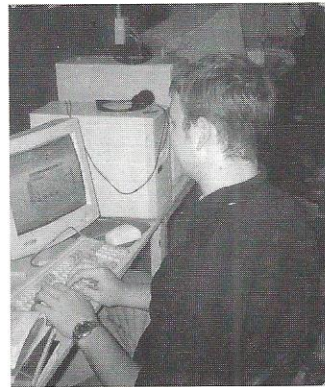

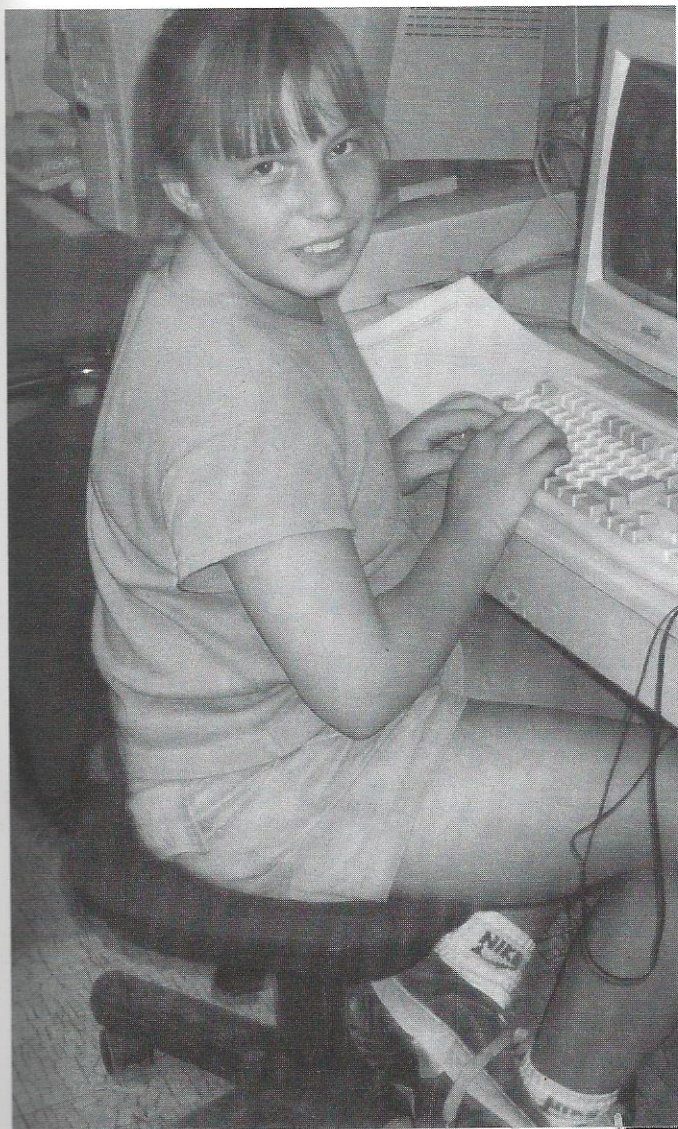

Lee Odum searches for her favorite book.

Students show that computer class is no joke.

Type Away!

This year's computer lab has expanded greatly since last year. Mrs. Terri Ann Bennett returned again this year to teach the Computer Science and keyboarding courses to the middle and upper school students. Also, Mrs. Bennett taught the lower school computer skills while they had fun playing games. Having a computer class provided resources for students to learn more and further expand the teachings of a classroom.

Mrs. Bennett is caught in a rare moment of joy.

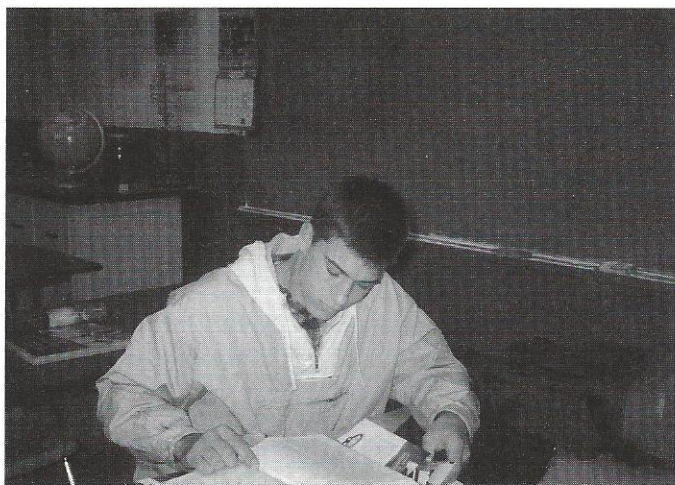

Jeff Gresham types away but, is he looking at the keys or the screen?

Lindsey Creech takes out time to show that typing is fun.

New Additions

A new course was added to the schedule this year: Marine Biology.

This year a new course was offered to the schedule in hopes of improving and expanding the curriculum. Marine Biology has provided an interesting challenge this year. Mrs. DeLoach, the high school science and biology teacher, took on this class with as much excitement as anyone could. The class set up saltwater and freshwater touch tanks with many different and exotic species of marine animals. Also, the class took a field trip to the Donneley Track to explore with hands-on activities.

Jared Fralix studies material out of one of Mrs. DeLoach's Marine Biology books.

The class examines a dog fish shark with Mrs. DeLoach.

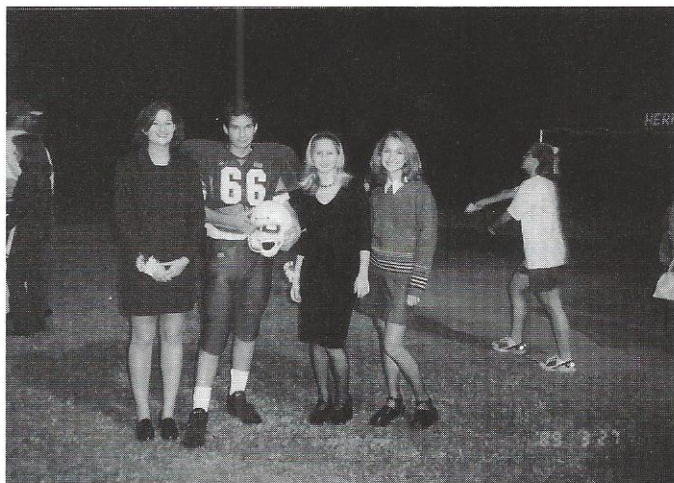

Student-Athletes show what Colleton Prep is all about...

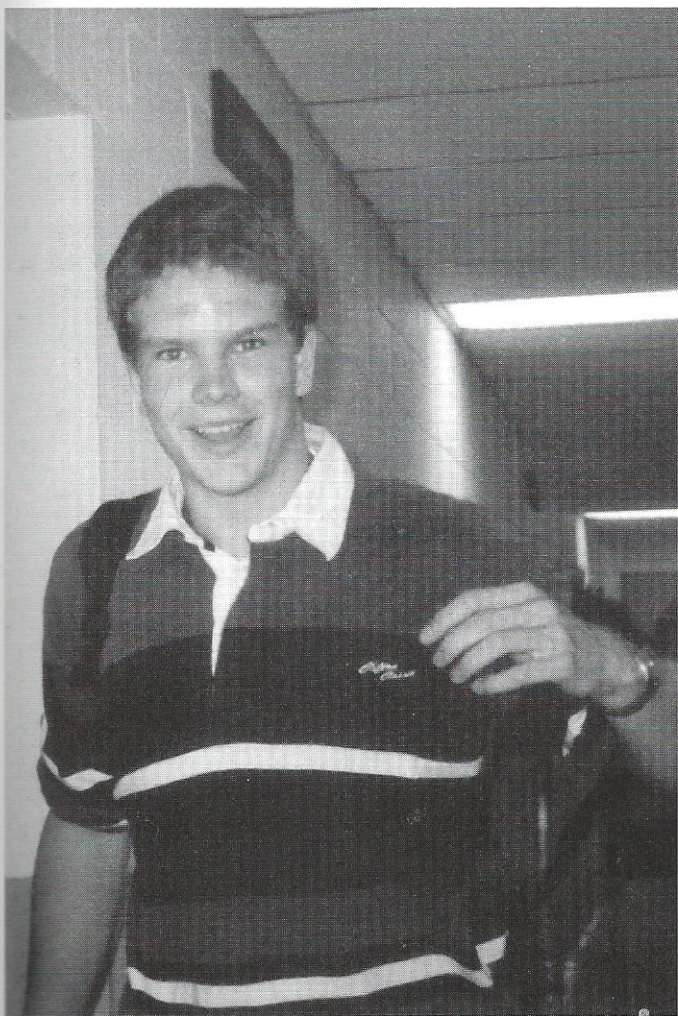

Raising the Standards

Since the very beginning of Colleton Prep, athletics and academics have been an important part of our tradition. The relationship between the two has and will always be inseparable. At CPA and in SCISSA athletics are promoted as long as academics are not compromised. The greatest students are those who can not only participate in sports but also excel in their studies. Colleton Prep has a long-standing tradition of housing many of these fine young women and men. These are the young people who will be attempting to make a difference in the future. The athletic department and teachers can all take pride in their accomplishments.

Oystein Loberg, a foreign exchange student from Norway has brought his incredible basketball abilities and his thirst for knowledge to Colleton Prep this year.

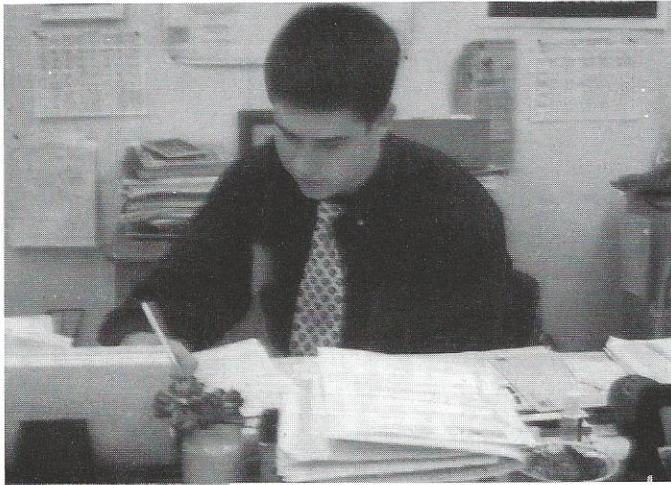

These seniors: Jess Clamp, Brent Snead, Chris Zipperer, and Mary-Margaret White all participated in athletics while excelling in academics this year.

Tough Decisions!

Students decide about colleges and their future.

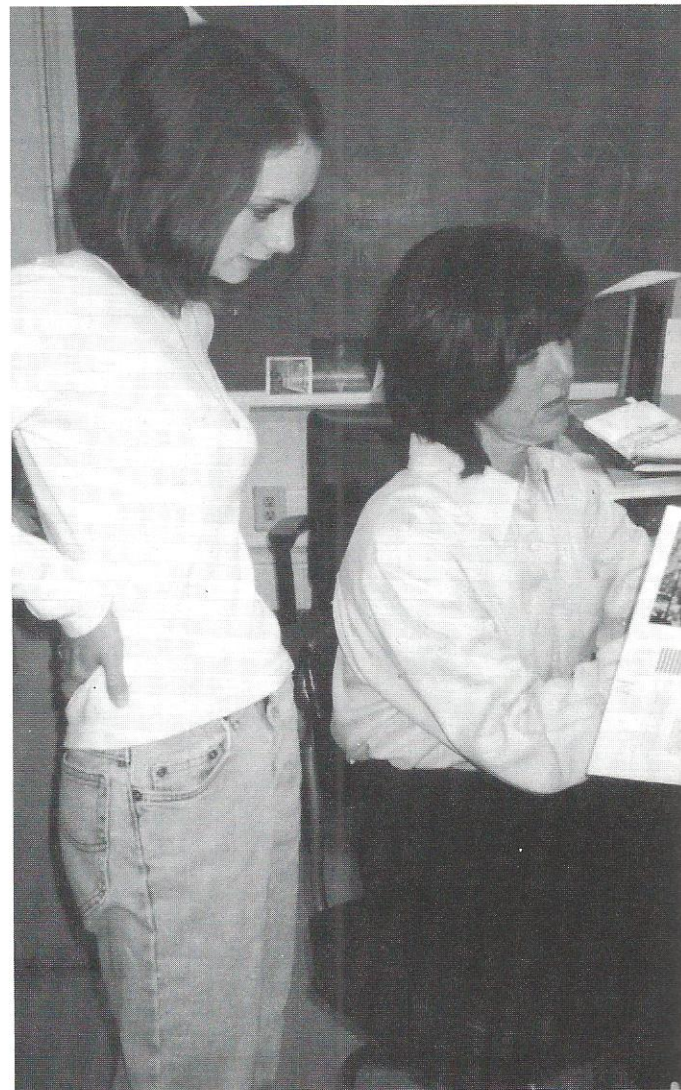

Every year the Juniors and Seniors start looking at colleges and begin making tough decisions about their futures. Most students already had an idea about what colleges they are interested in and a choice poll proved what their top choices are. Despite the many great colleges specializing in various fields this year's Juniors and Seniors seem to have the same idea on the top choices. Among their choices were College of Charleston, Wofford, Clemson, USC, Johnson & Wales, CSU, Duke, UNC, Newberry, FSU, Columbia and MIT.

David Padgett works diligently on his college application. David is considering schools such as The Citadel and Clemson, among others.

Mrs. Upchurch always stays busy helping seniors with their college applications.

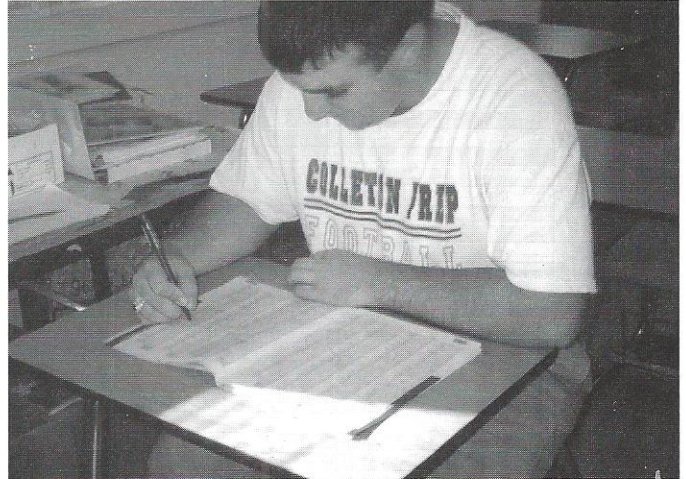

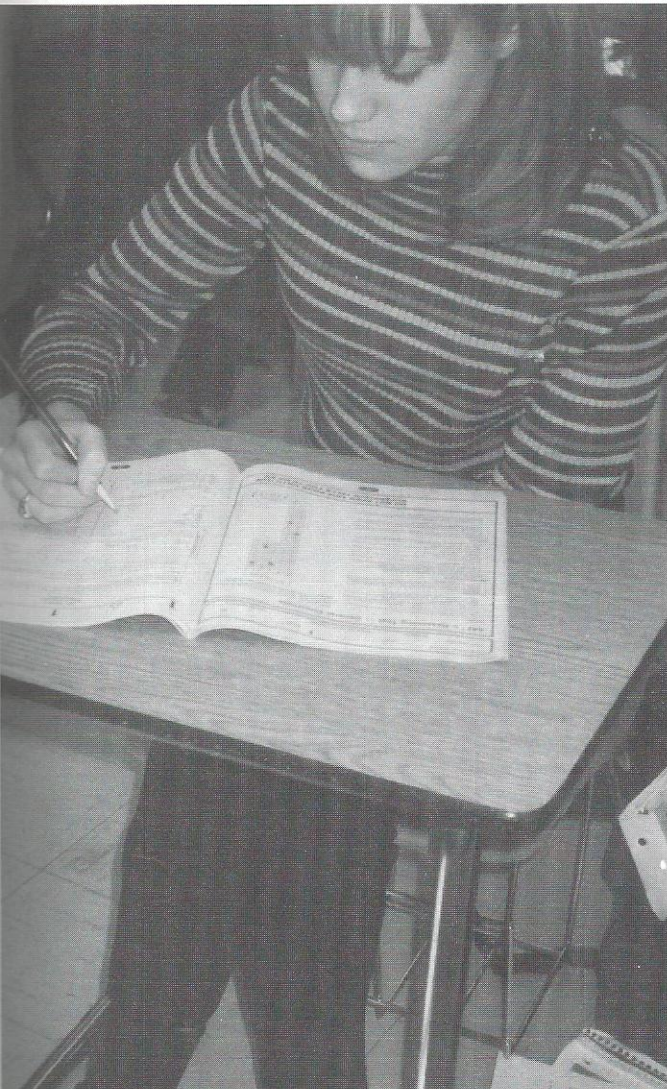

Students prepare for the SAT and the PSAT.

Brain Rackers!

Juniors and Seniors take the SAT and PSAT to give colleges an idea of their academic ability. The SAT is the main test that colleges look at when the students are graduating. The PSAT is a test that helps prepare you for the SAT. This year, many students attended the Sylvan Learning Center in Charleston to help them prepare for the SAT in order to get a higher score.

Cindi Bishop works intently on her PSAT.

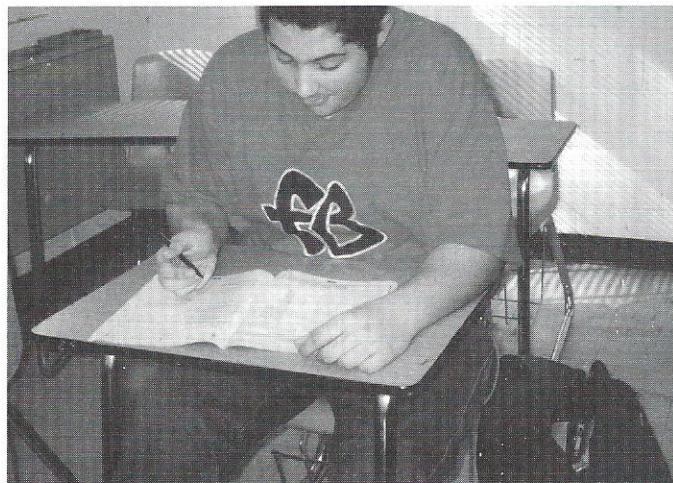

Josh Joyner looks through his career choices on his SAT application.

Preparing For Your Future

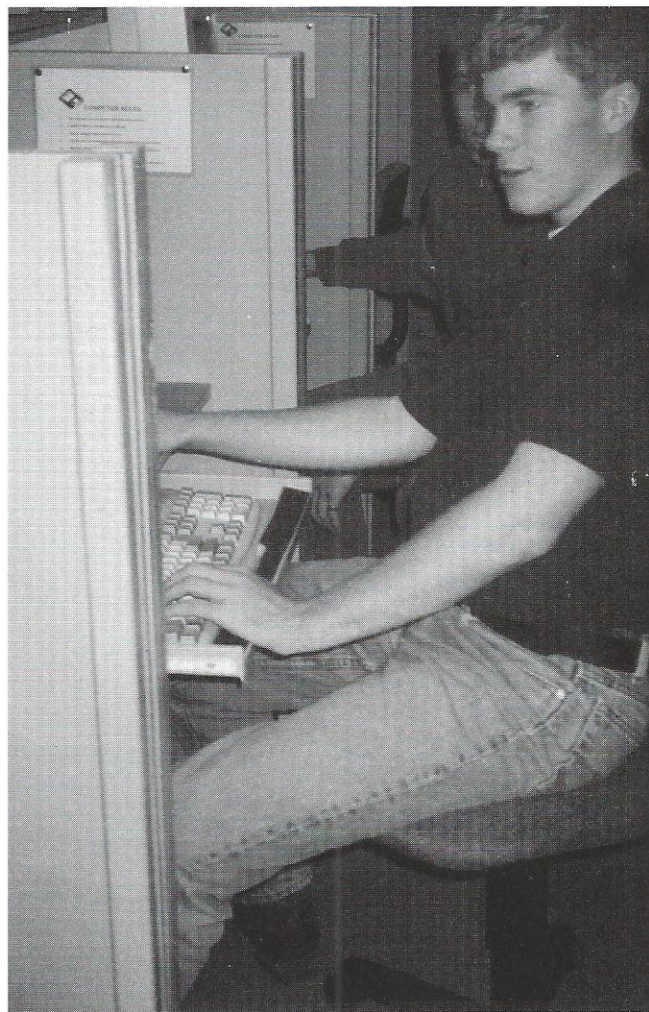

Students think about future diplomas.

When graduation comes near students begin to think about their upcoming diplomas. For general diploma requirements, a total of 18 credits are needed. For college prep diplomas a total of 20 credits are required. But, the class of 2001 will be the first class to need 24 credits for college prep. All other classes after them will have to meet this same standard.

Johnny Owens takes his time completing his SAT form.

Duncan Hunt show off his skills on the computer. Duncan was in for a definite schedule shock when he transferred from Walterboro High's block scheduling to Colleton Prep's.

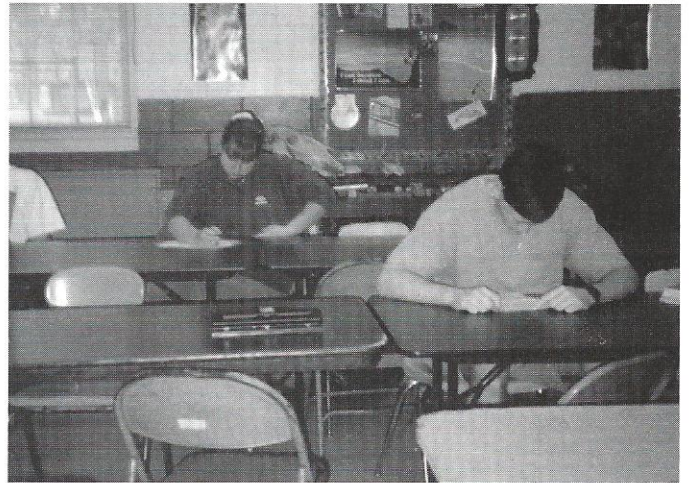

Students always forget tests, especially those on Mondays! However, cramming can always help.

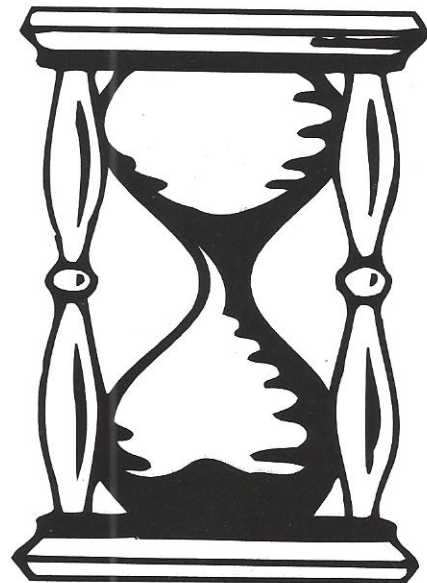

Forget To Study? You Better Cram!

Tests are always stressful, especially when you forget to study. Most students always cram the morning of the tests, especially those dreaded Monday tests. Even the best of us have lived through this scenario in Monday morning homeroom: "What are ya'll studying for? We don't have a test do we? We do?! Oh no, I forgot." Fortunately, that's the most likely reason we have homeroom, for emergency studying. Many teachers get stressed out when they see students studying at the last minute but at Colleton Prep it's just one more useful way to squeeze in all that excess knowledge.

Deana Carter and Kevin Dennis say a little prayer to the tests gods that the late night studying will pay off.

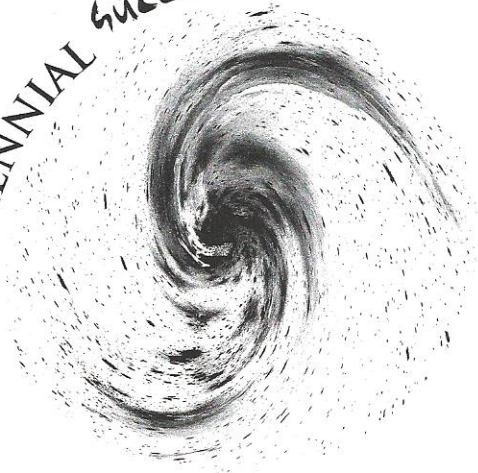

Vishal Patel focuses all of his mighty test-taking skills on those tough questions.

Prom '98 A Night to Remember

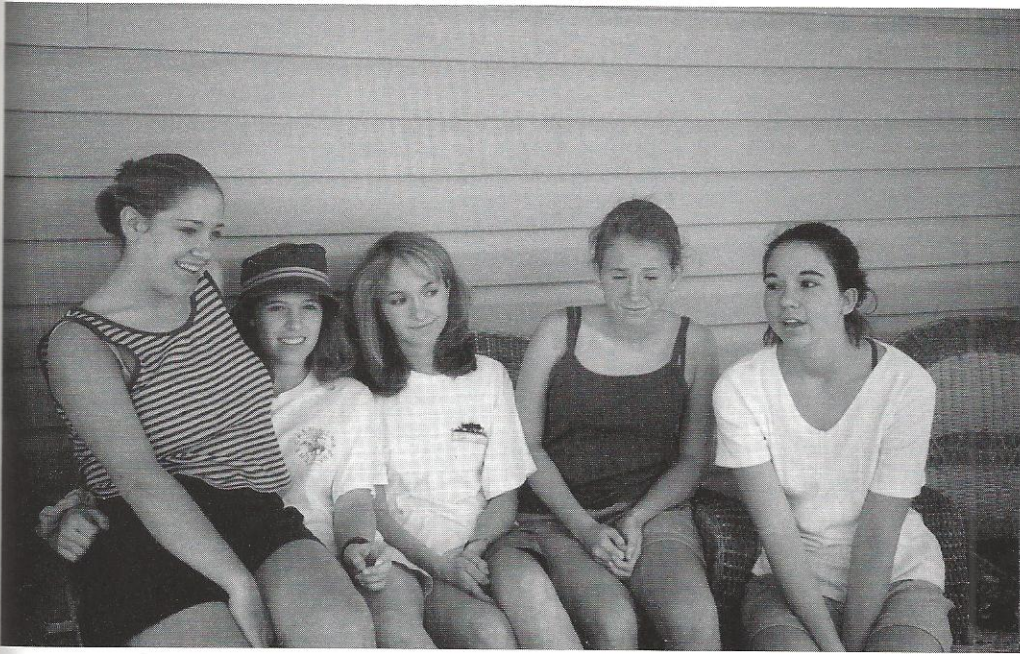

Corey Price shows off his tux before going to Prom.

Last April's Jr/Sr Prom was full of fun, laughter, and lots of dancing. The Juior Class chose to do things a little different and have their prom at Dogwood Hills Country Club instead of in the gym. The Juniors also decided to hire a band to play the night way. With the help of Mrs. Wendy Strickland, the Jr. Class sponsor, the night was a wonderful experience for everyone.

Graduation '98 A Changing Experience

Calson McRoy takes time to give us a smile on graduation night.

The 1998 Graduation was a life changing experience for all of those who were involved. The kindergarteners had a wonderful year with lots of excitement as they recieved their diplomas. The seniors didn't know whether to be excited or scared as they marched into the gym. Nicki Wise and Matthew Bryan, chosen valedictorian and salutatorian, both made speeches during the night. Graduation opened many doors and closed many others.

Times Together

During the year a lot of the students at Colleton Prep became good friends. They spent special times together and made memories they will never forget. Colleton Prep's foundation rest on the development of its students and part of that development is growth. Physical and mental growth. We we are and what we become can also be defined by who our friends are, Who we laugh with, who we cry with and who we love. These people are as much a part of our personality as we are of theirs. Sometimes we forget that.

Chris Zipperer, Caroline Henderson, Sloane Upchurch, Mary-Margaret White, and Emily White have a good time together at a JV Football game.

Tennis '98

The 1998 tennis team had yet another great year. With Senior Chris Zipperer leading the pack and several new additions to the team the years ahead will definitely be very productive. The team had a lot of fun this year and they are already preparing for next year's season.

Volleyball 1998

Once again the Colleton Prep Volleyball team had a rebuilding year. The girls went to a summer camp and learned a lot. With a new coach, the girls had to find their direction again. They had a rough start and a long, hard season but finished with 3 wins, an improvement from the last two years. With more hard work and practice the Lady Hawks hope to come back next year even better.

Baseball 1998

In 1998 the baseball team had another great season as they finished State Runners-Up in the SCISA 2-A division. Despite a couple of losses the team had a sensational year. The team blew away all conference competition. The team's high batting average and awesome pitching staff helped reel in many wins while injuries to several key players hurt the Hawks in the first three weeks. The season will be remembered by the team and its fans.

Michael Herndon brings in another run for the team.

Jeremy Langdale made great contributions to the team.

Softball 1998

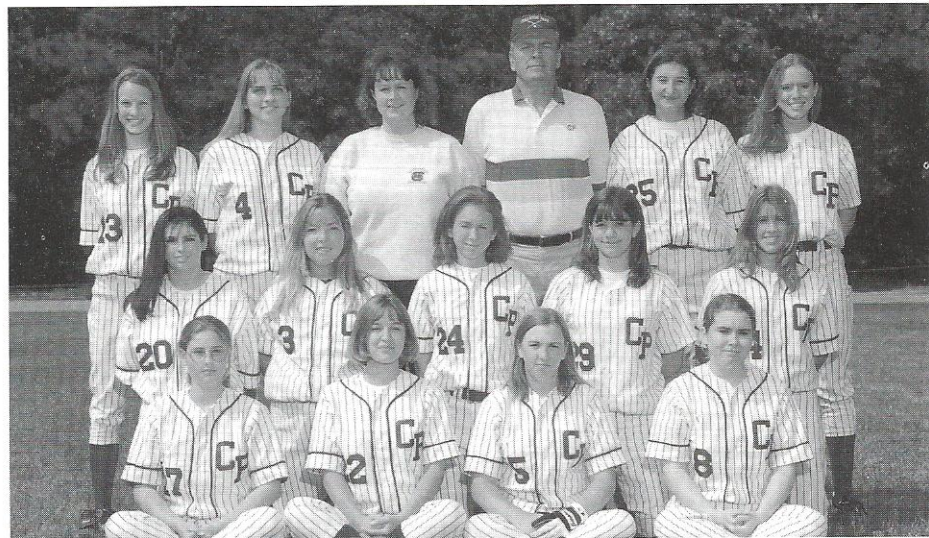

The 1998 softball team had a rough season. Losing several key players and the inexperience of the team hurt them all season. It took a long time for the team to learn to play together. Throughout the year the girls made the best of what they had and became close friends. They hope to do better next year as they are switching to fast pitch play.

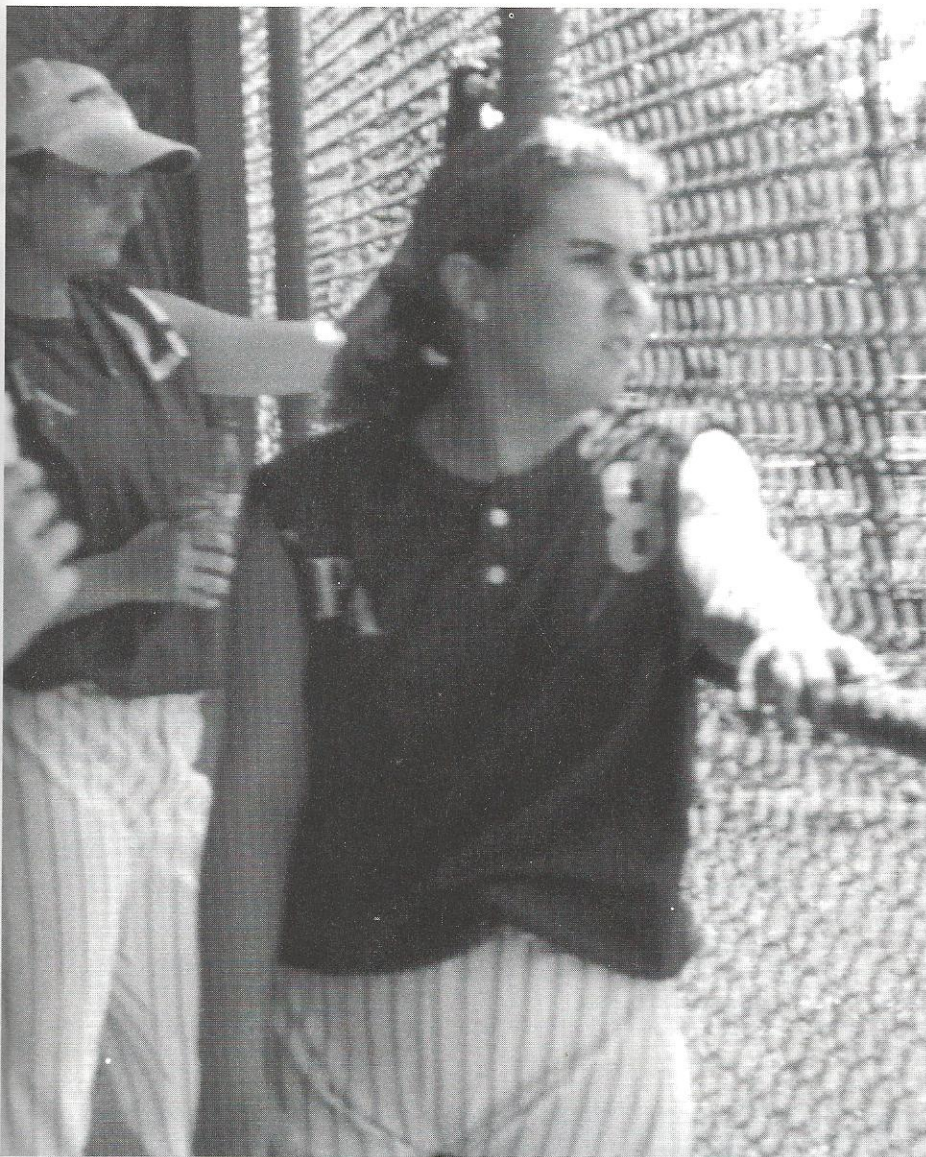

Ashley Smith looks to her glove for a little help.

Where're the keys? Where's the tape? Where's Coach Stein?

THE MANAGERS

Where would South Central Louisiana State University be without Bobby Boucher? The same place as Colleton Prep without its team of devoted girls who are known as the WaterGirls. Actually they prefer the term Managers and no one has a problem with that because these girls are the lifeline of Coach Stein's Athletic program. With Senior Mary-Margaret White at Head Trainer, Sloane Upchurch as Trainer, and Haley Hogan as The Rookie, this group was determined to keep things together when everything else fell apart. They worked hard all year and had a lot of fun in the process.

Sloane Upchurch and Haley Hogan show that working for Coach Stein isn't all that bad.

Haley does a little heavy lifting to prepare for the game.

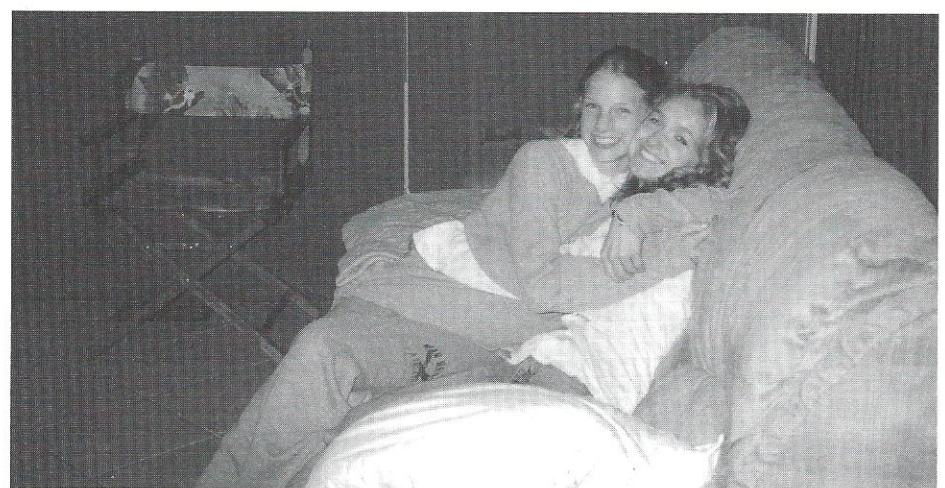

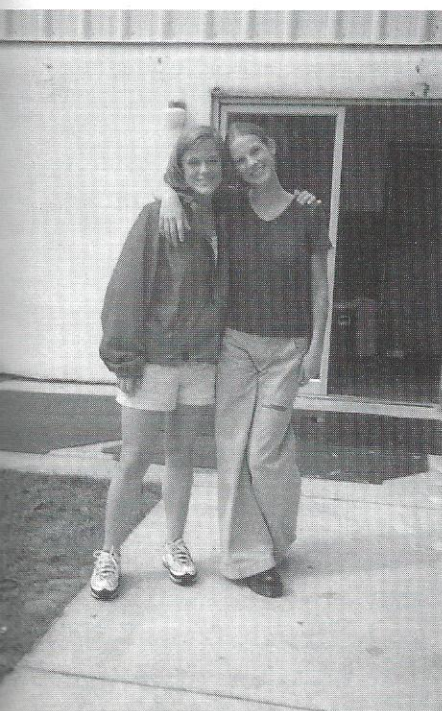

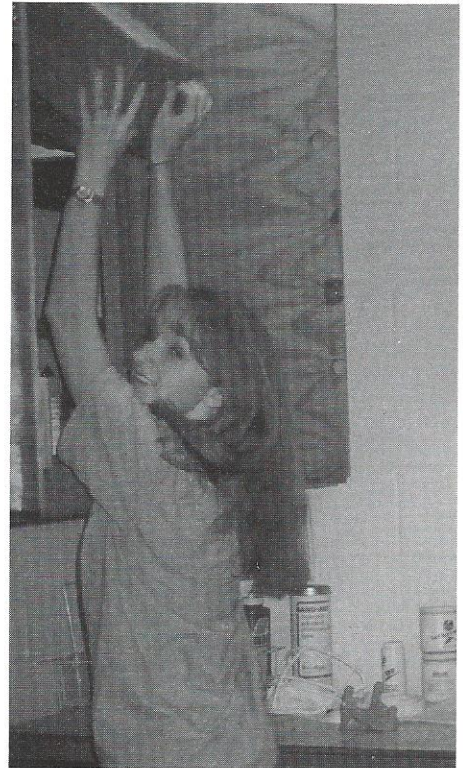

Sloane and Mary-Margaret White help Coach Stein keep track of equipment, and jerseys, and they keep him up to speed with the latest gossip.

Haley and Sloane get a little lonely during the Homecoming game. Mary-Margaret was a member of the Homecoming Court and did not stay on the sideline.

Mary-Margaret puts the tape way out of Coach Stein's reach so he won't be able to waste it.

Haley and Sloane are hard workers on the field and great friends off of it.

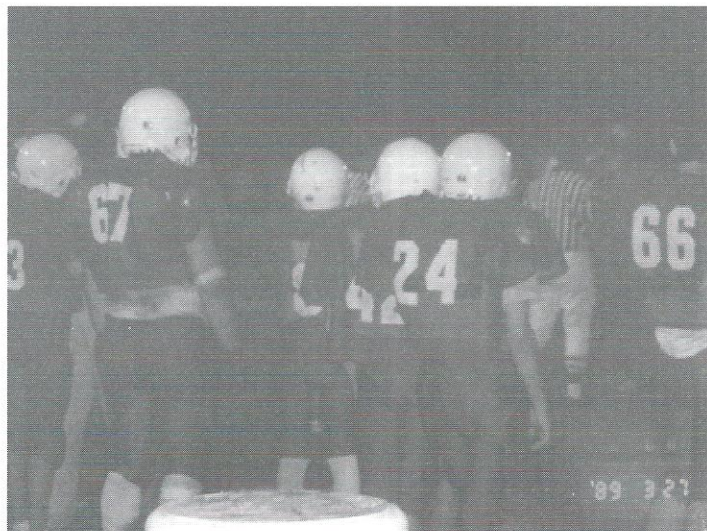

Over the past two years Sloane and Mary-Margaret have become great friends. Next year, Sloane will have to step up and replace Mary-Margaret who is college bound.

“Team check in five minutes!”

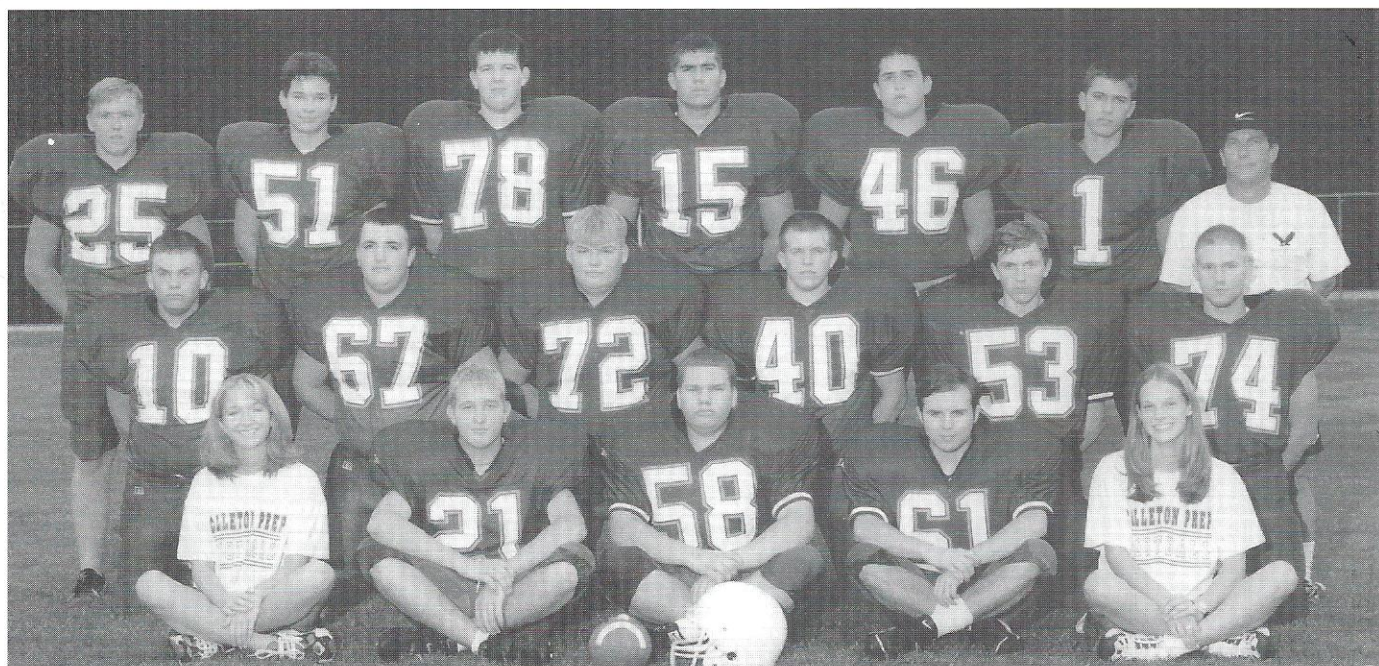

“Coach, I checked. We still have a team.”

Football 1998

In the beginning there were 13. That 13 were dedicated and determined. In the end there were more than 20. Coach Steins Iron Hawks worked extremely hard all season to overcome the pessimist who said the team should switch to 8-man. But why switch to 8-man with a team just as big in size as any other SCISA 2-A team? Why switch when they had the biggest line in many years? Most of all why switch when Coach Stein had the most dedicated group of teenagers in the entire state? With a few players never seeing the sideline the whole game and most only off the field a few minutes Coach Stein had a team to be really proud of. And he was.

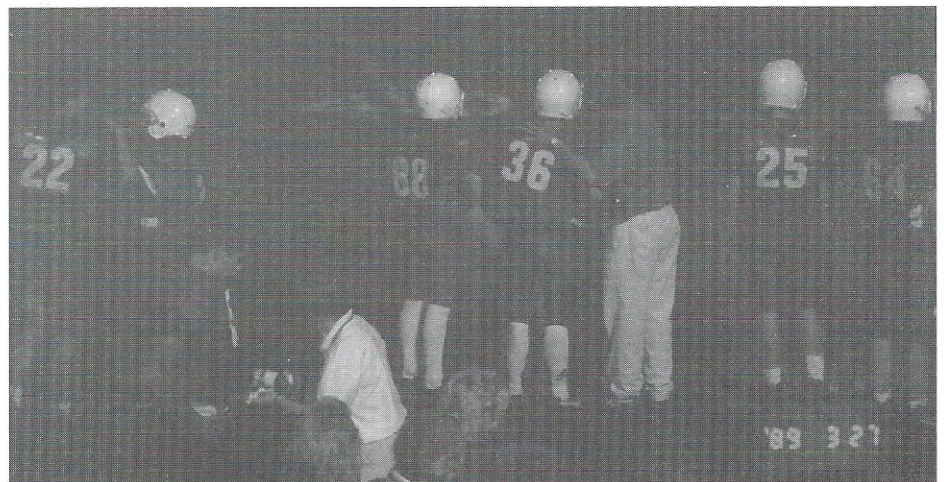

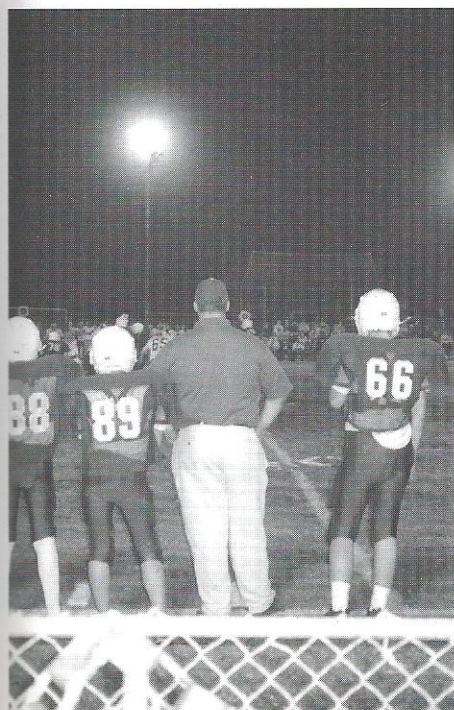

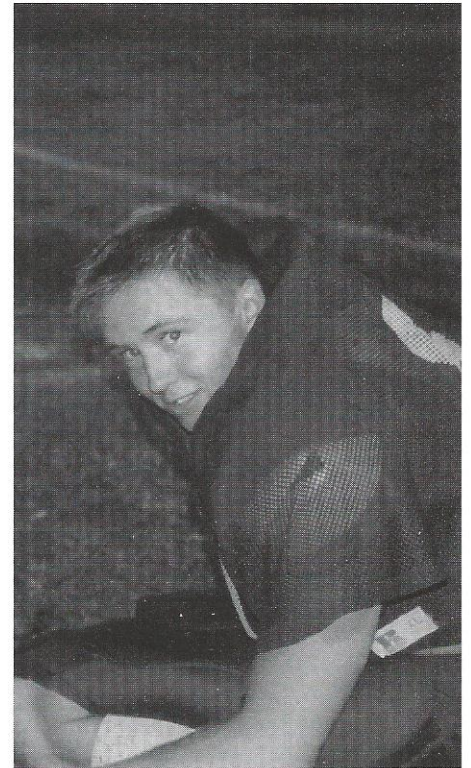

Players and coaches anxiously await an officials call.

Riley Sauls shows that not even a third knee injury can stop him from helping the team.

Tommy Murray takes a well-deserved rest between quarters.

Coach Shuman was a big help to the development of the younger players this year.

Assistant Coach Tracy Burttram sends in another play.

A season of learning...

J.V. Football 1998

This year was one of learning for the J.V. football team; learning to deal with adversity. The team battled better competition this season, after having run the table the past two years. Hours were spent learning new offenses, defenses, routines, and basics such as tackling, running, and blocking. "Get your knees up.", "Keep your feet moving.", "Do it again." and "Run." were heard often. As the year progressed, "Let's go.", "Good job", and "That's it!" began to be heard. The players worked hard to improve their skills and their team. With contributions from all, each week saw improvements. The large and talented Freshman class will be missed, but the future looks bright.

These anxious young players wait patiently for their chance to step onto the gridiron.

Cheerleaders 1998-99

The 1998-99 Varsity Cheerleading Squad had a great time once again. The cheerleaders, sponsored by Mrs. Shelly Thomas, had pep rallies for football and basketball and went to all of the games. Getting new uniforms this year definitely increased the pride of these girls while they got the fans motivated.

The Warhawk, a.k.a. Steven Copeland, helped the cheerleaders liven up the crowd during games and pep rallies.

Varsity Basketball

The Varsity Boys most noticable characteristic would definately be their size.. With several players well over six feet tall they were the largest average team in SCISA. They played hard with great talent and their determination was a great inspiration for their fans. They had a great year.

Jeremy Langdale gets physical for a rebound.

Oystein Loberg waits for a pass from another player.

Mills Hawkins looks for an open man.

He shoots...he scores! And the crowd goes wild!!!

JV Basketball

The JV Boys Basketball Team had a very good season. With height, strenght, and quickness, many games were won. They put everything they had into their games and they got a lot out of it. These boys know they have nowhere to go but up in the future.

Wesley Henderson sends a crisp pass to his teammate.

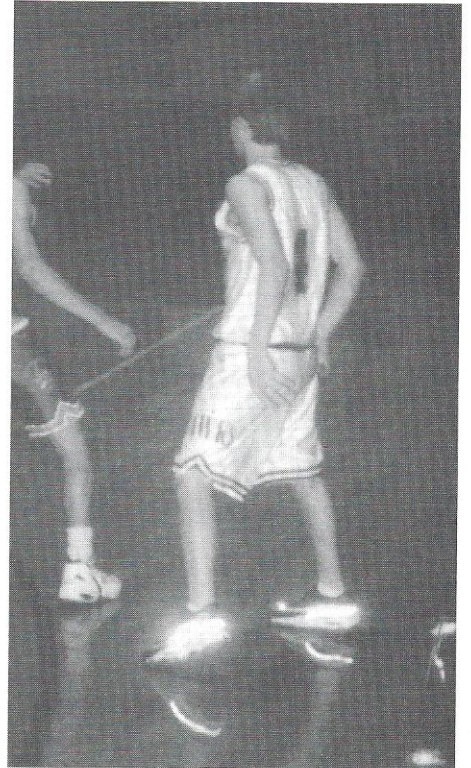

Will Thomas, Adam Kellam, Graham Buckner,,Jack Beasley, Richard Fischer, Viral Patel, Wesley Henderson, Shane Araneo, Smith Richardson, Zann Hawkins, Ros Zipperer, Ricky Patel

Smith Richardson blocks his opponent out for a rebound.

Ross Zipperer waits for Wesley Henderson's pass.

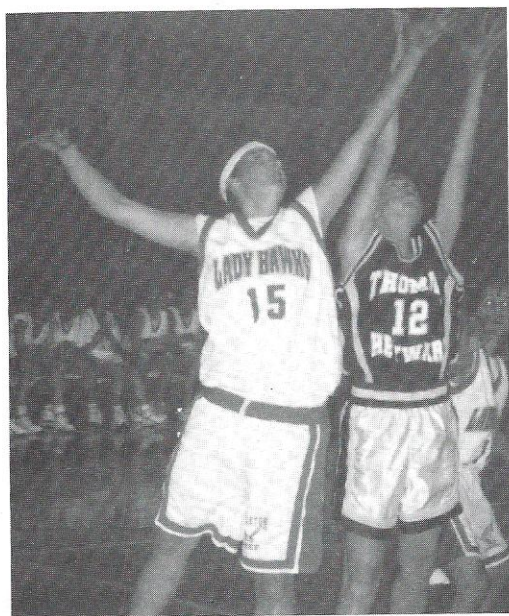

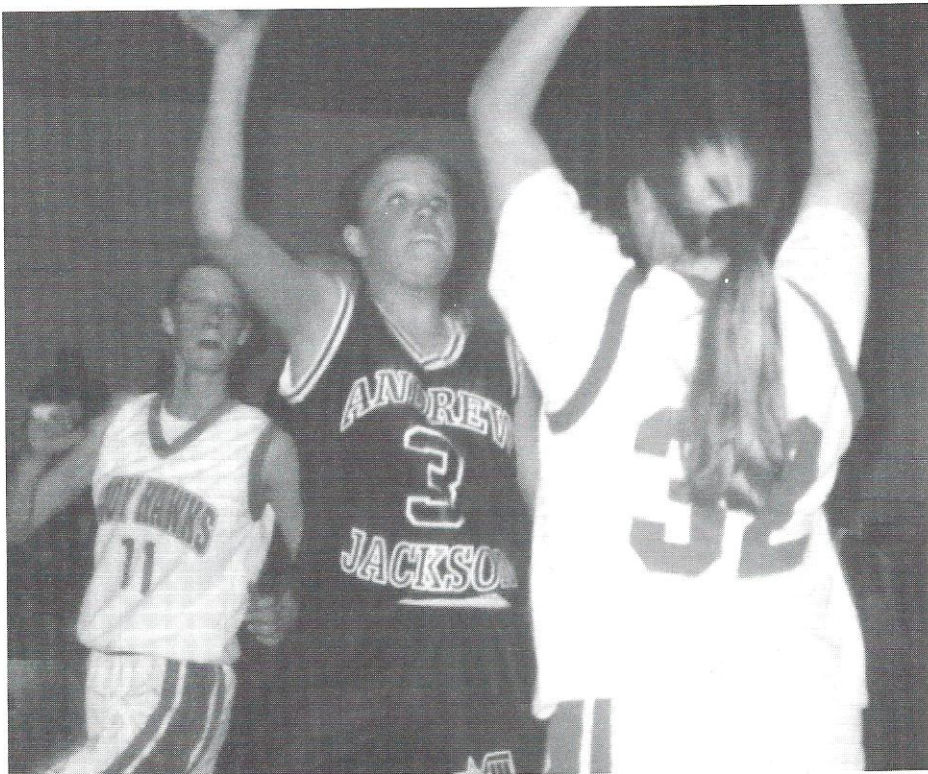

Adam Kellum and Smith Richardson argue a call.

She drives to the hole, puts it up, good for 2!!

Varsity Basketball

The varsity girls basketball team did not have a lot of depth this year. With 14 players only 7 of whom played last year, they struggled. Little by little they improved with a lot of practice. They found that winning is not everything and having fun is the key to succes.

Sloane Upchurch looks for the pass from Kristy Jarvis.

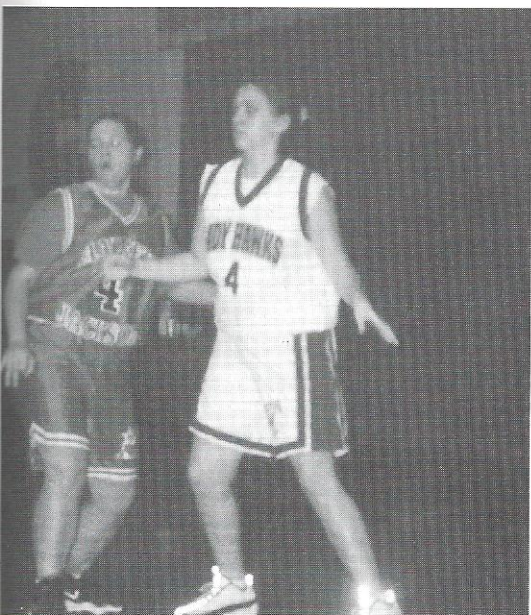

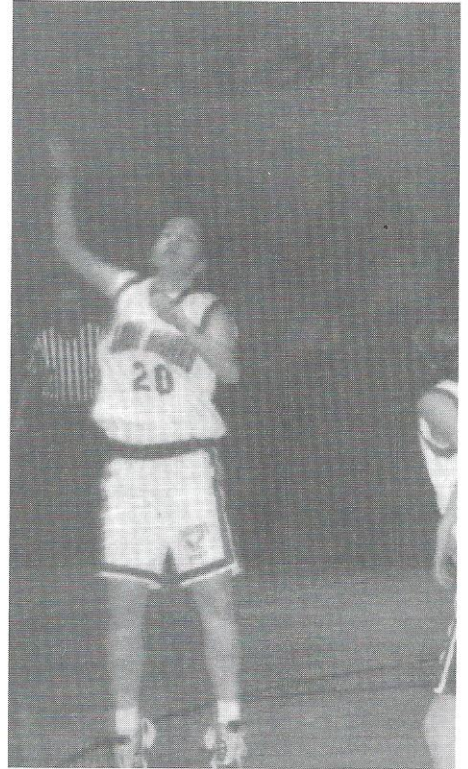

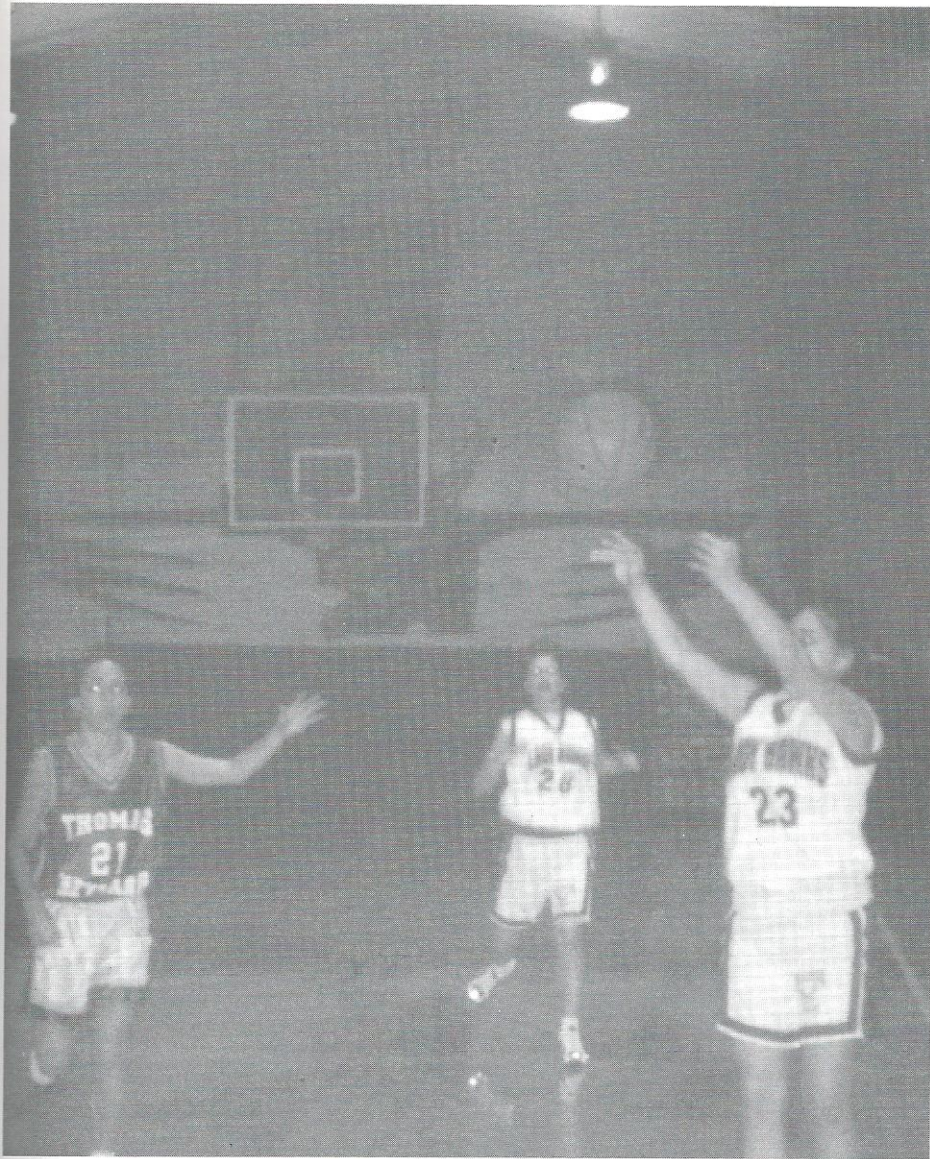

Jess Clamp goes for a rebound.

Hailey Hogan, Sloane Upchurch, Stephanie Hinton, Barry Moorehead, Jess Clamp, Meggie Hulsey, Ashley Smith, Caroline Henderson, Eileen Campbell, Becky Mixson, Ansley Bailey, Mary Beth Bolt, Kristy Jarvis

Caroline Henderson goes up for 2 points.

Ashley Smith jumps to deflect a pass.

Stephanie Hinton tries to get open for a pass.

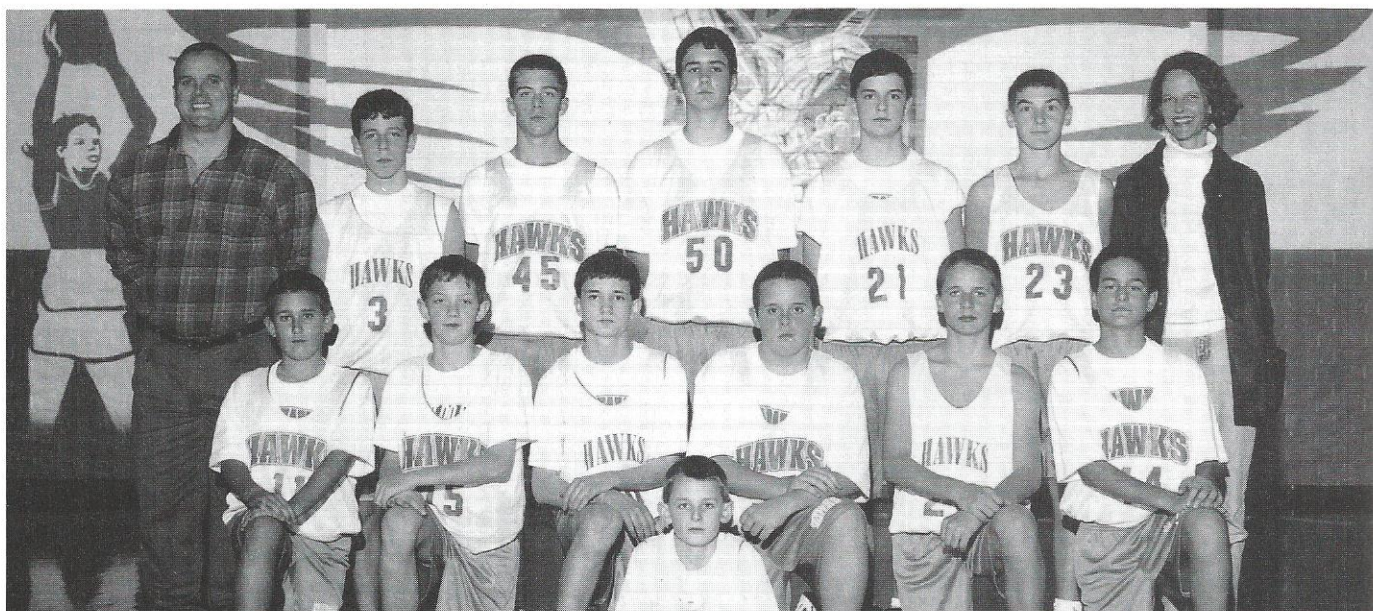

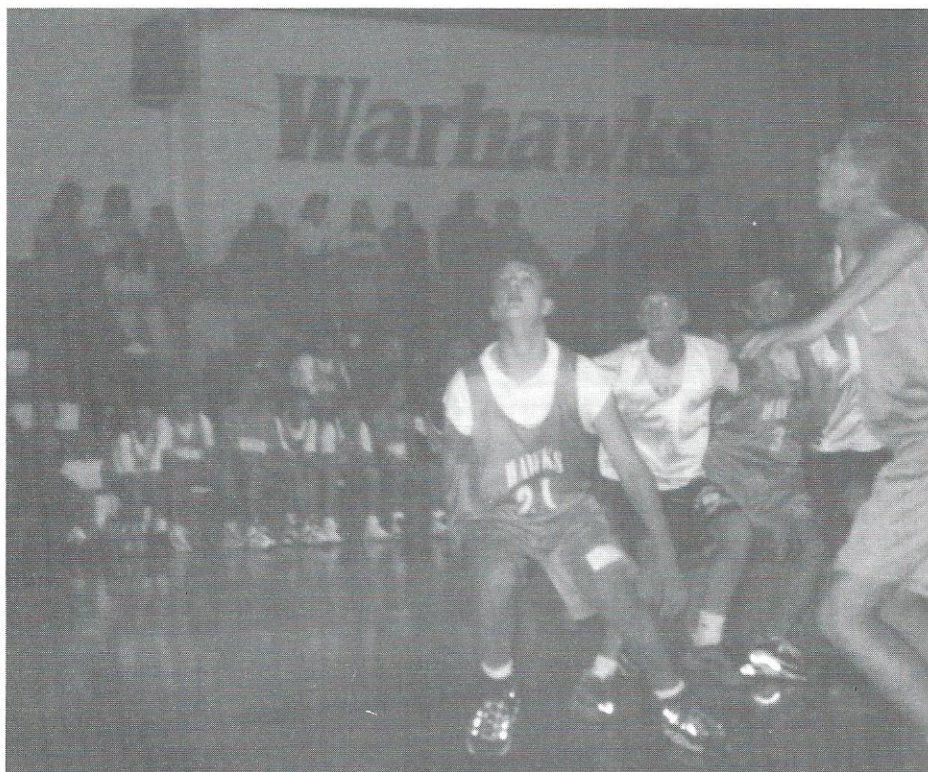

Becky Mixon bounce passes the ball to her teammate.

No salary caps, no strikes, and no owners

B-Team Basketball

The '98 boys b-team season started with a bang. The boys may have been an overall small team yet when they stepped on the court they played with all of their heart. Every game, won or lost, they played their hardest.

Michael Upchurch prepares to leap for a rebound.

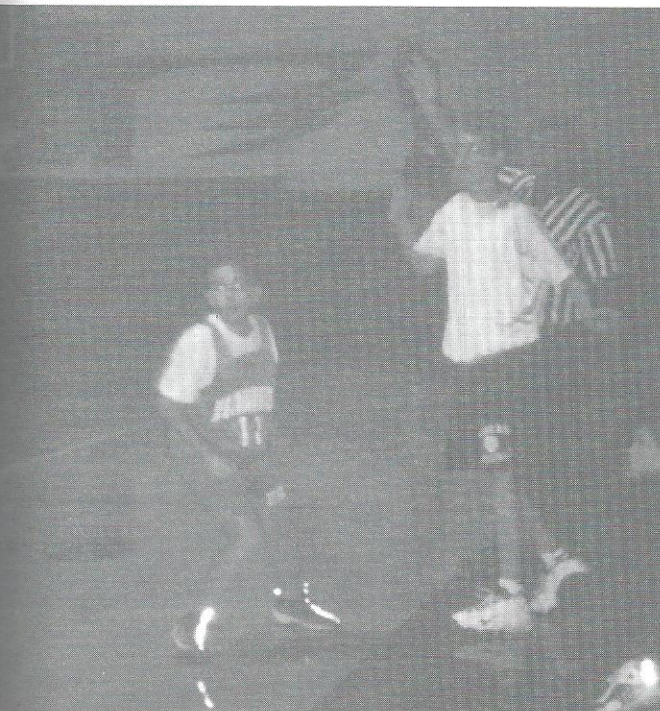

Patrick Hamilton, Preston Hogan, Jason Eppinett, Michael Upchurch, Chris Hutto, Jason Hoats, Perry Buckner, Brian Thomas, Nicholas Fagnoli, Jason Brown, Kyle Strickland, Boone McClendon

Preston Hogan watches for a possible rebound during a foul shot.

Brandon Hoats tries to block an inbound pass.

Jason Eppinette and Kyle Strickland watch to see if the shot is good.

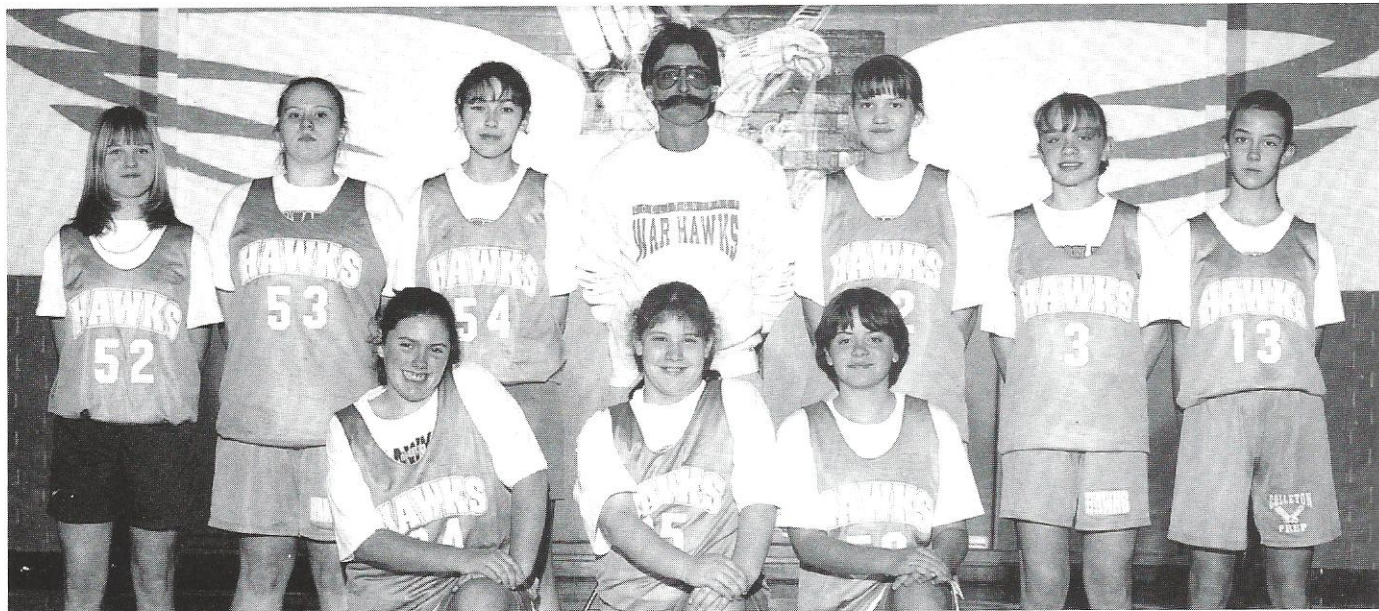

Its not the WNBA but they play their best

B-Team Basketball

The B-Team girls grew throughout the year. They had great spirit and a lot of pride in their abilities, and they played their best. They had a succesful learning season and look forward to even more improvement next year.

These three young players wait to get a rebound.

Laura Rizer takes the basketball away from her opponent.

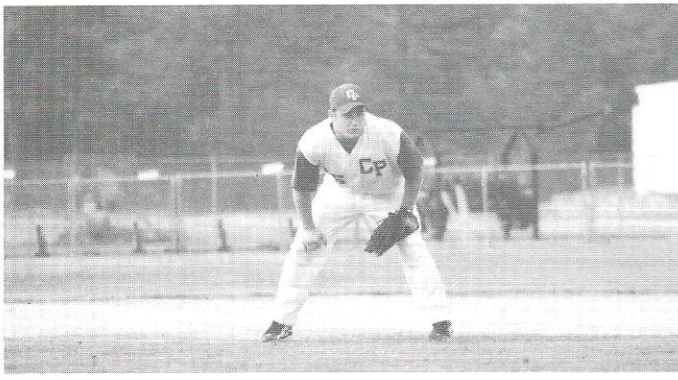

Abbie Lee drives to the hole.

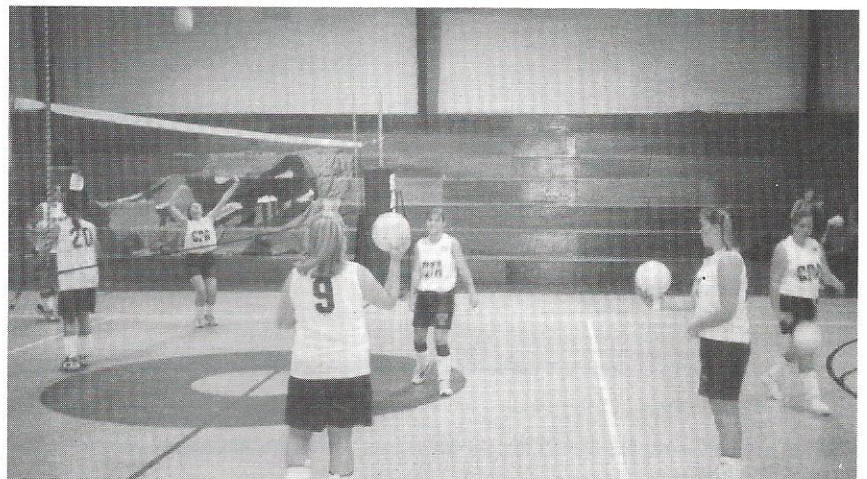

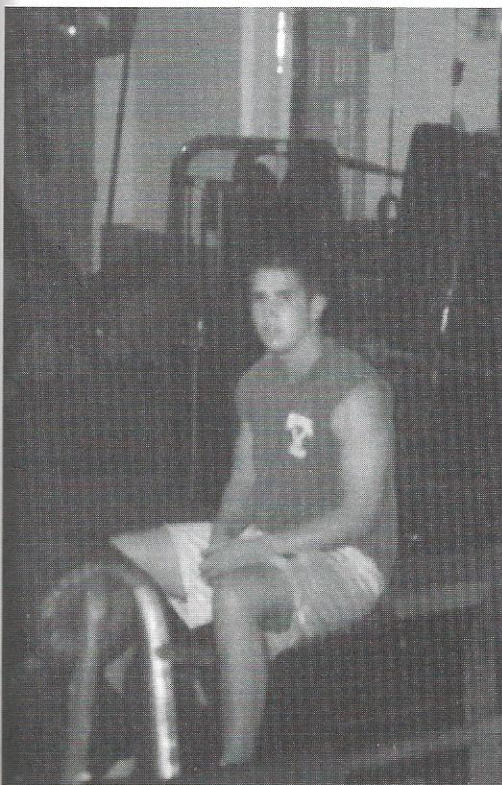

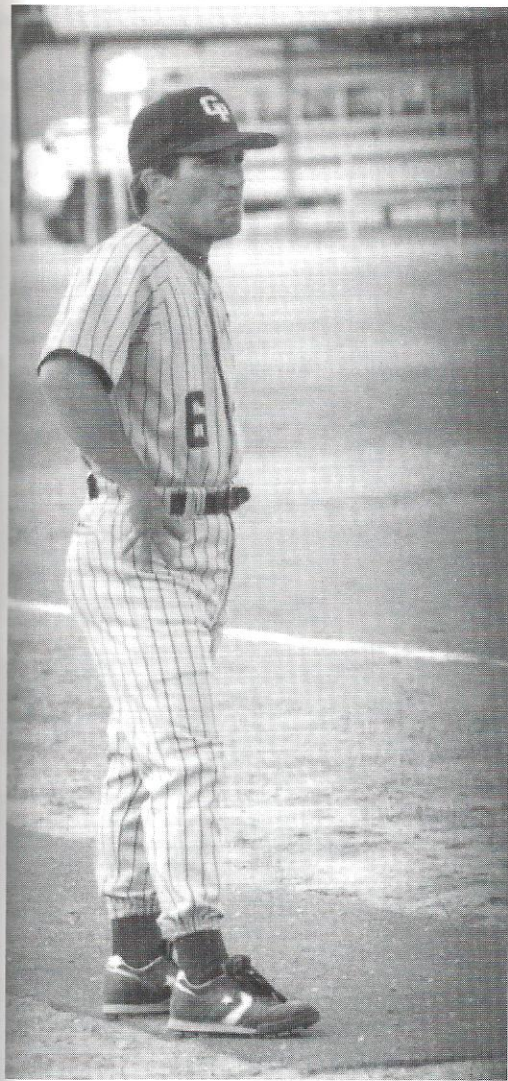

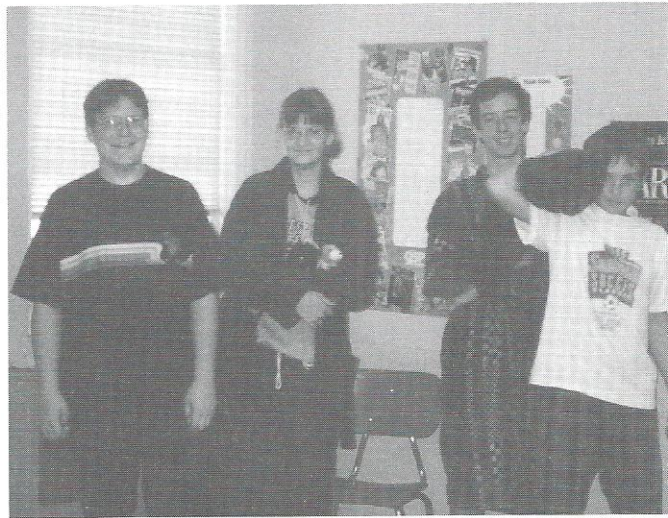

Christine Babb passes the ball in to her teammate.

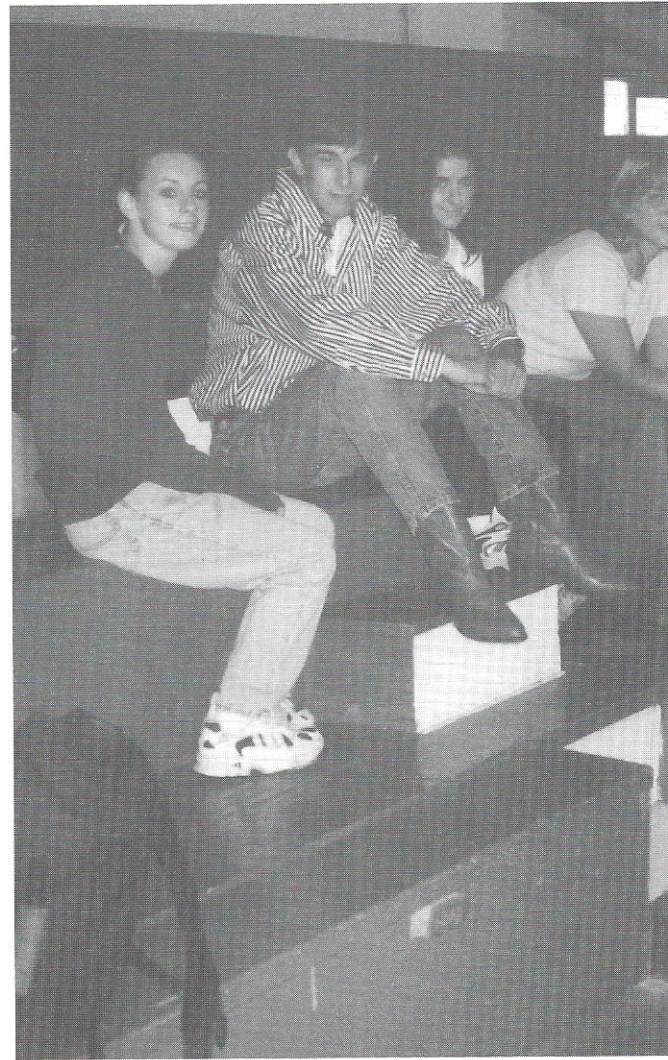

The team listens while Coach DeGraw explains a play.
