

Bringing Books to Life

Tina and Nicholas reenact Disney's Pocahontas.

Morgan McCaskill dresses as a princess from her favorite book.

The library at CPA sponsors a storybook parade for grades K-5. Every year the kids dress up as a character from their favorite book and show off their costumes on the football field. After the kids are judged and have received their prizes, they parade through the halls showing the older students their costumes. The storybook parade encourages reading for all ages.

Madison Utsey shows us that not all pirates have to be scary.

Bailey Stone is an angel in disguise.
