

Anna

Dear Anna,

Where have all the years gone? It seems as though we were just bringing you home from the hospital as a baby and now you are a senior in High School. I guess the next step is college and with faith, hard work and dedication, we know that you will accomplish all of your goals. We are so proud of you and the young lady that you have become. Your Dad and I thought we knew what love was before we welcomed you into our lives, but we were so very wrong. We had never experienced the kind of love, pride, and joy you have given us and for that we are truly grateful. Home will not be the same without your sweet laughter and that infectious smile!

We are so proud of you.

Love,

Mom and Dad

Dear Sissy,

I can't believe you are going to college. I'm going to miss you so much. I know we might argue sometimes but we have had so many good times, too. I love you taking me to the beach, taking me to get something to eat, or having one of our late night talks. You have always been there for me and I hope you have fun in college. I know you will succeed in anything you put your mind to. I'm going to miss you so much! I love you!

Love always,

Sarah
