

Kimberly Alexis Jade Murray

Lexie Lou,

My sassy, strong-willed, blue-eyed girl. Since you were born you have always been your very own person. From your first word to me, "Bubba" instead of mommy, I knew you were different than most! You are athletic, smart, loyal, honest, STUBBORN, confident, beautiful, & have grown into an extremely strong young lady. Your strength shines through your eyes & in everything you do. I've always admired the goals you set for yourself, your determination, & endless hours of hard work you put in to achieve those goals. Keep your faith, work hard, reach for the stars, & you will fulfill your dreams! Remember to always make time for laughter & prayer everyday & know that I have always been & will continue to be your biggest fan. I love you with every bit of my heart & soul.

Love,
Mommy
