

Now comes Graduation- This class is filled with a sad feeling as we think of departing from this life that we have loved and cherished for eleven years. As we go out into the world, that memory of Cottageville School and the beloved teachers will always linger with us. We hope that future graduates can say as truthfully as we that we feel there is a great understanding of the word "Knowledge"; but that there is much more to learn.

Marcaliese Ackerman, Historian