"Raise your hands high in the air" is what these girls yell to get the crowd into the game.

To be a cheerleader, you not only have to be dedicated, but energetic and spirited. These ten girls that put all they had into cheerleading are the perfect example of that. Rain or shine these devoted girls were trying their hardest to cheer their team to victory. Not only did these girls put forth hard work, but they showed that cheerleading can be lots of fun.

Always showing their spirit, these girls do a cheer to inspire their team.
