

Kevin, on September 9, 1981 at 3:10 am, God gave us a very special gift. YOU! We knew from the moment we looked in those bright eyes, touched those little hands, and held you for the first time that you were a wonderful blessing. We watched you grow from a small fragile infant into a curious and caring toddler. We cautiously watched as you changed from an adventurous toddler and developed into an independent and intelligent "little man" as you ventured off to kindergarten. We smiled as you entered and finished your elementary grades with outstanding academic abilities. Our hearts were full of joy as we watched as you became a trusting teenager and entered your Jr. High school years. Like always you finished with flying colors. Then we watched with pride and anticipation as you grew into a wonderful young man and began high school. You excelled as you have always! Within these very short years you have accomplished so many goals, crossed so many milestones and set an example for so many people. Now, we watch as you grow and prepare to cross yet other milestones; Graduation and College. Our hearts are saddened because time has gone by so quickly, but at the same time our hearts are overflowing with joy as we see the exceptional young man that you have grown to be. Over the years some things have changed. Now we have to tip-toe to look into your bright eyes. And yes, you're too old for us to hold your hand (like we did when you were a little boy). And your childhood is rapidly changing into adulthood. But some things will stay the same forever. Never forget that you will always be a blessing to us and the love that we had for you as a baby, grew and grows as you do. Yes, that's a lot. Keep God first and you will continue to succeed!

We love you very much and we are extremely proud of you!

Congratulations, Kev!
