

Son,
 It seems almost impossible that you're old enough to be graduating from high school. Time has gone by so quickly. It seems like yesterday you were graduating from kindergarten. But when I look at you now, instead of seeing that little boy, I see a wonderful, mature young man.

We can't begin to tell you how very much we love you and how very proud we are of you. You have brought such joy, happiness, and laughter into our lives. Thank you for being the best son and the best big brother any family could ever hope for.

Eric, if you keep smiling as you always do and continue to keep the Lord first in your life, there will be nothing you can't do if you just try. Congratulations, son!!! We know you'll be everything you want to be and more. All our love,
 Momma and Daddy

Eric,
 Congratulations! We are so very proud of you!! Good luck next year! We love you so much and will always keep you in our prayers! Love you, Nana and Papa (Pappy "C")

Eric, you are the best brother in the whole world and I love you very much. Thanks for always taking me places and for always helping me when I need you. Congratulations! Good Luck with college next year. Love ya,
 Kendall
