

Crissy,
 You deserve the very best that life could ever bring. For you add so much happiness and joy to everything . . . you're always warm and sensitive. To those for whom you care and this message brings you thanks with love beyond compare!

To My Big Sis,
 We have had some really fun times together. It never mattered, where we were or who we were with, we always could make each other laugh. I have always admired you. Yep, even when you dressed me in your play jewelry and called me your little sister and even when you got me in trouble for something you did. I hope we will always remain close. I will miss you when you leave for college but I sure can't wait to move into your room!
 Love,
 Travis (Trav)
