

Kacey,
The doctor said your birth was a miracle and I will agree that God put you on this earth with a special purpose in mind. You have been a joy, inspiration, and blessing to me as well as every life you have touched. You have always set your goals high and worked hard to obtain them. Your kindness, caring, respect and consideration for your fellowman, love of life and learning, determination, and faith in God will allow you a prosperous and fulfilling future. I am so proud of you! I know "Amma" is smiling down from heaven bragging to all the angels about "her kacey."

I will miss the closeness we have shared every day but I know you have an extremely bright future facing you, so you go for it girl!

We love you!

Momma and Courtney
