Too Good To Be True....

Remember the first day of school, walking into a world of unknown. Remember the pep-rallies, ball games, and then the taste of sweet defeat? Remember Homecoming and dances, Halloween hay-rides, Prom, and Spring Break? And then there's right now. A time of discovery-about yourself, about your friends, and about your world. A time of choices-choosing colleges, searching for a significant other, and what you're going to do after school's out. So, what happens next? It's the beginning of a new millennium. However, keep these memories close to heart, because the Year 2000 has been Too Good To Be True.