

To Forget

We gathered together in our gowns and tuxedos for one big bash. The Class of 2000 did their best to make the prom the best it could be for the Class of 1999. "Party Like It's 1999!" was the cry as we danced the night away. All of our problems were behind us as we moved to the beat. The decorations, the music, and most of all our friends made this night Too Good To Forget.

Elizabeth and Derek knew this night was too good to forget.

Seniors crowd around for the poem reading.

Hey, shouldn't you be doing something?
