

Too Caring To Stop...

They were those who believed in us. The Dorchester Academy Faculty was more than just our instructors. They were our friends who knew that we could do better. Due to this belief, they pushed us to do our best. Tests, quizzes, and homework may have annoyed us but they knew that it was for our own good so we could show what we have learned. We might not know exactly what they have taught us now, but one day we will. For all of their love, support, hard work, and time all we can say is "Thank you."
