

Andrew,
 We waited a long time for you to arrive. Once you did we could not have been prouder. Thank you for all the times you have given us to love you and to beam and brag. As this important time in your life arrives we want you to know we will always be here for you with love and support. Always keep your faith in God and remember to dance!

Love,
 Mom and Dad

Thanks for being such a good big brother.

Love,
 Ben

Dear Justin,
 Where have the years gone? Seems like yesterday they were placing you in my arms for the first time. I knew right then that you were such a blessing and would be a very special boy. I am so proud of you and your accomplishments. You have always set your goals high and strived to reach them all. Continue to do this and you will be rewarded beyond measure. Your life is about to change courses-High School to College! I can hardly believe that it is time already. Justin, as you prepare to leave home and start anew, I want you to never forget that I love you with all my heart and that I will always be here for you. I love you so much and am very proud of you!

Love, Mom

Justin,

It's so hard to believe that you are graduating this year. I am proud of you and your many accomplishments, but I want to thank you for all the wonderful memories and for being there for me WHENEVER I needed you! This past year and a half, we have been through so much together. If it weren't for you, it would have been almost impossible. Justin, now that you are heading into your college life, I wish you the best of all luck and know you will do well. I LOVE YOU!! I guess the only thing left to say is...WATCH OUT CLEMSON UNIVERSITY!

Love, Lauren
