

As a little girl and as a young adult, you've brought so much joy into our lives. Your heart is so full of love for everyone and especially for older people. You have a way of making them happy and of making them feel young. You wear a smile that spreads warmth to everyone around you.

Brandy you're so special to your family and friends and we all love you and are proud of you.

We pray that your future is as full as you can hope for. So keep your faith strong and accomplish all your goals and know that we'll always be here to support you along the way.

May God Bless You Always
We love you,
Daddy and Mom
