

Al, you must continue making the world a fun loving place. God has made you the way you are, he has given you the power and strength to keep your family and friends safe. Everyone knows you are with them in your thoughts like a man of great unpredictable strength. You've always kept others guessing what your plans were. Little do they know but you plan to be with them anytime.

You have been taught how to be a man by your father, grandfathers, and great grandfather. Keep a bit of all of them in your memory bank. These men have helped you know where you have come from, helped you with trials that have tested you, they have taken you on many journeys, and they have helped you face many enemies. Your father has preached Matthew 7:1 and you preach Matthew 6:26.

We love you, enjoy you, admire you, think of you, pray for you, dream of you, and we will always be anywhere for you.

We Love You,
Mom & Dad
