Brent Jackson,

You grew up right before our eyes and we are honored to have been a part of your life thus far. You are now about to start the adult half of your life and we will be there each step you take reassuring you of the pride we have in you and your talents. A few words of wisdom: Two halves do make a whole, cows can be quite dangerous, and keep your family close to you - we love you.

Love,
Todd, Heather, and Wyatt

Brent,

Wow Buddy!

I remember the day you were born as if it were yesterday instead of eighteen years ago. I would take you to basketball games when you were 7 months old and you slept through the noise. Then you turned into a little boy and I would come over and we watched "E.T." and "Land Before Time" at least 100 different times. Then you were old enough to play T-ball. From then on baseball, football and basketball became a big part of your life. Our times at the beach were always fun. Then all of a sudden you were learning to drive. I shed a few tears when you received your school ring and laughed when you went to the Jr.- Sr in a limo. Now you are a young man in our Senior year. You are a wonderful grandson and you have given me many enjoyable and fun fill days. I am so proud of all of you accomplishments and wish you all the happiness that life can bring.
Congratulations and love forever

I can't believe you are graduating! Seems like yesterday you were playing T-ball and hanging out with me- When did you grow up??? But now that you are, I just wanted to tell you how proud I am of you. I am and always will be your #1 Fan. As I watch you mature, I find myself missing that little boy that cried every time I left him - only now to find myself wanting to cry every time you, as a young man, leave me. But that is what happens as we grow up and discover all the new and interesting thing life has to offer us all. Follow your dreams and know I will always be there to back you up and push forward in anything you strive for. And no matter how old you are, just remember you will always be "My Buddy" and "Best Friend" and I will always be your "Sissy"!!!

"Mimi"

I love you so much!
Congratulations Brent!
Love always,
Niki
