

From...”

This year's annual theme was judged and voted on by all participating yearbook staff members. We wanted the theme to show that we are from a special place that we all are proud of. The title was inspired by Alan Jackson's "Where I Come From." We all agreed that this title had potential and would be fun to work with. We also felt as though Dorchester Academy had a touch of southern hospitality and wanted to express this through our imaginative and creative title. By illustrating our years at Dorchester Academy through this year's annual, we truly give you an idea about student life as a whole. Because we've made countless friends and memories as we've journeyed through our remaining years here, it just makes sense that the "we" should be in fact an "I." With this being stated, we can justly say that Dorchester Academy is "Where I Come From..." and "Where I Have Been...."
