

Student Life

Where Interests Come From...

Though students spend the majority of their time behind school walls or participating in after school athletics, they still manage to find time to do plenty of other things that do NOT pertain to school life. Weekends, jobs, and other events influence a student in many ways. Some of these events are enjoyed while others are done due to obligations. Though every minute of each day isn't delightful, bringing the good in with the bad, the new in with the old, and the fun in with the boring makes up "Student Life."
