Dad and Mom

Dear Colleen,

It seems like yesterday when we were little sitting in our room listening to mom read us this nursery rhyme:

"Molly my sister and I fell out, and what do you think it was all about? She liked coffee and I loved tea, and that was the reason we couldn't agree."

Well, it's been awhile since then, you still like coffee, and I still love tea, and we still disagree, just not as much. You have turned into such a talented, smart, and beautiful young lady. I am so proud of you and I couldn't have asked for a better sister. You are not only my sister, but my best friend. You have accomplished a lot of wonderful things in your life, and I know you will accomplish a lot more as long as you keep reaching for the stars. Your high school days are over, and it's time to start your life. I wish you all the luck in the future, and just remember that I am always here for you no matter what, whether I am just down the hall or a phone call away. Stay true to yourself and your beliefs, and God will lead you down the path to great things. I LOVE YOU!

Love Your Big Sis,
Fay Daisy
