Where has the time gone? God blessed us with five wonderful boys and now the last one is old enough to graduate. I cannot believe it. Daddy and I have enjoyed watching you all grow up so much and now you are all young men and soon to be on your own.

You are such a special young man. You have done so many wonderful things in your life that we are so proud of. I think you can really make a difference in this world that we live in if you stay the same as you are now. You believe in God and you stand very firm in what you believe. We are so proud of you. There are really not enough words to say how proud we are of you. We pray that God will continue to bless you and keep you close as he guides you down life's pathways. Always keep your eyes on Him and you can never go wrong. Life is a special gift and never take it for granted. Remember what we have always told you. Your life may be the only Bible some people ever read. Don't let them down. Always work hard and thank God everyday for what you have.

We love you very much. Always remember we are here for you, no matter what. Trust God and be a good boy. May you be the best you can be in what ever you decide to do in life. Never forget how very special you are to our family. We love you,

Mama and Daddy
