

The last days at school before the holidays began were frantic, filled with Santa Claus and Christmas trees and snowmen on bulletin boards - and drawing names in class. Everyone had the spirit.

