

There are quiet times in the midst of all the activity, all the hustle and bustle around us, when we withdraw into ourselves--our bodies in repose, our thoughts far away.