

Freshman Rob Young enjoyed participating in the money-raising projects of the Science Club. He said that he had the most fun at the car wash, where he could drive the cars. "The best part was seeing everyone soaking wet, especially Mr. Hartshorn," said Rob.

(Above), Cathy Sams finds out cars aren't the only things that get wet at a car wash.

(Top left), Marion Sauls, Joey Ritter, and Van Boynton attempt to entice drivers to the car wash.

(Above), Science Club listens to suggested ideas for fund-raising.