

Powderpuff — It's War!

The annual Powder Puff game was played on November 18 with the juniors making a tremendous comeback to win the game in overtime 20-14. At one point, the senior girls led 14-0 on Kelly Rister's rushing. But Tandy Young and company refused to die. Both teams regarded the game seriously and fought determinedly to win. In fact, the game has developed into a fierce local rivalry that is second only to the Carolina/Clemson contest.

(Top right), Isn't she lovely? Gregory Ann Barnes, 1981 Powder Puff Queen, poses for a picture.

(Above), Fourth-grader Michael Smith proudly escorts senior player Camie Hughes.

(Above), Quarterback Kelly Rister calls the play.