

'81 Season

A very enthusiastic Warhawk team traveled to Ehrhardt on Sept. 4 to play Andrew Jackson in the first game of the football season. With revenge on their minds, the Hawks proved themselves to the Confederates with a decisive win and a score of 49-7. The following Friday, Jefferson Davis came to town for John C.'s first home game. The vigorous Hawks beat the Raiders 26-0. The team's first loss of 7-8 was against Wilson Hall. J.C.C.A. won on statistics but lost due to questionable calls. Wade Hampton was next on the schedule. The Hawks got a touchdown and two points just before the half and held the lead for an 8-0 victory. The team then played Robert E. Lee. Although it was a fight-marred game, the Warhawks defeated the Cavaliers 26-0. The game with Hammond was a very important one in John C.'s hopes to go to the state playoffs. The score was 0-0 at the half, but the bigger and stronger Hammond team wore down the Hawks in the second half and won 28-0. The Homecoming game against Williamsburg proved to be exciting. The Warhawks overpowered the Stallions for a 36-6 triumph. Thomas Heyward handed J.C.C.A. their third loss in Ridgeland with a score of 30-0. The loss shattered the Hawks' final hopes to go to the playoffs. In the next game, John C. came from behind in the fourth quarter to defeat Willington 21-14. May River came to Walterboro for the final game of the season. The Patriots' quick defense never allowed the Warhawks to be effective on the scoreboard, and they won 19-0. J.C.C.A. ended their season with a disappointing loss but with a solid record of six wins and four losses.

Walter Hiott shows great anxiety of how the game progresses.

Sheldon Girardeau fights to go for a few more yards.
