FRIENDSHIP

Friendship is one of the greatest attributes a person can have. It is a union of deepest feelings, an indefinable trust, and constant communication. A friend is that person with whom one spends much of his time and shares his secrets. He is there when you need him and even when you don't! Friends at John C. share late night talks on the phone, trips up and down Jefferies, gossip, and many other things. Friends don't have to try to be friends — it just happens!

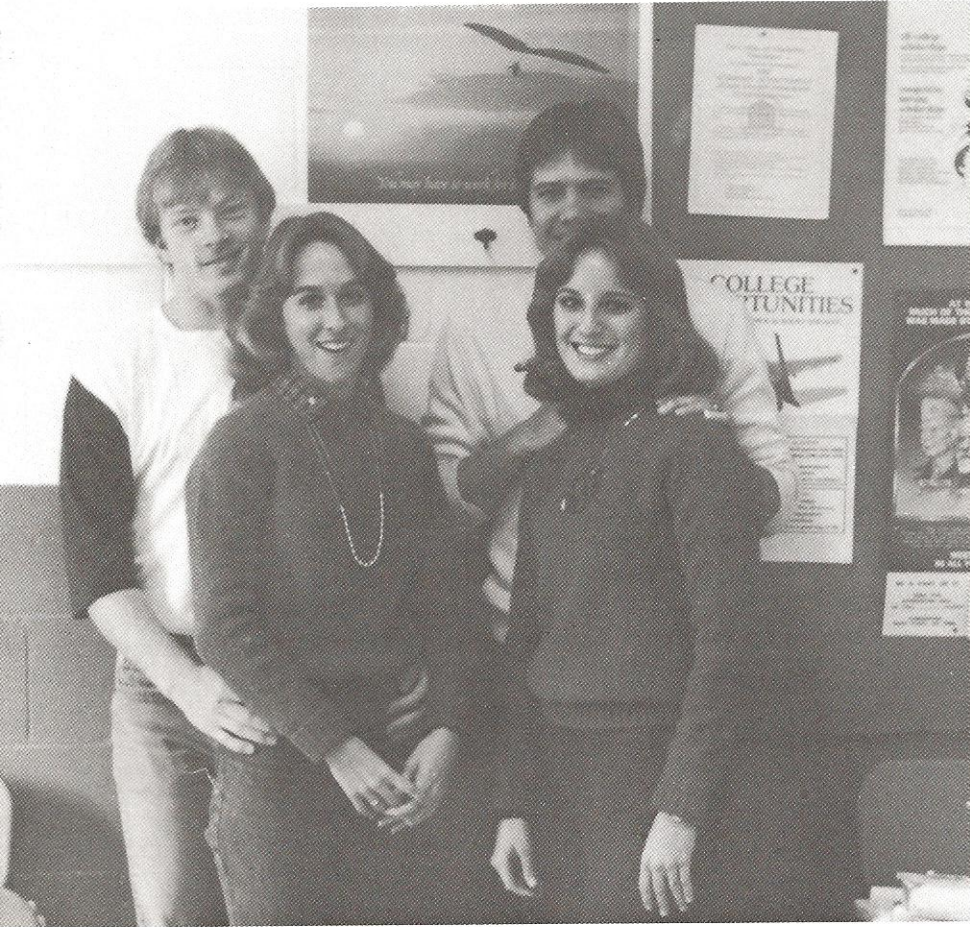

SUMMER

Summer is a word that always brings a smile. It is a time for going to the beach, taking vacations, working, or just being lazy. For most students, there is a special event that stands out about their summer and carries them through the school year. It may have been a certain party, a new friend, or a summer romance. Someone may have just learned to water ski at the end of the summer and can't wait to try it again. On those scorching hot days, football practice seemed to never end; but the players could await the start of the season with anticipation. If school starts to get you down, remember that there are always those three months of sun and fun to look forward to ... summer!

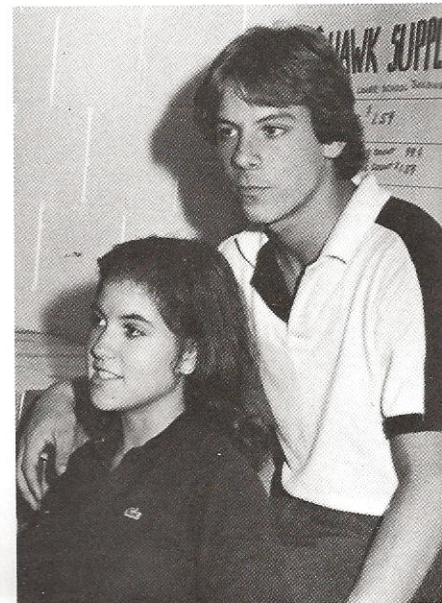

LOVE

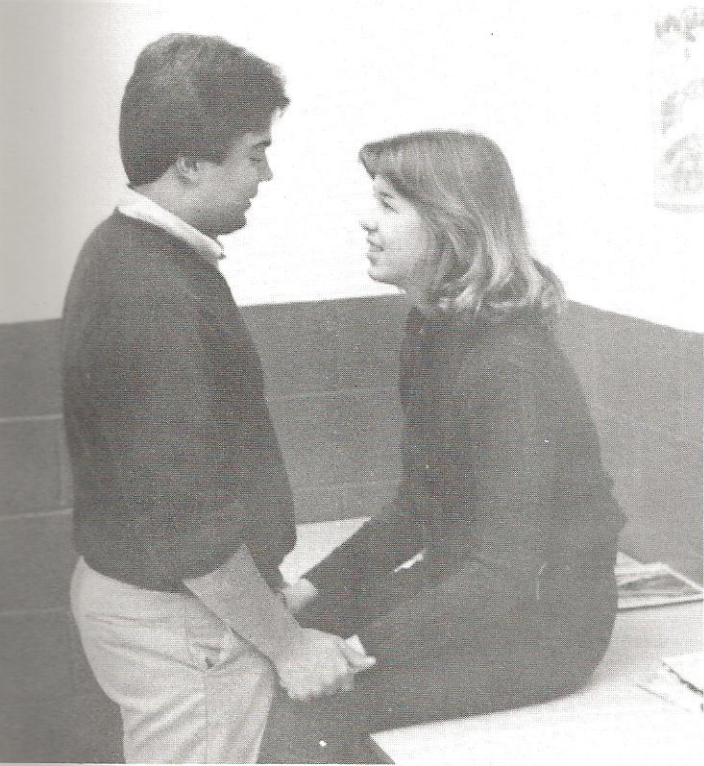

What is love? It is the special feeling one has for relatives, teachers, girlfriends, or boy-friends. It is parents going to sporting events to see their children play and the devotion students have for John C. Calhoun Academy.

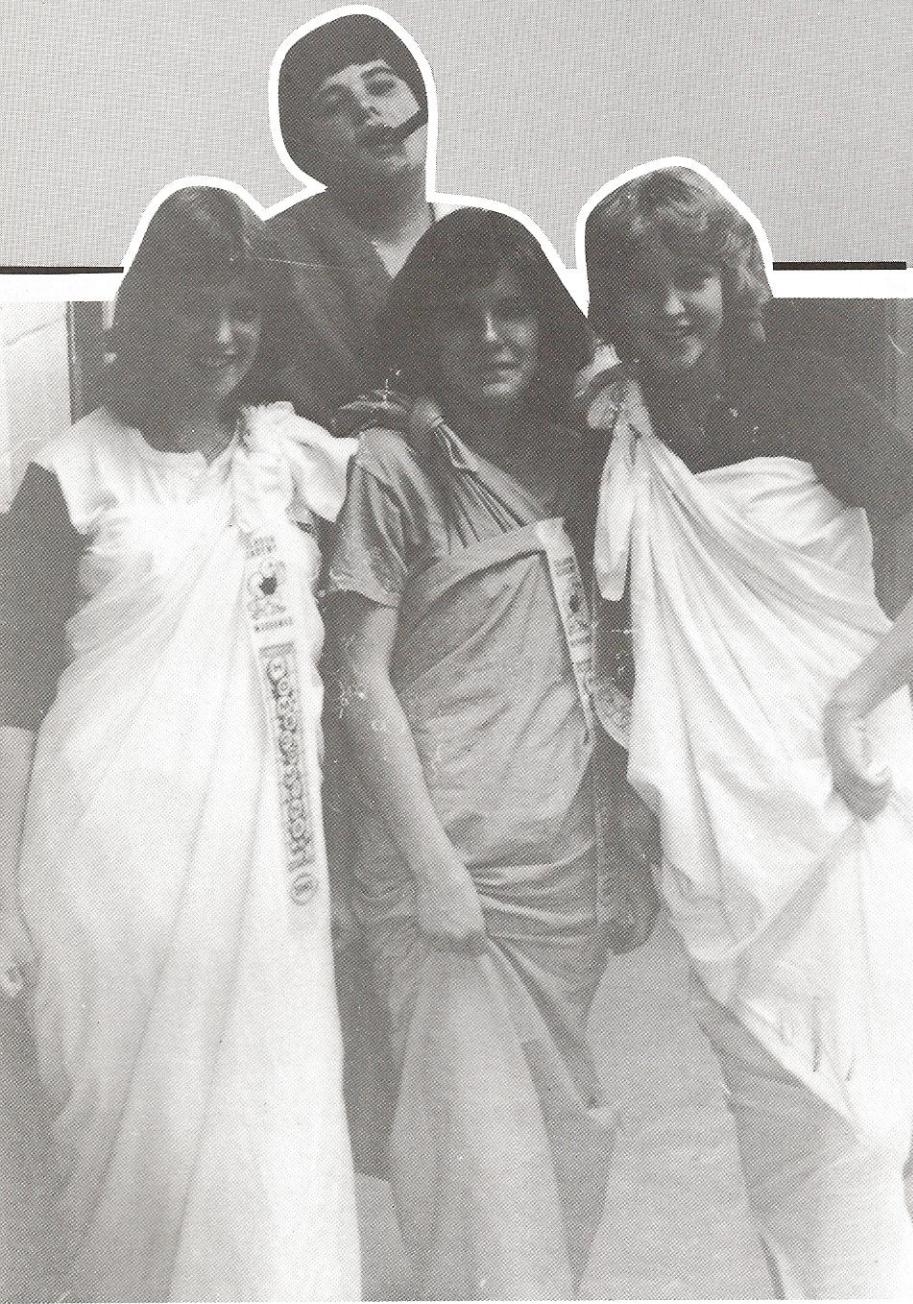

Love starts at an early age. When little boys pick on little girls, they actually consider them to be their girlfriends. As girls get older, they tend to have crushes on high school boys and feel as if they will faint when that certain boy walks by. Teenage love becomes more real with couples dating and going to parties and dances; however, along with the fun and happiness comes the heartaches, jealousy, and tears. Although some of these "loves" may die away, they will never be forgotten!

SPIRIT

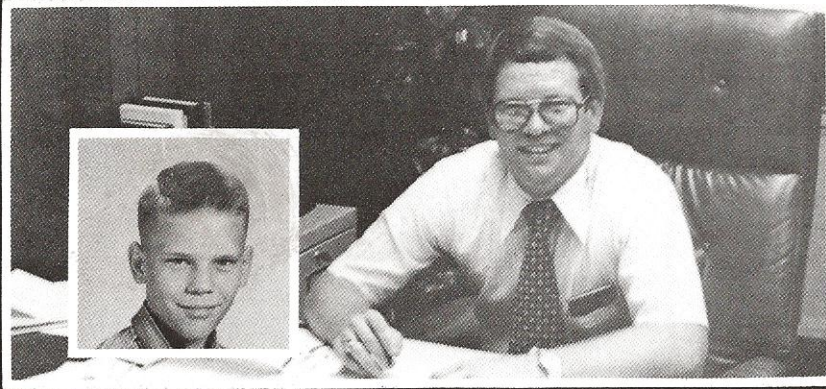

Spirit is the pep and excitement seen around our school, whether it is in the classroom, on the basketball court, or at band practice. Wherever it is found, spirit plays an important part in unifying our student body. This year the students realized that no matter how much time and energy are put into a team or group activity, it cannot succeed without enthusiastic participation and support. The fans, cheerleaders, teammates, and students now have the much needed pride and confidence in John C. Calhoun Academy.

Most of our teachers have a positive outlook on the schools of today. However, they feel that there is a need for more discipline in the schools in order to help students take advantage of the opportunities offered to them. The teachers' goals center around the need and potential of each student: "They hold the key to many doors."

When our teachers were students, they enjoyed school, especially the extracurricular activities. Some felt that teachers were people to be looked up to. As students, they set high goals for themselves, and most have reached those goals or are still working towards them. One teacher reminisced, "I knew that if I did not take advantage of the opportunity to learn, I would never be the person I was capable of becoming."

The senior year is the year memories are made. Hearts grow closer and friends become dearer than ever before. This is the year of triumphal laughter and desperate tears. And on that fateful graduation night, the tears unite with the laughter and roll down our cheeks in inexpressible joy. That night is the night that we, the seniors, leave our childhood behind and accept the role of responsibility, and it will linger in our hearts and minds forever.

Student Spotlight

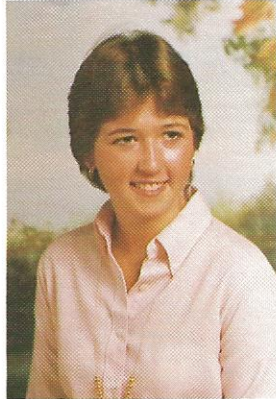

Mimi Miyamota, from Saitama, Japan, is our first exchange student. She lives with Mrs. Blocker, who, according to Mimi, is a great teacher, mother, and cook.

Homemade biscuits are her favorite American food, and American Bandstand is her favorite show. Adapting to life at John C. has been hard for Mimi. She says the teachers talk too fast, and she can't understand our slang. Mimi feels that American students don't appreciate their freedom and privileges.

Senior Life

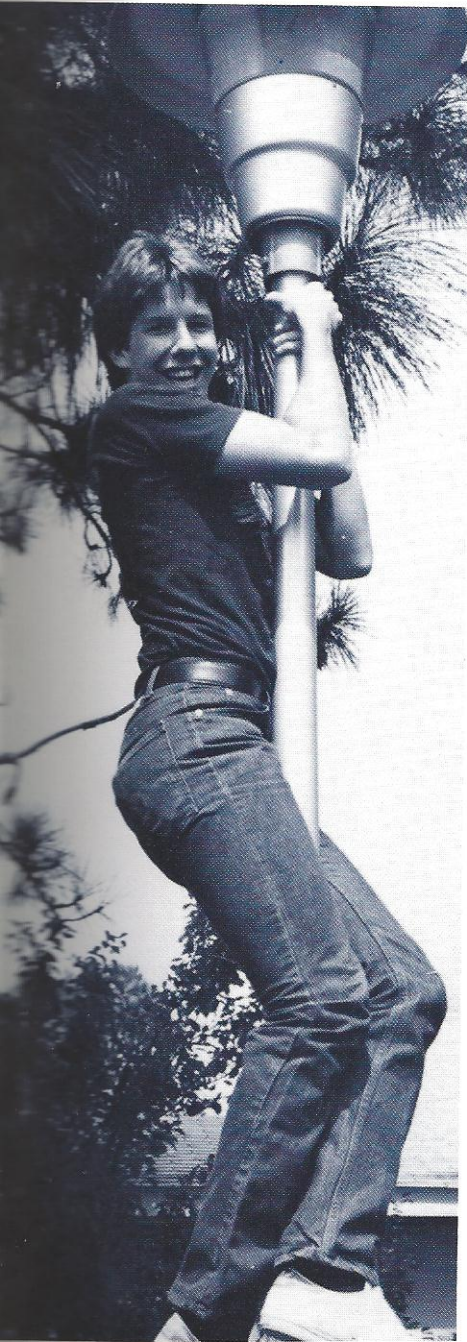

Being a senior is something everyone anticipates throughout his school years. Your senior year is the highlight of all the high school years. There are so many things to look forward to — senior privileges, the senior trip, Jr.-Sr., and making plans for college or for going straight to work. It's the end of the carefree, exciting, and sometimes frustrating life of a teenager, but it's the beginning of something altogether new and exciting. After graduation, it's time to become the mature person that John C. has made you. Remember, today's seniors are tomorrow's leaders.

The hectic life of a senior is driving Mark Davis crazy!

The seniors use their study hall very wisely.

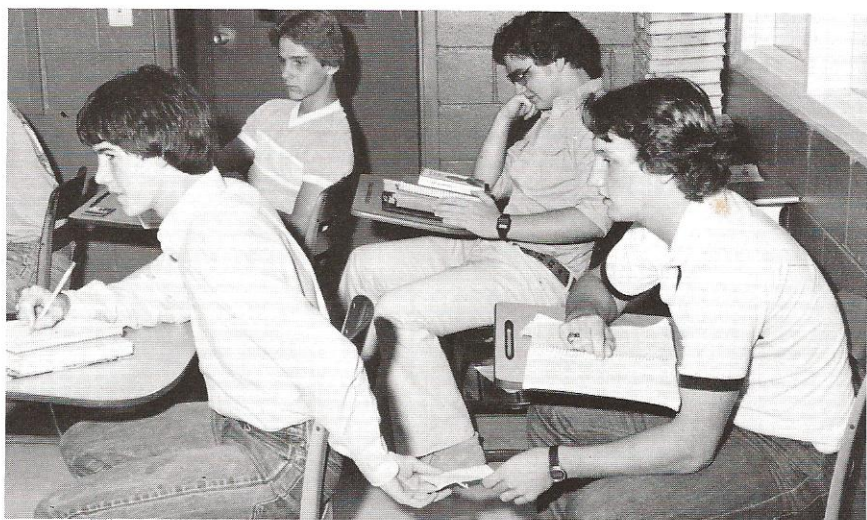

Michelle Beach enjoying a phone conversation.

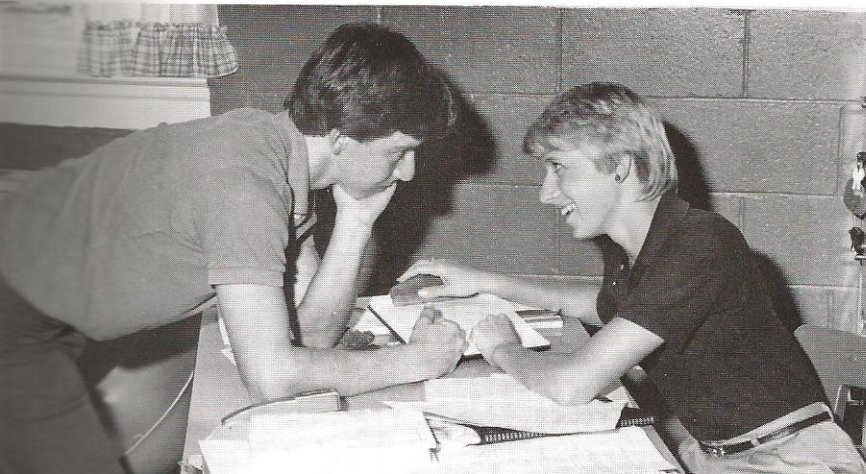

Bruce Hensley demonstrating his climbing skill.

The senior class of 1982 all gathered at Dairy Land.

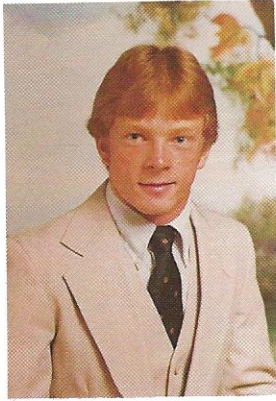

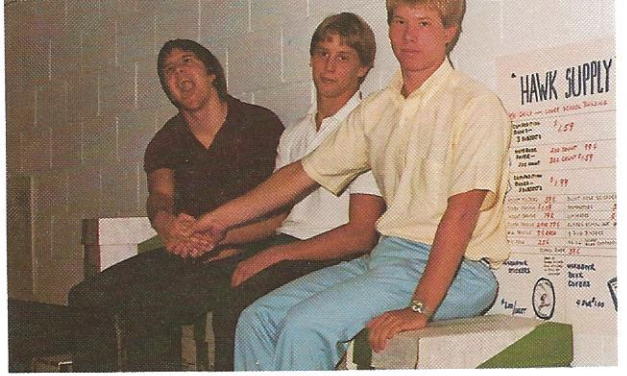

Mark McRoy passes a juicy note to Johnny Smoak.

Kelly Rister tries to explain something to John Hydrick.

The goal of most seniors for their senior year is just to graduate. Some just want to enjoy themselves and stay out of trouble.

Mr. And Miss Warhawk

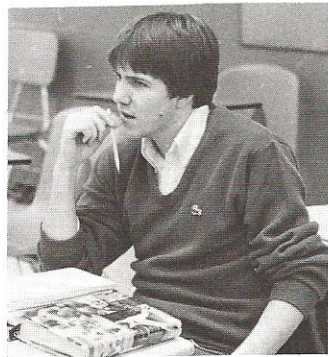

Mr. and Miss Warhawk are chosen each year by the faculty. This year Michelle Beach and Mark Socha were chosen. Mr. and Miss Warhawk represent the ideal characteristics in the senior boy and girl — leadership, citizenship, congeniality, etc. When Michelle and Mark were asked what they liked most and least about their senior year, they both had very different feelings. Michelle liked best the feeling of relaxation. She knew she could just sit back and let the juniors take over. She liked least knowing that this was her last year at John C. Mark's favorite thing was Pre-Calculus. What he liked least was the thought of leaving his friends. Mark and Michelle represent all of the senior superlatives wrapped up into one.

Wittiest

The wittiest of the senior class are Jane Ulmer and Mark Socha. These two are always telling jokes and spreading smiles. Mark and Jane are usually behind whatever's going on in the senior class. Both are active members of the Broadcast Club where they use their sense of humor to help make a lively show. Their personalities and wit make them fun people to be around!

Most Congenial

The whole class of 1982 is friendly and fun to be around, but they chose from themselves Debbie Carroll, Robbie Robertson, and Jimmy Mitchell as most congenial. These seniors are always seen in the halls of John C. with smiles. All three have great personalities which help to make them just all around "good guys."

Most Promising

The class of 1982 chose Michelle Beach and Walter Hiott as most promising. These two seniors were known for their intelligence. Both hope to pursue careers in medicine. Michelle plans to attend Converse College, while Walter is as of yet unsure which college he will attend. Walter and Michelle are sure to make the class of 1982 proud!

Most School-Spirit

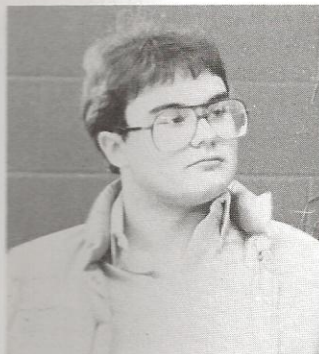

Elaine Flowers and Bruce Hensely were the most enthusiastic seniors. Elaine has been cheering on the Warhawks for many years. She has shown her spirit through victory and defeat. Bruce is an active member of "Bouton's Baboons." Both involve themselves in school activities and encourage student involvement.

Most Conscientious

Debbie Carroll and Walter Hiott were chosen as the most conscientious seniors. They always do more than their share on any project they're involved with. Walter and Debbie are sought after by both teachers and students for their dependability. A conscientious person is one who is committed to anything he does. Both Walter and Debbie exemplify these qualities in everything they do.

Most Athletic

Kelly Rister and Sheldon Girardeau were the most athletic seniors. Both have been active in sports throughout their school years. Their achievements have been recognized by many Sheldon was selected to be on two all-state and one all-star football team. During the Warhawk Invitational, both were asked to be on the all-star teams. These two seniors have greatly helped John C.'s athletic program.

Miss DAR

The faculty chose Debbie Carroll as Miss DAR this year. Miss DAR is a citizenship award given annually by the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Debbie plans to attend Baptist College where she hopes to minor in music. She is unsure of her major, but is seriously considering computer engineering.

Danforth Award

Walter Hiott was chosen for the Danforth Award this year. Walter was chosen on the basis of his potential for service and leadership in his adult years. Walter certainly has the characteristic of leadership. He was president of the student body as well as co-captain of the football team. He is sure to show these qualities in the future.

What does it mean to be a Junior? To the Class of '83, it means lots of hard work! Raising money was the chief goal of the year. The main project was the magazine sale, in which they almost reached their goal of $12,000. Some other out-of-school projects were planned. Getting high school rings and taking S.A.T.'s were another big part of the Junior year. Harold Blocker best summed up the attitude of the majority of the Juniors when he was heard saying, "Only one more year until graduation!" All in all, being a Junior is a lot of fun, and not one member of the Class of 1983 would pass it up.

According to the students, being a sophomore involves a great deal of hard work. This year is especially significant because nearly all of the tenth grade can drive. When it comes to a favorite subject, the classes are divided between Geometry and Biology. They look forward to their last years at John C., and most hope to attend college after graduation.

When the TALON Staff took a survey of the ninth grade, they found a lot out about the freshmen at John C. Their favorite extracurricular activities were football for the boys and powderpuff for the girls. The ninth grade chose science as their favorite subject mainly because Miss Boynton is their favorite teacher. They love the beach, music by AC/DC, and eating!

The eighth graders love being in the high school building. The only disadvantage, they say, is that now they are the youngest and they get "pushed around" by the older students. They agree that health is their favorite subject. Overall, they like the teachers, but the eighth graders say that this year even more time is required for homework and that the teachers expect much more from the students.

The seventh graders showed their enthusiasm this year by their participation in extra-curricular activities. Many were involved in band, football, basketball, and cheering as well as other outside activities. Because they are so spirited, they won the spirit stick many times. When asked what they liked most about the seventh grade, the girls replied Coach Faris, while the boys replied the girls!

Six Graders Must Adjust To The Changes This Year

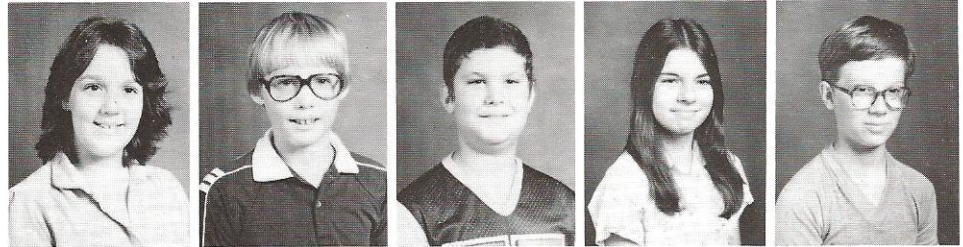

The first six weeks of the sixth grade is a time of adjustment for students. They now have four teachers instead of one and each teacher has his or her own special way of conducting class and all expect and demand a great deal of responsibility from each student. Once this adjustment has been made, students enjoy (or pretend to enjoy) the changing of classes. Some students become "clock watchers" very early in the year and count down the minutes until the bell to end the period will ring when they first enter the classroom.

In the survey of the third grade, some interesting things were found. Math was their favorite subject with social studies running close behind. This year is very important to a lot of six and seven year olds. It's the first grade and they are learning many important things. They learn how to read and take dictation. Also, they are taught to add and subtract as well as to count money and tell time. They write stories and poems and do many exciting science experiments. The first graders have many favorite things about their grade like the priviledge of buying lunch at the canteen. They also love music and going to the library.

When the kindergarten was asked what they liked most about their first year in school, most replied that they enjoyed coloring. They also loved riding on the fire truck earlier in the year. Since then, most boys have thought about becoming truck drivers. As for the girls, most of them decided to be teachers.

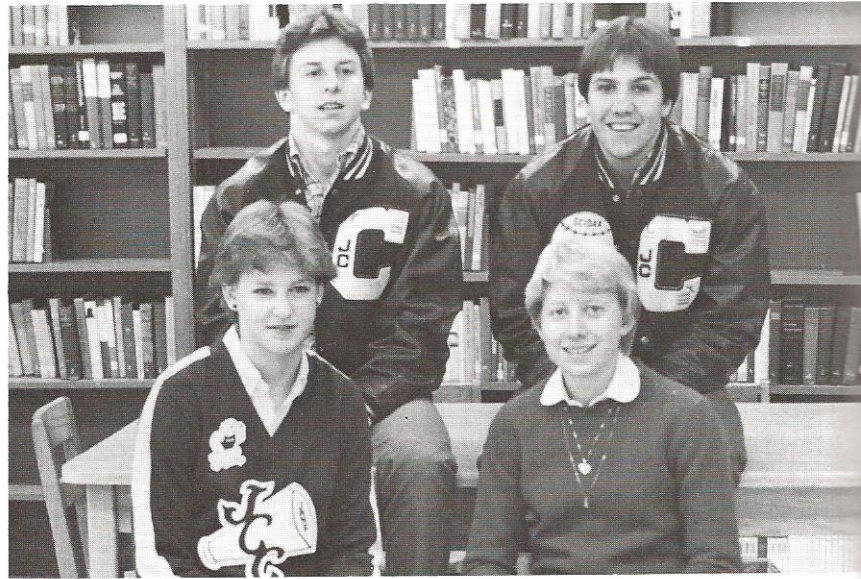

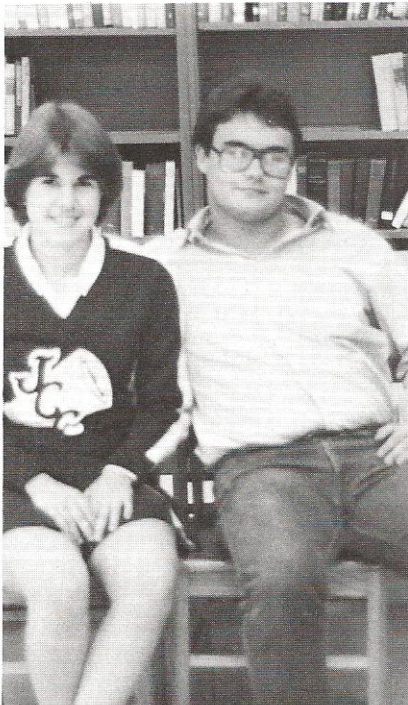

The Chosen Few

Michelle Beach and Walter Hiott, the two top-ranked Seniors, are Furmen Scholars.

Walter Hiott attended Governor's School last summer at the College of Charleston.

Candace Goodwin is a National Merit Finalist because of her high score on the PSAT.

John Hydrick and Mark Socha went to Boys' State last July at the Citadel, and Jane Ulmer and Kelly Rister attended Girls' State which was held at U.S.C.

Gary Headden, Walter Hiott, Michelle Beach, and Candace Goodwin are part of the Wofford Scholarship Program, the oldest academic scholarship program in the nation. Debbie Carroll and David Justice are also Wofford Scholars but are not pictured.

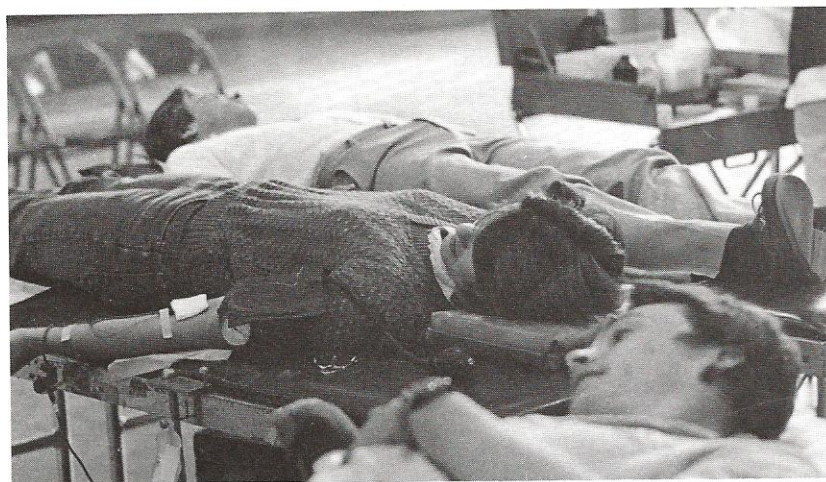

Activities

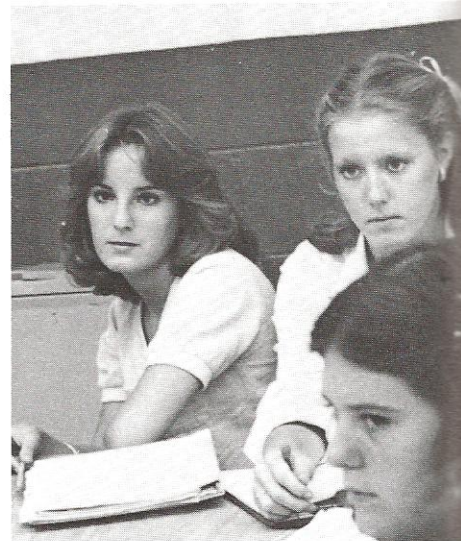

Encouraging Student Involvement

In the spring of last year, the student body elected 1981-82 officers of Student Council. Pres. Walter Hiott, Vice-Pres. Lesley Foster, and Sec./Treas. Carmen Long were installed during a ceremony held in the gym at the beginning of this school term. Other members were the 8th-12th grade presidents and homeroom representatives. The Council, advised by Mrs. Wimberly and Miss Boynton, sponsored many activities to increase student involvement. The Student Council held a costume contest for the seniors at Halloween, participated in the blood drive, sponsored both Teacher Appreciation Week and Clean-Up Week, and decorated the high school class doors. Members also sold bumper stickers and visors to cover the cost of Homecoming activities.

Randy Addison, a Student Council representative for the past two years, believes the primary function of Student Council is "to manage some of the school affairs for the students." He also said, "It is a good feeling to take part in the government of the school."

Some Of The Few, Some Of The Finest

The John C. chapter of the National Honor Society, advised by Mrs. Linder, is made up of juniors and seniors who have a grade point average of 90 or above. Officers of the Society were Pres. Elaine Flowers, Vice-Pres. David Justice, and Sec./Treas. Kelly Rister.

The new members are inducted each year into the Society at an impressive candle-lighting ceremony. A reception for the parents and members follows in the school library.

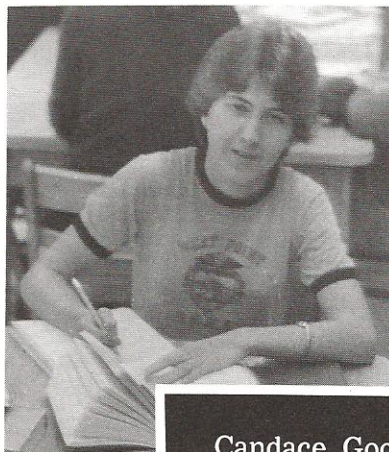

Members inducted this year were juniors Jodi Baggett, Anne Dodd, Paige Farish, Lesley Foster, Rhonda Johns, Dowl Knight, Gale Nettles, Beth Powers, Becky Sams, and Paulette Warren. The seniors inducted were Scott Dean and Jean McJunkin. Membership of the National Honor Society also included 16 seniors who were installed during their junior year.

Grace Ann Mitchell, a member of the Talon Staff, feels that she has helped to make this the best annual ever by "helping people meet their deadlines by final copying." Many of the section editors would agree since Grace Ann was always willing to do much more than her share.

The Talon Staff worked hard to produce a yearbook which would provide memories of the 1981-82 school year. Last June, five members of the staff and their advisor, Mrs. Susan Nettles, attended the Josten's Yearbook Workshop at Presbyterian College. They learned numerous ideas and received "honorable mention" for their layout design.

Many people do not realize how much time and effort are put into creating an annual. There are layouts to be drawn, pictures to be taken, copy to be written, and deadlines to be met! Although it consumes many hours, it is very rewarding. It would not have been possible to produce the Talon without the section editors, photographers, the other members, and Mrs. Nettles who is so very understanding.

(Above), Photographer Bruce Hensely has magical powers of being 20 places at once to take pictures. Somehow we found him!

Don't Stop The Press

The Warhawk, John C.'s own newspaper, was published 4 times during the year. Highlights were the Christmas edition and the special senior edition. The staff worked diligently to insert different types of articles into the newspaper. For example, a Mystery Teacher section was added. Clues were given about a teacher beginning with the letters in mystery teacher. Another added feature this year was the inclusion of the Citizenship awards presented to different students in grades 1-7. The Ideal Girl and Boy section was also changed somewhat. More areas were added such as personality; smile; physique, for boys; and body, for girls. Each publication included other articles concerning campus and community news. The members of the staff tried to recognize as many people as possible, both young and old.

The Warhawk once again had four able editors. Feature Editor Debbie Carroll was responsible for articles such as Melody Mix-Up, ABC's, and Ideal Boy and Girl. Kelly Rister, News Editor, kept everyone up-to-date on all the interesting news stories. Sports Editor Walter Hiott made sure everyone was informed about the sports scene at John C. Rhonda Bailey, Managing Editor, was responsible for the financial matters.

(Above), They may be too young to read The Warhawk, but these kindergartners support the paper.

(At right), Lesley Foster and Pam Gustin check an article for errors.

Jodi Baggett, reporter for The Warhawk, gave her definition of freedom of the press. She said, "Being able to write anything that you feel like writing is freedom. It's your own ideas, and the way you see it; not the way people want you to see it."

On The Air

This year's Broadcasting Club, under the guidance of Mrs. Blocker, was divided into two groups, Alpha and Beta. Each group met every other Thursday night to tape the show that aired the following Saturday night at 11:30 on WALD. Each program consisted of campus news, local news, and school sports. Also, album features and comedy routines were aired. One featured comedy routine was the continuing saga of Wilfredo's Island, the story of a narcotics agent Neydermeir and two drug dealers, Wilfredo and Pepe, who were marooned on a desert island.

Jimmy Mitchell, Walter Hiott, and David Justice participated in the USC News Quiz Show. Although they lost, they represented the club and school well.

Mrs. Tramel was the advisor of the French Club for the third year. The Club began the new school year with a party and cook-out at member Angela Southard's house. Everyone was introduced to a little French culture when Mrs. Tramel demonstrated the proper way to make crepes. After that, all the members wanted to try flipping the crepes.

The Club was busy throughout the year with different outings and fund raising projects, including several cake raffles. Most of the money raised went towards prizes awarded at the end of the year to the best French I, II, and III students. The officers who were instrumental in these activities were Pres. Lesley Foster, Vice-Pres. Grace Ann Mitchell, and Sec./Treas. Paige Grayson.

Experiments And Action

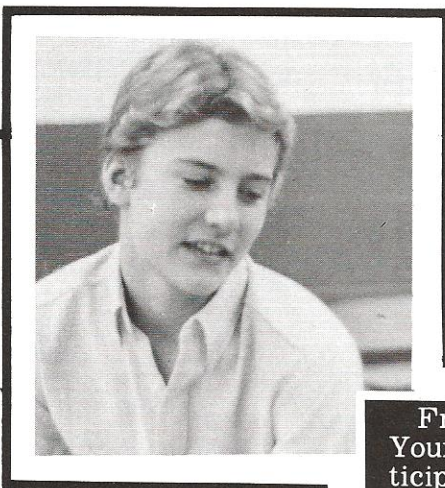

The Science Club, sponsored by Miss Boynton and Mr. Hartshorn, started its second year of existence with the election of officers. The officers chosen were Pres. Todd Buddin, Vice-Pres. Joey Ritter, and Sec-/Treas. Carlton Progoski. The Club also made many plans for the upcoming year. Their biggest goal, a trip to Cape Canaveral in Florida, seemed almost impossible. They began raising money by having carwashes, bake sales, cake raffles, rummage sales, and even a bike-athon. The Science Club also planned to give a scholarship to a student pursuing a career in the field of science.

Freshman Rob Young enjoyed participating in the money-raising projects of the Science Club. He said that he had the most fun at the car wash, where he could drive the cars. "The best part was seeing everyone soaking wet, especially Mr. Hartshorn," said Rob.

Marching Right Along

The 1981-82 Marching Warhawks were under the direction of first year band director Mr. Eddie Lemacks. Although small in number, this year's band had determination and the ability to win. They worked hard last summer at a band camp held August 10-14 at John C. Gale Nettles, first year Drum Major, also attended the Drum Major Corp at USC July 9-11. They presented exciting half-time shows and participated in different competitions throughout the year. The band received a 2nd place trophy at Barnwell on October 3 and also competed in the Palmetto Band Classic held in Walterboro on October 10. However, the greatest honor was when our Marching Warhawks won 3rd place in the State competitions held October 24. They showed everyone what they were capable of doing. The band also presented two concerts, one at Christmas and one in the spring.

Johnny Smoak, a member of the band for five years, plays the trombone. He was selected to perform with both the U.S. Navy Band and the band for the Governor's Tree Lighting Ceremony. Johnny claims that what he enjoyed most about the band was "the band trips!"

On Our Way

Lynn Smith, Jr. Band member, has been playing the clarinet three years. Lynn doesn't mind all the practice because she realizes hard work is necessary to achieve her goal of "playing and marching with the big band and going with them to competitions."

The Beginner and Junior Band, directed by Mr. Eddie Lemacks, was made up of students in grades 4-7. The band met once a week during school hours to practice; however, each member had to practice every day at home. All these aspiring musicians hope to one day be a proud member of the Marching Warhawk Band. With so many dedicated and hardworking Junior and Beginner Band members, John C. can be assured of having a winning band for many years to come.

Spirit Week

The week of the big Homecoming game was Spirit Week at John C. The cheerleaders planned a special theme for each day to promote more school spirit. Monday was T-shirt Day. On Tuesday, Slob Day, the students enjoyed coming to school in their worst. Wednesday was 50's Day, and poodle skirts, bobbi socks, and leather jackets could be seen. Thursday was Occupation Day, and Friday was Original Blue and White Day.

Sponsor Me, Please!

The high school girls dreamed of hearing these three words in the weeks preceding the Homecoming football game. They knew what an honor it would be to be asked to sponsor one of the senior football players. This year there were 13 senior players, Robbie Robertson, Sheldon Girardeau, Mark Socha, John Hydrick, Mark Davis, Madison Utsey, Mark McRoy, Walter Hiott, Davie Strickland, Jamie Smoak, Greg Barnes, Jimmy Mitchell, and Richard Breland. Each of these players escorted his sponsor onto the field before the game.

And Here She Is

The senior class nominated three Homecoming Queen candidates, Anne Black, Debbie Carroll, and Elaine Flowers, who were then voted on by the high school students. At half-time of the football game, Elaine Flowers was crowned 1981-82 Homecoming Queen. In addition to this honor, Elaine was Head Varsity Cheerleader, co-captain of the Varsity Girl's Basketball team, copy editor of the annual, president of the National Honor Society, a member of the tennis team, and Powder Puff participant.

Southern Nights

What lasted only one brief night, but required a whole year of preparation? The Junior-Senior Dance is the answer. Last autumn when school started so did the money-raising business.

The juniors who were in charge of the prom, worked throughout the year trying to raise enough money to have the best prom ever. They sold magazines, Christmas ornaments, candles, candy at both school and baseball games, doughnuts, and food from the lunch canteen to cover the costs of the dance.

The theme of the 1981 Junior-Senior was "Southern Nights." The gym was decorated with a wagon filled with cotton bales, a buggy, a gazebo, a beautiful garden, and plantation murals, all bringing to mind a vivid picture of the Old South. The tables were decorated with white candles, magnolia leaves, and cross-stitch favors. The band Seaboard provided the music for the night.

Powderpuff — It's War!

The annual Powder Puff game was played on November 18 with the juniors making a tremendous comeback to win the game in overtime 20-14. At one point, the senior girls led 14-0 on Kelly Rister's rushing. But Tandy Young and company refused to die. Both teams regarded the game seriously and fought determinedly to win. In fact, the game has developed into a fierce local rivalry that is second only to the Carolina/Clemson contest.

That Spooky Time

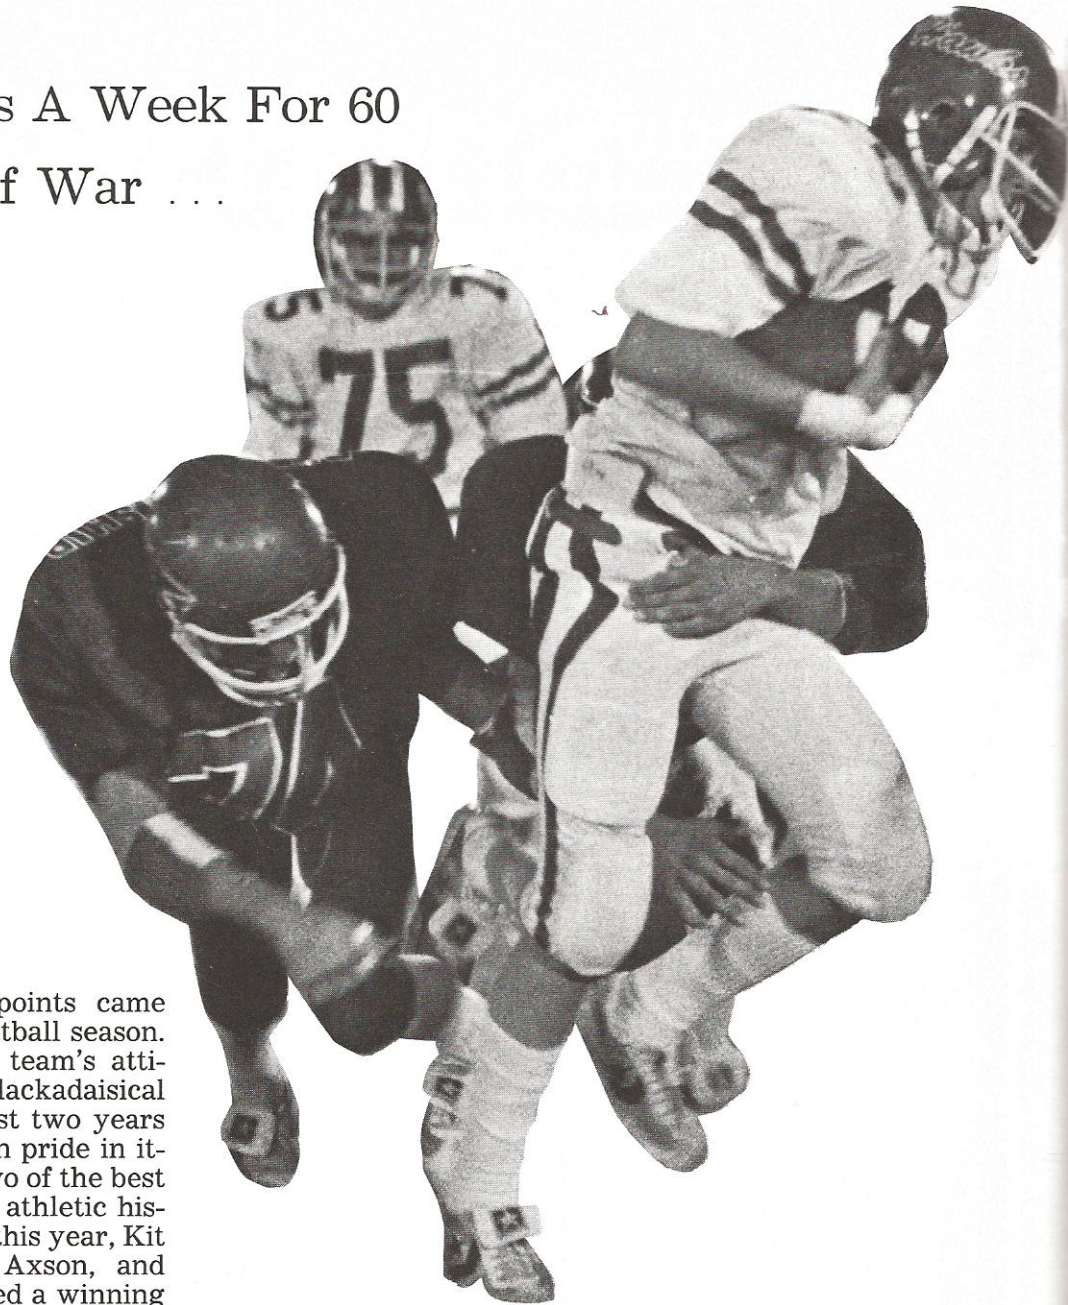

The seniors of '82 carried on the tradition of wearing their costumes to school at Halloween. Once again the seniors came up with some very original costumes, and some participated in the costume contest sponsored by Student Council. Mark Davis, Mark Socha, and John Hydrick, who were each dressed as a die, won the contest.

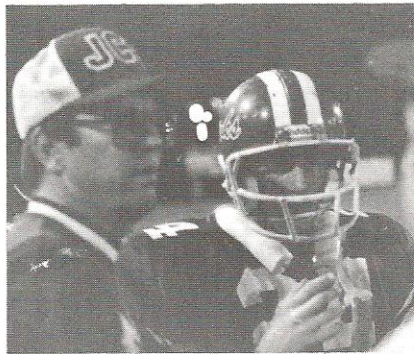

Sports

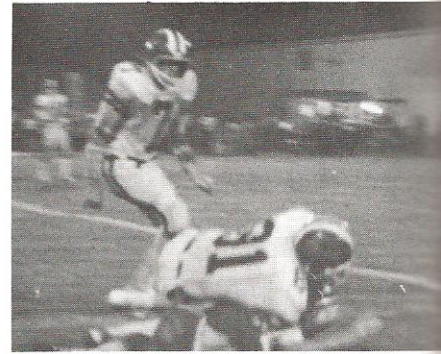

4 Practices A Week For 60 Minutes Of War . . .

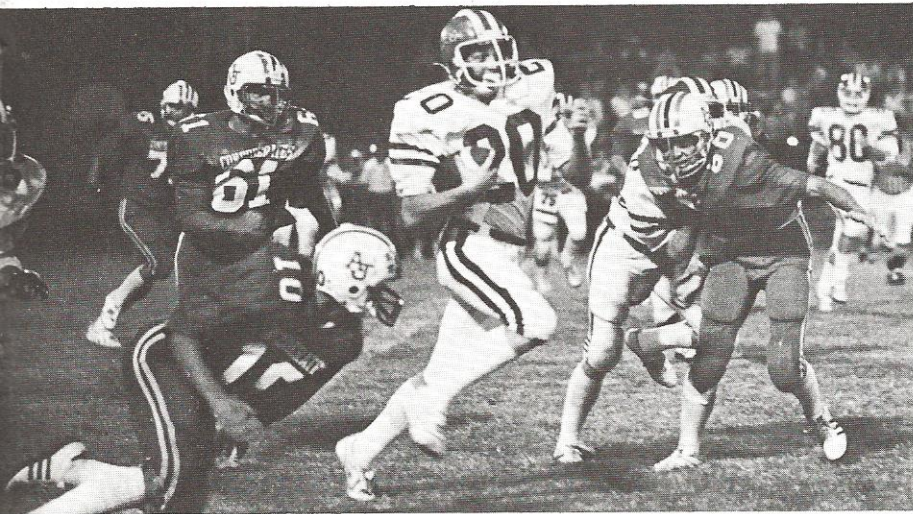

Many positive points came out of the 1981 football season. In past years the team's attitude has been a lackadaisical one; but in the past two years the team has taken pride in itself and has had two of the best records in John C. athletic history. The coaches this year, Kit Alewine, Robert Axson, and Rhea Faris, instilled a winning tradition on the Warhawk football team. The team proved a lot of things in 1981, especially to the fans, who supported the squad through thick and thin. The final record of 6-4 was an improvement from last year, but losses to Hammond and Thomas Heyward ruined the Hawks' hopes to be State Champions. The Talon Staff would like to thank Dan Johnson and The Press and Standard for allowing them to use some of their pictures in the annual.

Graduation '82

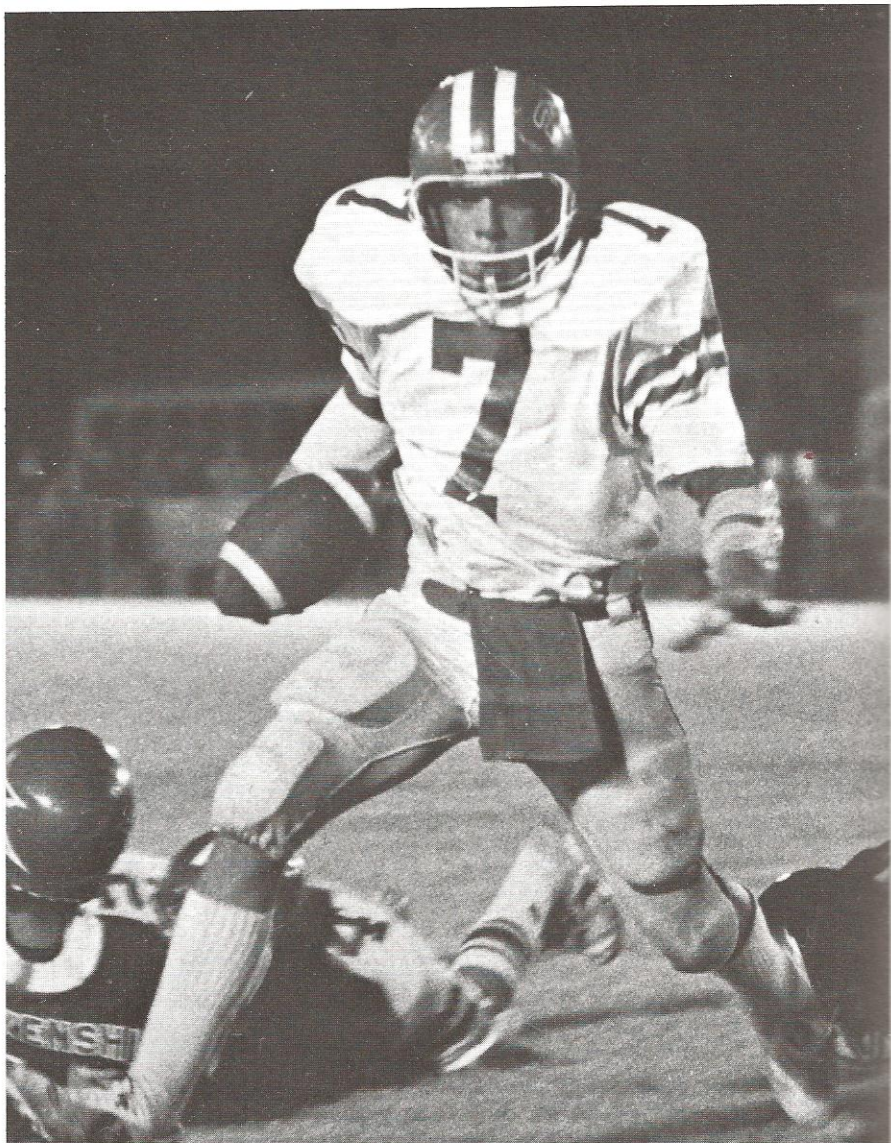

Graduation will take its toll on the '82 edition of the Warhawk football team. The Hawks will lose All-State candidates Mark Socha and Sheldon Girardeau who helped to keep order in the backfield. The offensive backs will incur the loss of Robbie Robertson, Mark Davis, and John Hydrick. Walter Hiott, Greg Barnes, Jamie Smoak, Davie Strickland, Madison Utsey, and Jimmy Mitchell will be lost in the line. We wish all the senior players the best of luck!

Sheldon Girardeau runs outside for sure yardage.

Mark Davis gets tackled going through the line.

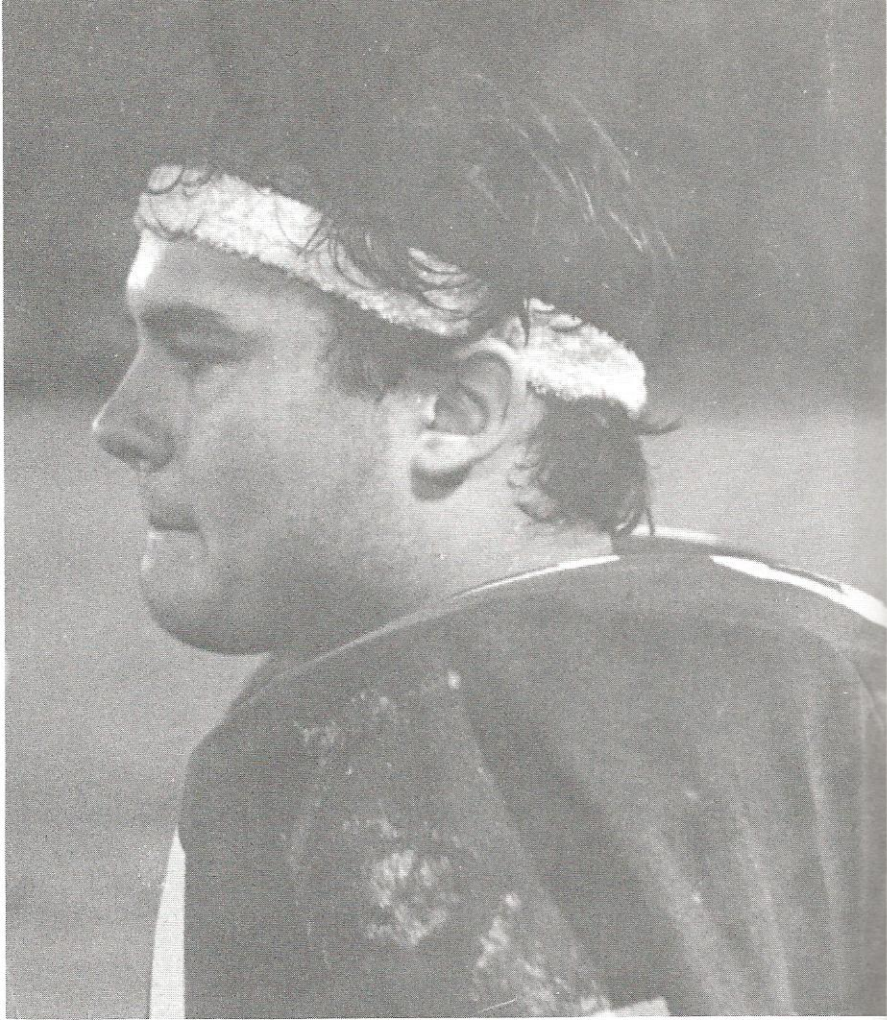

Coach Alewine and Mark Socha watch the game with grave concern.

Ricky Turner breaks loose for a great run.

'81 Season

A very enthusiastic Warhawk team traveled to Ehrhardt on Sept. 4 to play Andrew Jackson in the first game of the football season. With revenge on their minds, the Hawks proved themselves to the Confederates with a decisive win and a score of 49-7. The following Friday, Jefferson Davis came to town for John C.'s first home game. The vigorous Hawks beat the Raiders 26-0. The team's first loss of 7-8 was against Wilson Hall. J.C.C.A. won on statistics but lost due to questionable calls. Wade Hampton was next on the schedule. The Hawks got a touchdown and two points just before the half and held the lead for an 8-0 victory. The team then played Robert E. Lee. Although it was a fight-marred game, the Warhawks defeated the Cavaliers 26-0. The game with Hammond was a very important one in John C.'s hopes to go to the state playoffs. The score was 0-0 at the half, but the bigger and stronger Hammond team wore down the Hawks in the second half and won 28-0. The Homecoming game against Williamsburg proved to be exciting. The Warhawks overpowered the Stallions for a 36-6 triumph. Thomas Heyward handed J.C.C.A. their third loss in Ridgeland with a score of 30-0. The loss shattered the Hawks' final hopes to go to the playoffs. In the next game, John C. came from behind in the fourth quarter to defeat Willington 21-14. May River came to Walterboro for the final game of the season. The Patriots' quick defense never allowed the Warhawks to be effective on the scoreboard, and they won 19-0. J.C.C.A. ended their season with a disappointing loss but with a solid record of six wins and four losses.

J.V. Team Ends Season 5-2

The J.V. football team had a terrific season this year with only two losses. These losses were incurred with only AAA teams, Wade Hampton and Willington Academy. However, the team did beat the other five AA and A teams. Robbie Free had a outstanding season. He scored most of the touchdowns for the J.V. Hawks this season. This year the team was coached by Rhea Faris and Robert Axson. With a season ending 5-2, the boys who participated in grades seven through ten should be very proud.

BEST AND WORST

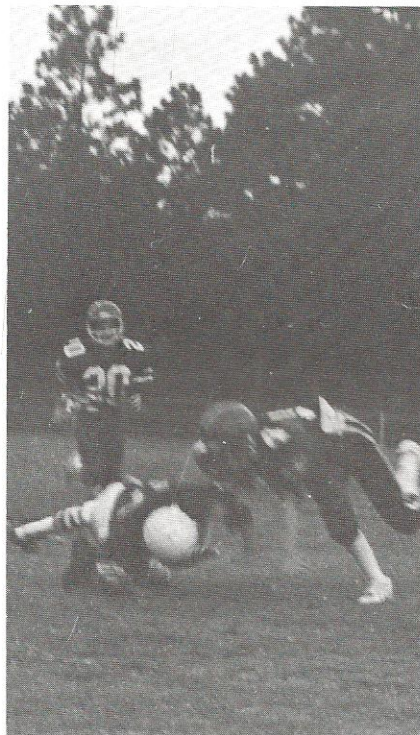

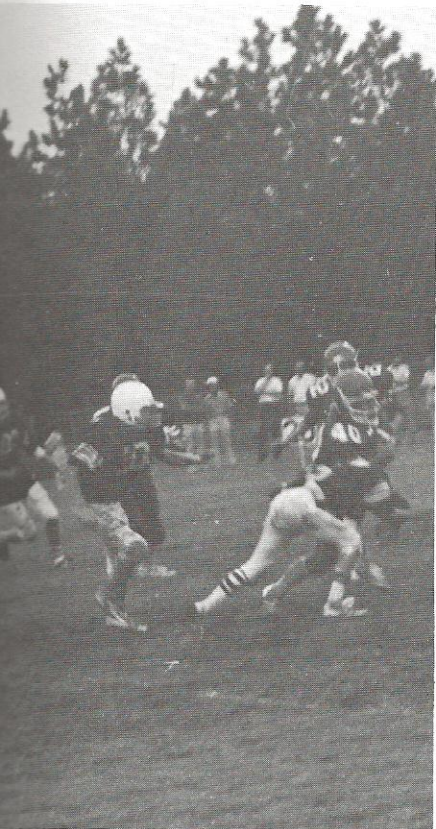

When asked what were the best and worst games of the season, there were various opinions stated. One participant said that the worst game was against Thomas Heyward. However, another said that it had to be against Wade Hampton. In the opinion of other players, most preferred to remember the best games. One athlete exclaimed that he believed the game against Patrick Henry was the best because of the closeness of the score. But, another disagreed. He believed the game against Dorchester was the better of the two. Although the opinions of the worst and best game varied, the team all agreed that they had a very good season.

Working Together Pays Off

This year the Varsity Boys' basketball team was pleased to have a new coach, Mr. Henry Bouton, a 1980 graduate of the Citadel. This was his first high school coaching job; however, he was an assistant coach at P.C. last season. Because the Warhawks were doing so well they were ranked ninth in the state at one point. This was their first ranking since the 1979 season. The Second Annual Warhawk Invitational Tournament was a big success; the boys finished first with wins over Holly Hill and First Baptist. Moreover, Mark Socha and Sheldon Girardeau were chosen for the All-Tournament Team. Girardeau was also chosen Most Valuable Player of the tournament. Graduation will take its toll this year with seven seniors graduating. John Hydrick, Jimmy Mitchell, Mark Socha, Bruce Hensley, Sheldon Girardeau, Gary Headden, and Mark Davis will be missed greatly next season. The Varsity Boys' team was a group of hardworking and energetic individuals. From their successful basketball season, they can clearly see that working together pays off.

Lady Warhawks Gave Their All

The Varsity Girls' Basketball team, under the coaching of Mr. Henry Bouton, was a classic example of the expression that "dynamite comes in small packages." Led by three seniors, Kelly Rister, Elaine Flowers, and Candace Goodwin, the eight-member team was energetic and spirited. The Lady Warhawks suffered some very disappointing losses by only a few points; however, the girls continued to play with determination and perseverance. Once again the team did very well in the Warhawk Invitational Tournament, placing second behind First Baptist.

Sharpshooting Results In A Great Season

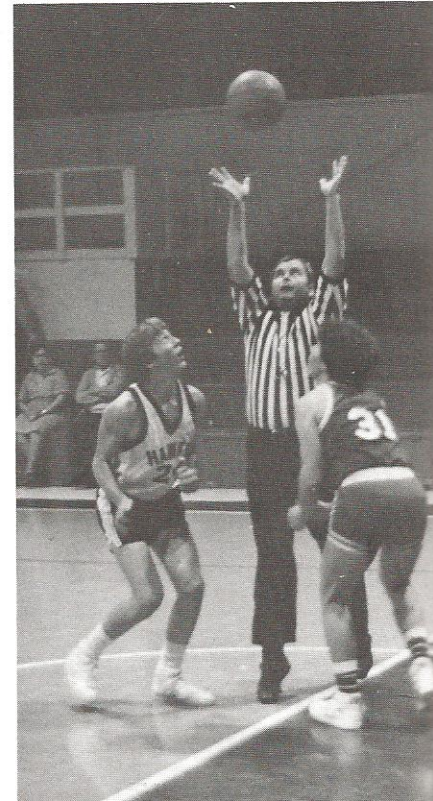

In the middle of the season, the J.V. Boys had done quite well with a record of 9-2. The boys' coach, Mr. Rhea Faris, did a fine job in preparing the Hawks for the season. Although sharpshooter Joey Ritter was off the scene for a while, the boys still showed marked improvement. The J.V. team will suffer great losses next year, because all of the starters and many reserves will move up to Varsity; however, there are younger players who will be able to fill these positions.

J.V. Girls Were Big At Heart

The J.V. girl's basketball team, coached by Mr. Rhea Faris, ended the season with a disappointing record. Although the team suffered many losses, the girls had more enthusiasm than ever. If effort and determination were the factors used to decide the outcome of a game, the Little Lady Hawks would have won every time. With only two freshmen and eleven eighth graders, most of the players are expected to return next season. Good luck to them all.

Squad Promotes Spirit . . .

The Varsity Cheerleaders worked hard this year to promote school spirit and to cheer the Warhawks on to victory. Along with their sponsor, Mrs. Helen Riddle, the cheerleaders attended a camp sponsored by the Universal Cheerleaders' Association at Columbia College last July. While working vigorously at camp, they learned many routines, cheers, sideline yells, and ways to involve the fans and students in athletic activities. In addition, they performed a comedy skit on Talent Night. Each day the squad was evaluated on the performance of cheers that they had learned. They won three "excellent" ribbons and four "superior" ribbons for the evaluations. On the final day of the long, tiring week, all of the girls' efforts proved to be worthwhile when both the Varsity and Junior Varsity squads were awarded one of the coveted "spirit sticks." Their spirit prevailed in supporting the Warhawks in times of victory and defeat. The cheerleaders greatly appreciated the tremendous support of the fans, students, players, and Mrs. Riddle throughout the year.

J.V. District Finalist

Being a Junior Varsity cheerleader at John C. is a great experience and a lot of hard work. Mostly, being a cheerleader is making new friends and cheering your team on to a victory. But, it is also making the fans get involved. The spirit and excitement of the games are times the squad will always treasure. Going to Columbia College for a week session of camp was an effort these girls made to be the very best that they could be. During the summer camp, the squad won five "superior" and three "excellent" ratings from the judges. Furthermore, at the end of the week the cheerleaders were elected as district finalist. A special thanks goes to Mrs. Susan Upchurch, the squad's sponsor.

There's Something Exciting Going On

The Warhawk baseball team headed into the 1981 season as the defending state champions. With the return of many veterans, they had high hopes of retaining the coveted title. Their anticipations were shattered on Friday, May 8 when the Hawks played the Wilson Hall Barons for the conference championship. It was the last game of the best of three series which was tied 1-1. Going into the sixth inning, the score was close with Wilson Hall leading 6-5. The Hawks were unable to score and the Barons went on to edge them, thus ending their chance to move on to the state tournament. The final record, 13-8, did have some bright spots and overall the Warhawks did a fine job. On Awards Night, some of the team were recognized for their excellence: Robbie Robertson, Most Valuable Player; Steve Frazier, Best Offensive Player; Sheldon Girardeau, Best Defensive Player; Johnny Smoak, Hustle Award.

Tennis Anyone?

The Tennis team, coached by Tommy Godwin, had a very successful year with an 8-2 record. The tennis team members were very active throughout their season. While participating in the Rice Festival Tournament, Tandy Young and Kelly Rister each won their singles matches; meanwhile, Dargon Moore and Terry Grayson captured the doubles match. Then it was off to Hilton Head to play in the Dennis Van der Meer Tennis University clinic. In the latter part of the season, the team traveled again to Hilton Head for the State Tournament. For her performance throughout the season, Camie Hughes was selected as a member of the All-Conference team. At the Athletic Banquet, several players received awards for their overall performance: Camie Hughes, Most Valuable Player; Kelly Rister, Hustle Award; Dargon Moore, Most Improved Player.

Expecting Great Things . . .

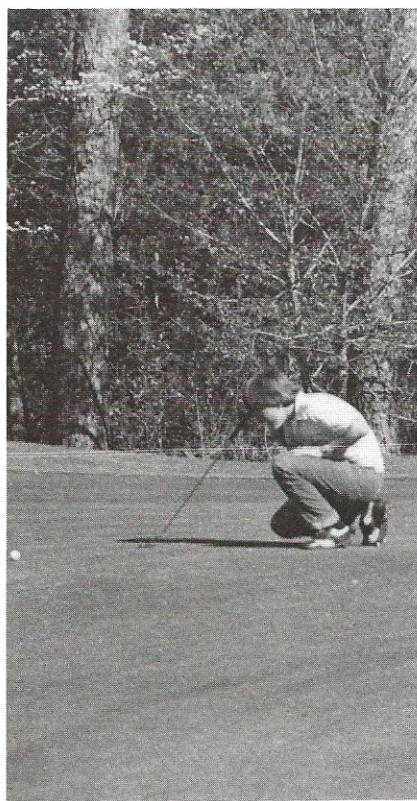

The golf team had a mediocre season in the spring of 1981. The team, coached by Randy Peters, finished the season with a record of 6-5. The golf team as a whole, finished fifth in the state tournament, however, Philip McNair was tied for the individual lead after the first day. With one sixth grader, two seventh graders and three eight graders, great things are expected of the team in the future.

Philip McNair, a Junior and the oldest on the team, has been playing golf for John C. since sixth grade. In the summer prior to his Junior year, he played in two national tournaments. One was the Ping Junior Classic in Myrtle Beach in which he finished fourth. He also won first place in tournaments in Hampton and Orangeburg. When asked where golf fits into his future, Philip replied, "I would like to continue my career in golf at college if possible!"

At the end of the season, Philip McNair was named the Most Valuable Player and the Most Improved Player Award was given to Billy Howell.

A New Team Is Born

The J.V. baseball team, consisting of players in grades 7-9, was established in the spring of 1981 under the guidance of Porter Kennington. The team had a good season, finishing with seven wins, three losses, and one tie. On Awards Night, several players received honors: Joey Ritter, Most Valuable Player; Grover Owens, Best Offense; and Ward Ulmer, Best Defense.

Going For A Win

The girls softball team, coached by Robert Axson and his assistant Rhea Faris, had several close games. The team's strenuous practices and tremendous efforts seemed worthwhile after their first victory over Thomas Heyward. On Awards Night the following awards were given: Cheryl Davis, Best Defensive Player; Monique Fennell, Best Offensive Player; and Beth Wilson, Most Valuable Player.

A Time To Remember

Beauties

Miss Talon

Anne Black

Miss Talon, Anne Black, is the daughter of Mr. E. W. Black and Mrs. Patricia Black. Aside from her school activities which include being a cheerleader and being a member of the Broadcast Club, Anne enjoys swimming, jogging, and horse-back riding. She likes to watch "General Hospital" and to eat stuffed shrimp and steak. After graduation, Anne plans to attend the University of South Carolina to study fasion.

Miss Senior

Debbie Carroll

Debbie Carroll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Carroll, was chosen by her classmates as Miss Senior. In her spare time, she enjoys horse-back riding, ping pong, and playing the piano. Debbie's activities in school include being feature editor of the Warhawk, faculty editor of the annual, and Treasurer of the class of '82. Her favorite food is fried oysters, and she likes the color pink. After graduation this year, Debbie hopes to attend Baptist College.

Miss Junior

Becky Sams

Miss Junior, Becky Sams, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion W. Sams, Jr. Becky is also a varsity cheerleader, co-editor of the annual, and a member of the Student Council. Her favorite color is blue and "General Hospital" is her top-rated television show. Painting, water skiing, and going to Clemson football games are among some of the activities she enjoys. Being only a Junior, Becky is undecided upon what college she would like to attend, but she would like to major in some sort of art.

Miss Sophomore

Angela Southard

Angela Southard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Southard, was chosen as Miss Sophomore by the tenth grade. When she is not busy in school, Angela enjoys swimming, dancing, and bike riding. During school, she is a member of the French Club, the Science Club, and the Warhawk staff. She is also a varsity cheerleader. Angela enjoys eating pizza and lasagna, and her two favorite colors are red and pink.

Miss Freshman

Dawn Hudson

Dawn Hudson, chosen as Miss Freshman, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Morgan. Among some of her favorite foods are steak, fried shrimp, and fried oysters, and she likes to watch "Dallas" on television. Her hobbies include horse-back riding, skiing, and bike riding. During the spring, Dawn is a member of the softball team. Upon graduation from high school, she hopes to go to college and become a psychiatrist.

Miss Eighth Grade

Cindy Kinard

Cindy Kinard, Miss Eighth Grade, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John A. Kinard, Jr. Cindy's activities in school include being a member of the band and annual staff. Her hobbies include cross-stitching, swimming, and reading. Cindy enjoys eating pizza, Mexican food, and watching "Dallas." Her plans after high school are to attend the University of South Carolina and study pre-med.

Miss J.C.C.A.

On Wednesday, September 23, 1981, the Second Annual Miss J.C.C.A. Beauty Pageant was held at the Hampton Street Auditorium. The event was sponsored by the Warhawk Band Booster Club, and the Mistress of Ceremonies was former Miss Walterboro, Karen Ordell. There were 54 contestants and 6 different divisions.

ONE LAST LOOK

Remember swimming in the pool, walking on the beach, and working to earn spending money last summer? It is almost time to do these things again; but, before summer arrives, take one last look over the 1981-82 school year to recapture the many memories that make it special. The Talon reflects the days we have spent at John C. through pictures; however, each individual must in his own mind help to revive the memories of these days we have shared together. By reminiscing, we realize that this school year has truly been unique.

A Dedication To A Special Friend

For nine years, Mrs. Janis Blocker has given her time, effort, and devotion unyielding to the students at John C. Calhoun Academy both in and out of the classroom. Throughout the years, Mrs. Blocker has been the advisor of the broadcast club, the Warhawk, and many academic competition teams. Last summer, she received her Masters Degree from the Citadel after five years of hard work. In addition to her school activities, she also took the responsibility for an exchange student, Mimi Miyamoto, who says that Mrs. Blocker is just like her second mother.

Mrs. Blocker envies the many opportunities that are open to young people today, and she enjoys her students' spirit, enthusiasm, and zest for life. She says that teaching is like reliving adolescence in that "vitality in youth keeps me feeling young at heart."

When students were asked how they felt about Mrs. Blocker, many agreed that she is much more than a teacher — she is a special friend. Others feel that a great deal is learned from her method of teaching, and that she knows how to relate to students.

With much love and appreciation, the annual staff proudly dedicates the 1982 Talon to Mrs. Janis Blocker.
