

Little People Count Too

For the first game of the season, the J.V. football team traveled to Mims Academy. Ending the battle with a 0-2 score, the Hawks were crushed. The second game brought the Dorchester Raiders to Walterboro. The Hawks, thanks to Tuck McConnell's touchdown, won 8-0. The following week took the Hawks to Judge Hughes Stadium for a defeat of 0-34 against the Wade Hampton Rebels. Bad luck seemed to continue for the Hawks as they were beaten 0-38 by Porter Gaud. Hoping for a second victory, the Hawks traveled to Ehrhardt to play the Andrew Jackson Confederates. Unfortunately the game ended in an unsatisfying tie with a 12-12 score showing. The following Thursday brought Patrick Henry to Warhawk territory. The baby Hawks finally captured their second victory with a 22-0 score. For their seventh game, the Hawks went to visit the Willington Patriots. After a close score the whole night, the Patriots sneaked up and won 22-27. After that game, head coach Chuck Bishop said "I can't be disappointed because the boys have played with a lot of spirit." The final game gave the Hawks their third victory with a 38-6 score. This year's J.V. team proved that little people count too. Even though they did not get as much attention as the varsity team, they did just as well.
