CHANGES

The beautiful patio area reflects hours of work by the Booster Club.

Dreams of playing Varsity Football fill Steven English's mind.

The energetic lower school really enjoys playing on the playground during recess.

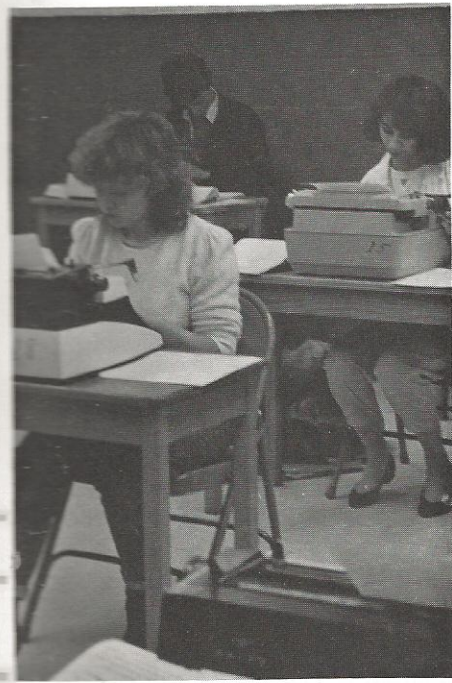

After being freshly painted, the Warhawk stadium is ready for an exciting football season.

The 1984-85 year brought many changes to the campus of J.C.C.A. The grounds were landscaped, new programs were added, and a feeling of pride was prevalent throughout the school. Much work went into making these changes. The Booster Club worked long and hard all summer to beautify the school grounds. These dedicated parents generously donated their time to provide the students of John C. with a better atmosphere in which to learn.

J.C.C.A. has always tried to give the best, well-rounded education possible. Adding teachers, landscaping the grounds, improving school attitudes, and broadening the areas of available courses were only a few of the changes that added to the high standards that J.C.C.A. upholds.

Changes In . . .

Various programs of study were added to the curriculum at J.C.C.A. this year. This gave the students the opportunity to choose from a variety of subjects. The high school students had the advantage over many because they could take courses that really interested them. Through the years, these students have been able to choose from psychology, physics, pre-calculus, and advanced courses in French. With the arrival of new faculty members, computer science and Spanish also became available.

High school students were not the only ones who were able to take advantage of the new and exciting developments made in the educational program. Students in the middle and lower schools were exposed to an enrichment program in which they were taught the basics of foreign language. Along with learning the language of a foreign country went learning the language of computers. Students in the middle school had access to these computers in order to prepare for later years. Algebra was also moved to the lower grades. This was done with the objective of preparing students for higher math later on in school.

Another program which was provided for the middle and lower schools was the physical education program. Because physical fitness is one of the keys to good health, the students were taught a wide variety of sports. These classes and the new academic courses gave the students the chance to pursue their interests.

FACES

Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Hiers can really handle the kindergarten children.

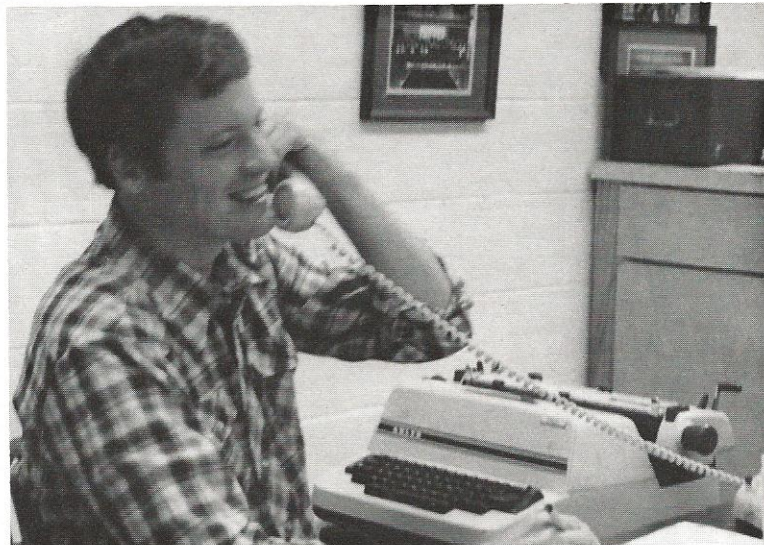

There were several additions to the faculty this year. The first to arrive was headmaster Robert Bennett and approximately ten new faculty members followed. The new coaching staff and other teachers were very well-received by the students. Energetic and enthusiastic, these new teachers came in and got involved right away with the athletics and clubs of the school.

The faculty at J.C.C.A. are truly special. They serve above and beyond the call of duty. The teachers share friendships with the students and also serve as fine examples to be admired. They are a very devoted group.

Changes In . . .

School spirit is one of the most important things in any school. This is not just cheering at the game, wearing spirit ribbons, or being on the team. School spirit is the pride that a student has in his school.

John C. Calhoun Academy has a lot to be proud of. The quality of its teachers, the high standards of academic achievement the various available clubs, and the variety of personalities make our school stand apart from the rest.

This year, this pride could be seen all over the campus of J.C.C.A. As the students walked down the halls, friendly smiles were always being exchanged. The teachers were always willing to go that "extra mile" for the students, and the students felt a new appreciation for the faculty members. In the 1984-85 year, the school was also bound together by the close friendships that the students shared. The student body was just that — a body of students who were united by a feeling of togetherness.

This year the students felt proud to be Warhawks. They were proud of what John C. stands for. That is what school spirit is all about.

The Student Council calls an important meeting to discuss Homecoming activities.

The Student Council helped the students and school in many ways this year. It gave a chance for the students to voice their opinions on many important issues in the school. They were able to do this through the representatives and officers elected by the student body.

The officers were as follows: Robbie Free, president; Matthew Addison, vice president; and Gene Simmons, secretary-treasurer. Before the officers were chosen, each gave a speech on how he would serve the school, and the students then voted on the winners.

The Student Council tried to involve students in various activities to promote school spirit. They organized different projects throughout the year which included supporting the bloodmobile, organizing Homecoming festivities, giving food to the needy during Thanksgiving and Christmas, and decorating bulletin boards. Their sponsor, Mrs. Wimberly, and the members worked hard to make improvements in J.C.C.A.

Leading The Way

Committed to Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character, the John C. Calhoun Academy Chapter of the National Honor Society consisted of Juniors and Seniors having a grade point average of 90 or above. These students worked hard throughout the year on their studies and were awarded for their academic achievements. The new Junior members who were inducted were Cindy Kinard, Dianne Flowers, Kip Hooker, Mary Kate Dean, Caroline Werntz, Carole McCants, and Sherrie Rizer. The ten Senior members were Lara Craven, Marsha McGinnis, Jan Ulmer, Darlene Crosby, Sallie Neal, Cathy Sams, Rob Young, Kim Moody, Kevin Hinton, and Keith Warren. The new members were inducted into the National Honor Society at a candlelight ceremony prepared by their sponsor, Mrs. Linder, and the President, Jan Ulmer. Refreshments were served after the ceremony.

The Academic Team consisted of Shan Pye, David Ritter, Rhett Turner, Jan Ulmer, Joey Craven, and Kevin Hinton. This year the team had a new coach, Mrs. Linder. The Juniors and Seniors were tested on subjects such as history, sports, current events, math, English, and science. The six students with the top scores were chosen. Practice sessions were held, and Mrs. Linder did a great job coaching them throughout the year.

Kevin Hinton participates in the Junior final in which he was victorious.

In the spring of 1984, John C. held its first annual Academic Bowl sponsored by the P.T.O. Twenty schools participated. One student was selected from each grade to compete in the Academic Bowl. Each of the teachers was asked to submit twenty-five questions in a particular field. These questions were in English, math, history, science, and current events. The representatives in grades 8-12 were Bud Williams, Brian Strickland, Michael Hughes, Kevin Hinton, and John Bryan. Four of John C.'s contestants made it to the finals, and three won first place for their grade levels. John C. was awarded the trophy for the most accumulated points.

People Behind The Scenes

Most people do not realize the hard work and time that is put into the yearbook. It takes special people who have responsibility and patience to carry on such a job. This type of person could be found on the Talon Staff of 1985.

In the summer, the members of the staff attended a Yearbook Camp at the University of Georgia. During the four days of camp, they took many courses on improving the yearbook which included learning how to write better copy and how to design more advanced layouts. At the end of the week, they took part in a contest. Each staff at the camp had to make an eight-page miniature yearbook which included a cover, copy, captions, and pictures. The long hours of work paid off when the staff was awarded a plaque for the best mini-yearbook.

The Talon Staff did exceptionally well this year, even though most of the members were new, including advisor Mrs. Hawes. Each member worked under an editor who was in charge of a certain section in the yearbook. Marsha McGinnis was the Editor-in-Chief. Section editors were Cathy Sams — Sports, Melody McGinnis — Activities, Kim Moody — Faculty, Kristi Connelly — Classes, and Debbie Powers — Ads. Amy Goehring, Matthew Addison, Duke Hipp, Jamie Gahagan, Holly Roberts, and Bud Williams were the photographers. The staff members included Sherrie Rizer, Mary Kate Dean, Kim Headden, Caroline Werntz, JoLynn Bennett, Allyson Haynes, Wendy Hiott, and Wendy Litchfield.

The Warhawk Staff had four editors this year. Under each editor there was a senior assistant and a junior assistant. The editors included Feature Editor Rob Young, News Editor Cathy Sams, Sports Editor Allison Dyches, and Business Manager Sallie Neal. Although the staff had a slow start this year with the newspaper, they helped in printing the Shrieker, the school's bulletin with monthly news. Photographer Jamie Gahagan took pictures and did other work for the staff along with members from the Junior and Senior classes. The newspaper contained such articles as student spotlight, teacher features, class news, editorials, and sports. Under the guidance of Miss Haymes, the Warhawk Staff was a group to be admired.

Mr. Hartshorn helps the members prepare for their various projects.

Sponsored by Mr. Hartshorn, the Junior Engineering Technical Society started its second year of existence with members from the Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes. The club made many plans for the year. Their biggest goal was the trip to Charleston for the J.E.T.S. Competition in which the students were tested on such subjects as biology, math, chemistry, physics, English, computers, and calculators. Last year, the members brought home trophies in biology and English. The club also participated in different projects throughout the year such as the State Science Fair.

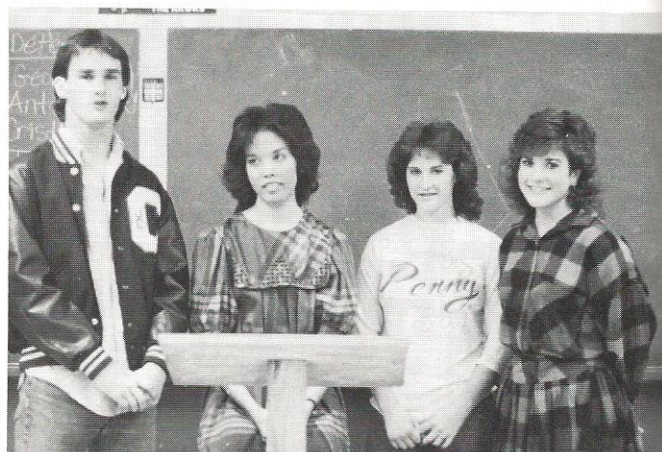

At the meeting, the members are informed of J.E.T.S. activities around the state.

Mr. Hartshorn tries to recruit new members to join the club.

During the planning session for attending the State Science Fair, Matthew Addison has his mind on his project.

Miss Mole and the officers discuss plans for the trip to Charleston.

The French Club had a successful year with more than forty members. From their new sponsor, Miss Mole, the students learned many things about French culture. Throughout the year, they raised money which was used for parties and French supplies. During the spring, the members traveled to Charleston to see a French play which was enjoyed by all. The officers were Marc Warren, President, Lori Hiott, Vice President, and Penny Altman, Secretary/Treasurer.

Looking Ahead

This was the first year that the school taught Spanish to its students. With Miss Mole as the teacher of the class, she decided to organize a Spanish Club. The club was a huge success made up of more than thirty members. During the year, the officers and members made future plans for the club. The officers included President Pat Harmon, Vice President Michael Hiott, and Secretary/Treasurer Chad Brightwell. The club planned many projects which included a trip to Charleston to see a Spanish play.

This year the Broadcast Club consisted of thirty-eight members which were divided into two groups, Alpha and Beta. With the two groups alternating each week, they met every Thursday night at WALD to record and produce their shows. The program was made up of seven articles which included student spotlight, teacher feature, editorial, school and community current events, sports, comedy, and the song of the week.

The officers of the club were President, Cathy Sams; Vice President, Kim Moody; and Secretary-/Treasurer, Allison Dyches. The managers for each group included Alpha Production Manager, Joey Craven, and Assistant, Kevin Hinton; and Beta Production Manager, Rob Young, and Assistant, David Ritter. The new sponsor of the club, Mr. David MacArthur, assisted the groups with their recording sessions.

During the year, the P.T.O. provided a means of communication among the teachers, parents and students. Meetings were held in the school gymnasium, and all students and parents were invited to attend. In these meetings, the officers of the P.T.O. discussed different issues to inform the people of the business and happenings in the school. They also had an Open House at the beginning of the year to present the new faculty and headmaster to the parents.

Communication Board meetings were held in the school library on Tuesday nights in which officers planned the upcoming programs. One such program was the Halloween Carnival on October 31. It turned out to be a huge success, and the money received from the tickets was used for future projects which included the Christmas program, Science Fair, and Academic Bowl. The officers were Mimi Werntz, President; Gail Howell, Vice President; Linda Butler, Secretary; and Sydney Haynes, Treasurer. Both the P.T.O. and Communication Board were of great service during the school year.

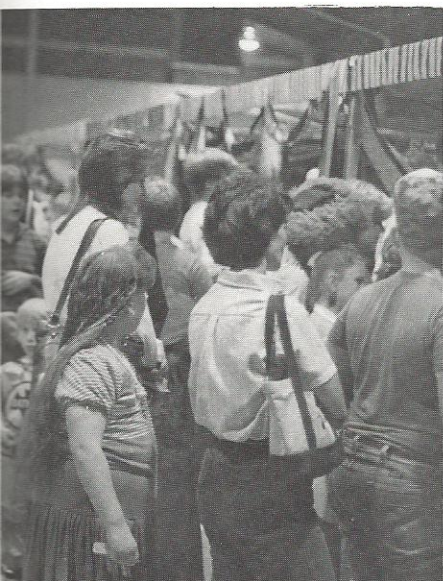

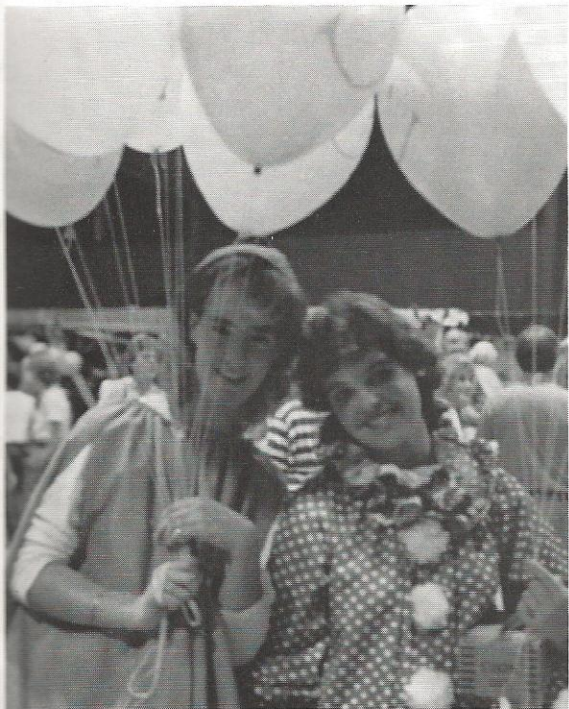

The younger students enjoy dressing up in various costumes for Halloween. Boy George and Superman were two of the most popular.

Everyone waits in line at the booths to play his favorite games.

It was Powderpuff season again, and the students could feel the tension and excitement in the school. Before the game, there was much question as to which was the better team. After the first three minutes, the Senior-Sophomore team had taken control and continued to dominate for the rest of the evening.

The scoring began when sophomore Melody McGinnis ran a wide sweep to the outside for a touchdown. The Junior-Freshman defense stopped the two-point conversion, leaving the Seniors ahead 6-0. In the second quarter, running back Marsha McGinnis found the open hole and ran up the middle for a touchdown. Jan Ulmer raised the score as she snuck through the Junior defense for the two-point conversion. The Junior defense put up a strong fight, but they were no match for the offensive line of the Seniors. After the half, the Senior offense struck again when Marsha McGinnis faked a reverse in the backfield and ran forth-five yards for the touchdown. This ended the game with a score of 20-0 giving the Seniors a 4-0 record. Another highlight of the game was the crowning of the new Powderpuff

Queen. Of the two candidates, Joey Craven and Keith Hadwin, "Josephine Gertrude Craven" was the winner.

The Main Event

---

The moment finally came at last to find out who was to be the Homecoming Queen of 1984. From the three candidates of the Senior Class, only one was to be presented the crown during halftime. During the week, the high school students voted on the candidates by secret ballot. The lucky girl was Kim Moody, who was crowned by the previous queen, Carmen Long.

Special events took place to arouse the students' spirits for the game. To top off the night, the Warhawks defeated St. Angela 48-7. The Junior Class sponsored a Homecoming dance for a victory celebration to which everyone was invited. The Juniors spent all afternoon decorating the gym with miniature footballs, crepe paper, and spirit chains made by the cheerleaders.

Before the game, the nine Senior football players were recognized with their sponsors. Pride showed in the girls' faces as they were escorted onto the field by the John C. Calhoun football players. This year's players and their sponsors were Joey Craven and Susan Thomas, Charles Cook and Allison Dyches, Robbie Free and Sherrie Rizer, Keith Hadwin and Jodi Crosby, Shan Pye and Jill Griffin, Barry Stewart and Marsha McGinnis, Rhett Turner and Dawn Hudson, Keith Warren and Karen Crosby, and Rob Young and Lisa Avant.

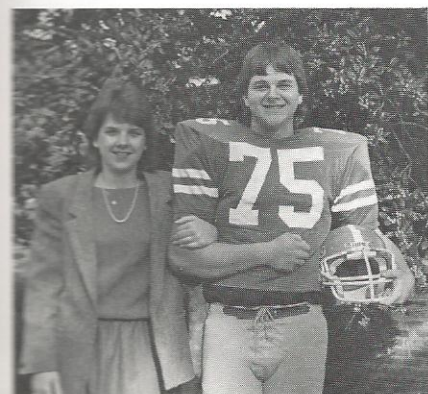

Everyone crowds to the center of the field to congratulate the new queen.

Spirit Week was planned by the Varsity Cheerleaders to excite students and arouse school spirit for the Homecoming game. Each day was given a special theme. Monday was Hush Button Day, and Tuesday was Crazy Hat Day. On Wednesday, Blue Outbreak Day, the cheerleaders painted blue dots on those who tried to promote school spirit. Thursday was All Saints' Day, and Friday was Original Blue and White Day. Also during the week, the cheerleaders sold spirit links to the different high school classes. The class which bought the most links and had the longest chain won the money produced from the project. At the pep rally, the chains were stretched out, and the Senior Class won, receiving a check of more than a hundred dollars.

At practice, the band members are hard at work learning new music.

The band plays the "National Anthem" at the start of the Homecoming game.

This year things looked much brighter for the band. With a new band director, Mr. David Buchanan, many changes took place. During December, they had a cookie sale raising more than two thousand dollars which was used to purchase new uniforms. They marched in the Christmas Parade and performed at the P.T.O. Christmas program. The band received a standing ovation from supporters after they performed at the Homecoming game. Though small in size, the band certainly grew in spirit.

Mr. Buchanan helps Toni Hooker and Patrick Dantzler read their music.

Duke Hipp and Toby Hinton practice for the upcoming game.

In April, 1984, the Junior Class began to work together, sponsored by Mrs. Peggy Smoak, to plan an unforgettable Junior-Senior Prom. Night and day for two weeks, they sewed ceilings, built props, made flowers, and decorated tables to create an exotic atmosphere for that one special night. Secretly, their theme was developed, and plans that had been laid months before were carried out.

"Bon Voyage" was the theme that created the illusion of an ocean voyage to the countries of Mexico, Jamaica, and the Congo of Africa. Piñatas, paper flowers, painted glass candles, and sombreros were abundant in the country of Mexico. The Congo was decorated with Tiki candles, totem poles, an African god, small bottles, and a popular hut, "The Last Resort." Jamaica was the scene for fish nets, shells, palm leaves, and food! Small cruise ships were found on each table to represent this exotic journey.

Music was performed by the popular band, Back Roads. They provided for an evening of great dancing. This was certainly one trip to remember.

BEAUTIES

Lisa Avant, daughter of Mr. Ted Avant and Ms. Janice Avant, was selected as Miss Senior. Lisa spends her spare time shopping, playing tennis, and going out with friends. During school time, she is a member of the Warhawk staff and Broadcast club, a Varsity cheerleader, and a member of the powderpuff team. She enjoys watching "Guiding Light" and "The Jeffersons" and eating ice cream and Duncan Hines' cookies. Lisa is undecided about which college to attend but plans to major in fashion design.

---

Miss Senior

---

---

---

---

Miss Talon

Allison Dyches, chosen as Miss Talon, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dyches. Allison is also a Varsity cheerleader, the sports editor of the Warhawk, and the secretary-treasurer of the Senior class and Broadcast club. In her leisure time, she draws, rides horses, and watches "Knots Landing" on television. Among her favorite foods are ice cream, pork chops, and chocolate. She participates in such sports as softball and powderpuff. After graduation, she plans to attend Converse College and major in interior design.

---

Miss Junior

---

Miss Junior, Michelle Morris, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Morris. Michelle enjoys listening to the radio, watching videos, and reading. She is also a member of the French club, Broadcast club, and Warhawk staff. She likes listening to the rock group Duran Duran and David Bowie. She also enjoys eating pizza, and her three favorite colors are white, red, and black. Michelle has thought of journalism as an occupation but is not quite sure about her future plans and college.

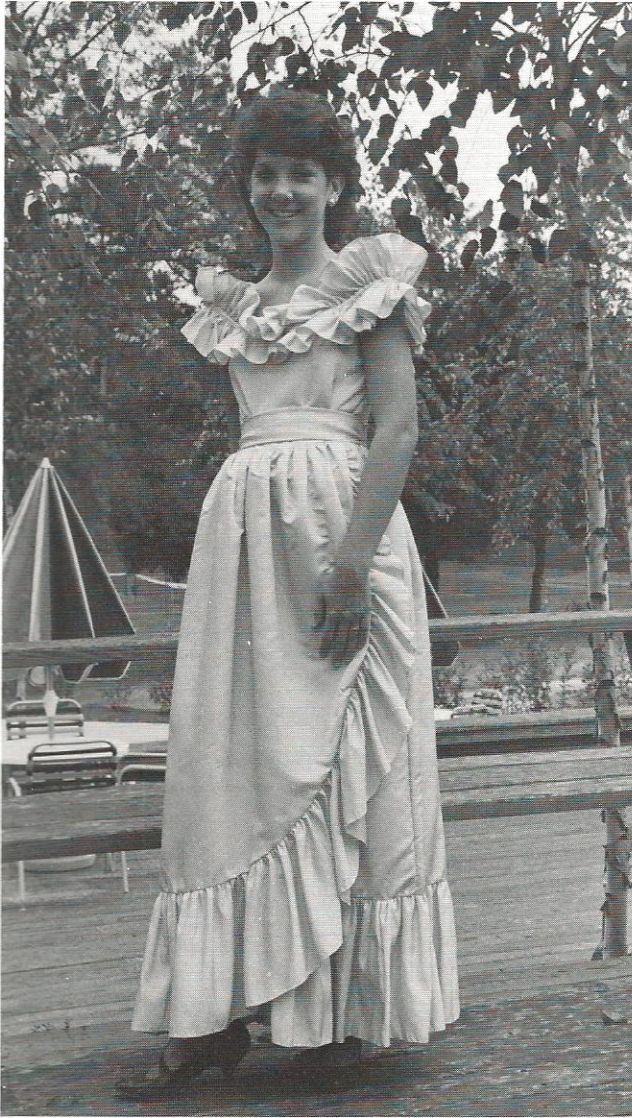

---

Miss Sophomore

Melody McGinnis, Miss Sophomore, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy J. McGinnis. Some of her activities in school include being the activities editor of the yearbook, a Varsity cheerleader, and a member of the French club and powderpuff team. When she is not busy, she enjoys drawing, going out with her friends, and watching "Knots Landing" on television. She likes to eat fried shrimp and steak, and her favorite color is black. Melody is undecided about which college to attend, but she hopes to go into medicine.

Emily Warren, who was chosen by her classmates as Miss Eighth Grade is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Warren. Emily is a Junior Varsity cheerleader and a member of the Student Council. She enjoys eating pizza, crab legs, and tacos. Swimming, skiing, and dancing are some of the activities she enjoys. Her favorite colors are purple and blue, and "Guiding Light" and "Dynasty" are her top-rated shows. After high school, she wishes to attend the University of South Carolina, but she has not decided on a major.

Miss Eighth Grade

---

Miss Freshman

Becky Bennett, chosen as Miss Freshman by the ninth grade, is the daughter of Mrs. Jackie Bennett. Her hobbies include playing tennis, cheering at the Warhawk football games, and being with her friends. During school, Becky is a Junior Varsity cheerleader and a member of the tennis team and French Club. Becky's favorite colors are pink, florescent blue, and red, and she loves to eat steak. Being only a Freshman, Becky has not made any future plans for college or an occupation.

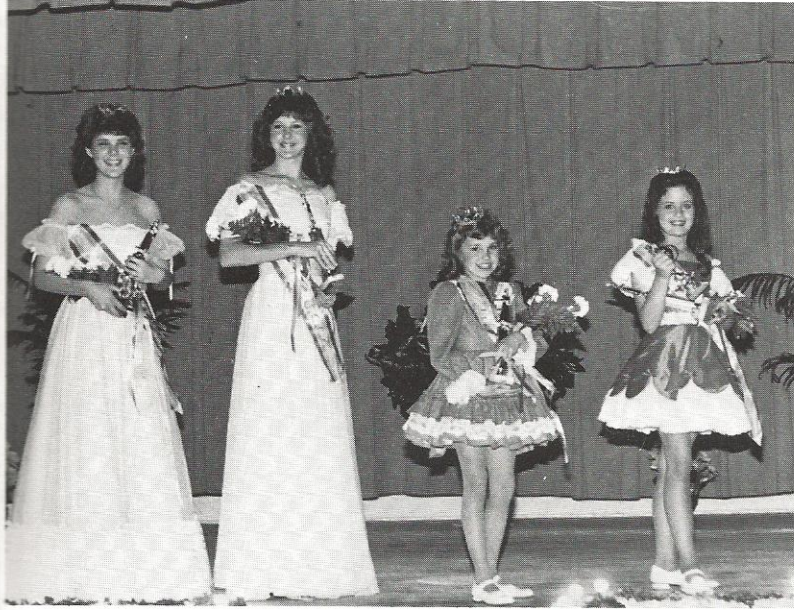

All the contestants gather on stage for one last look before the winners are announced.

The winners of the 1984 Miss J.C.C.A. Pageant.

The Miss J.C.C.A. Pageant was sponsored by the Warhawk Marching Band. This special event was held in the Warhawk gymnasium. With thirty-one contestants, only four were selected as winners. The four divisions were as follows: Miss J.C.C.A., Kristi Connelly; Young Miss, Tammy Beach; Little Miss, J.J. Crosby; Tiny Miss, Robin Worrell.

Kristi Connelly is presented her trophy and flowers as the new Miss J.C.C.A.

Involvement

The students at J.C.C.A. do not limit their time only to sports and academics. Many of them devote their time to participating in extracurricular activities. Their contributions increase involvement in the school, and at the same time, teach them responsibility and build character. Working together in organizations helps them to have pride in their accomplishments. These students gain confidence for the future.

Best Of Times

In 1981, a group of ninth graders entered high school to spend four years they would never forget. In 1985, these same students were able to look back as Seniors and cherish the memories. The Class of '85 started as underclassmen who were uncertain of the years to come and worked their way up to being Seniors.

The Seniors were faced with many decisions in 1985. The uncertainty felt during the early years of high school emerged once again as the students began choosing colleges. Responsibility required to make these decisions was prevalent in each person. The time of being confused had come and gone, and the students handled their choices well. Being Seniors required a lot of the Class of '85, and they met the challenge with real maturity.

Shan Pye shows that a senior can "monkey" around just as much as a first grader.

Cathy Sams comes to the library to get the last of her work done before class.

Lara Craven and Tonya McClure enjoy their free time by talking and catching up on homework.

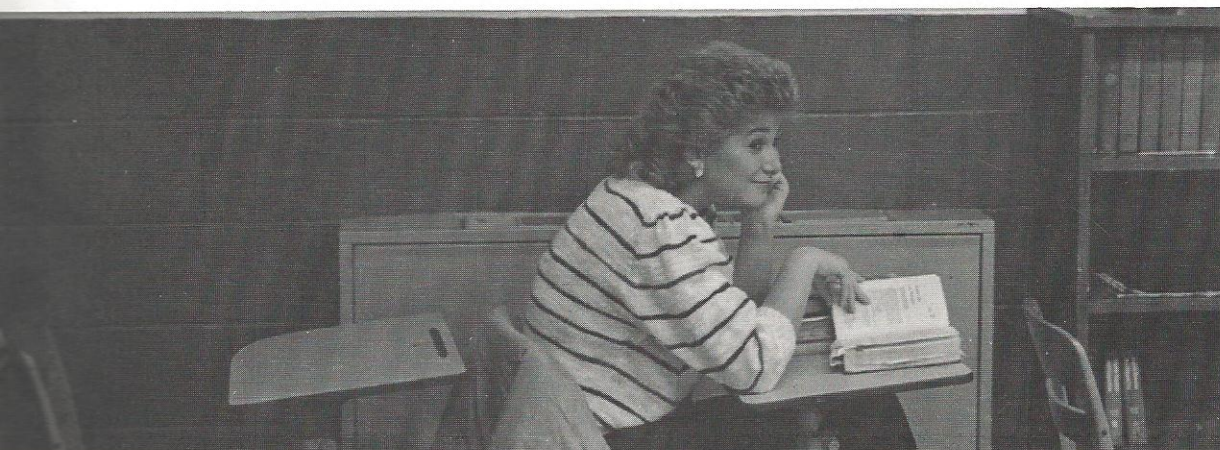

Joey Craven shows his muscles from football weight training in which he excels.

Prissy Ramsey shows the latest fashion — wet look, that she achieved by taking a dip.

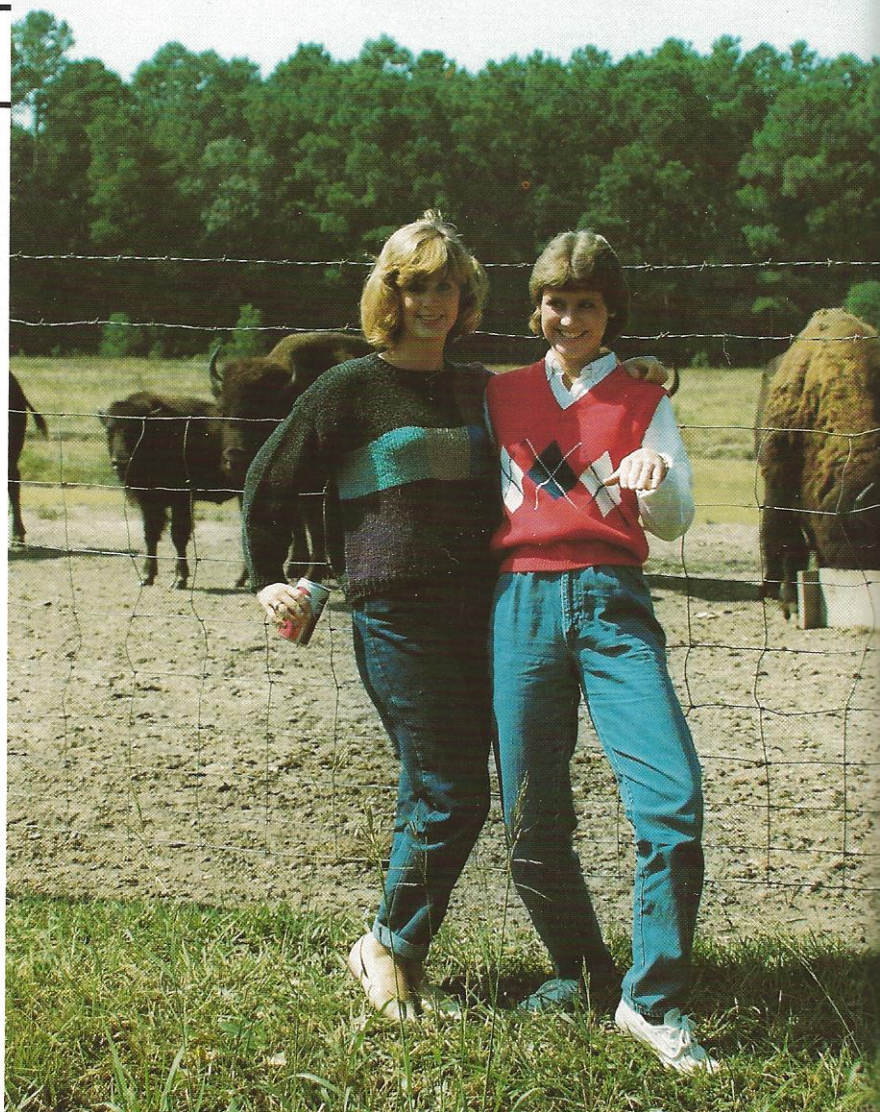

Dawn Hudson finds that the funnies are funny instead of studying for a civics test.

Karen Crosby thinks literature is a VERY interesting subject at 8:30 in the morning.

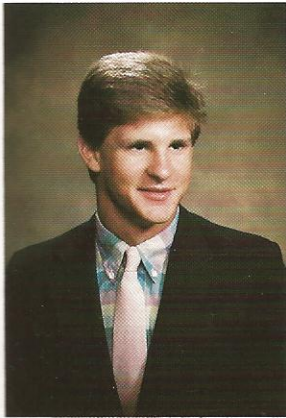

Lisa Avant and Melanie Easterlin find their "home on the range".

Robbie Free, Joey Craven, Rob Young, and Rhett Turner experience the "weight" of being a Senior.

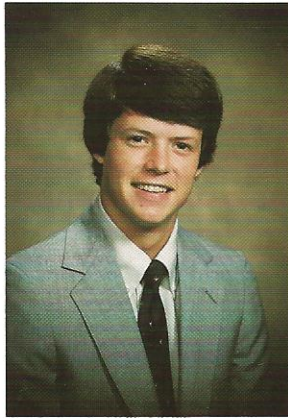

A few Seniors decide to join the ducks.

Special Times

The Senior year was a special time to the students of the Class of '85. Most of the members of the Senior Class were enrolled in John C. in kindergarten. Together, they went through the kindergarten play, social studies projects, bug collections, and research papers. They shared good times as well as bad. Planning the Junior-Senior Prom, working together to raise money, going on a Senior picnic — these are only a few of the things that brought the class together. They also shared the experiences of taking the SAT, cramming for tests, and dealing with the daily pressures of high school.

As the Class of '85 enjoyed the privileges of being Seniors, they were constantly reminded of their years spent at John C. Leaving close friends and special teachers to start life and go off to college brought tears to the eyes of many as they realized throughout the year that high school was drawing to a close. Although they feel ready to accept the challenge of leaving home, the Class of '85 will never forget the strong friendships built at J.C.C.A.

Bubba Williams shows that elementary students aren't the only ones who can play in the cement pipe.

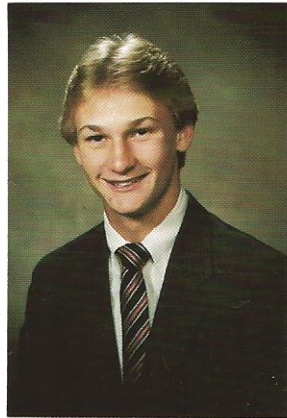

The library seems to be a popular place for Susan Thomas and Dawn Hudson during their study hall.

Having visited the stables, this group of Seniors heads back to the picnic.

Times To Remember

Senior Superlatives

MR. AND MS. WARHAWK

Shan Pye and Marsha McGinnis were selected for this most prestigious senior superlative. Each year the faculty considers the Senior Class as a whole and looks for the two students who are an example of all the superlatives combined. They search for the boy and girl who show the most responsibility, involvement, determination, and promise along with academic success. Throughout their years in school, Shan and Marsha fulfilled these qualities. Shan participated in sports such as football, basketball, and baseball. He also served as a member of the Broadcast Club and of the J.E.T.S. Club. Marsha was the captain of the Varsity cheerleaders, the editor of the Talon, and a member of the Warhawk staff, N.H.S., J.E.T.S. Club, and powderpuff football team. Both Shan and Marsha were listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students. After graduation, Shan plans to attend Presbyterian College, and Marsha plans to go to Converse College.

MOST ATHLETIC

Robbie Free and Jan Ulmer were chosen for this superlative on the basis of their willingness to participate and ability to excel in the athletics of the school. Jan was involved in basketball, softball, and powderpuff football and hopes to pursue sports in college. Robbie took part in athletics for several years. He played basketball, football, and baseball. Both of these Warhawks were fine examples of true sportsmanship.

WITTIEST

David Ritter and Wanda Priester were chosen by the Seniors as the funniest in the class. Each was able to bring a smile to anyone's face with a joke, a laugh, or simply a different style of clothes. Each had a unique sense of humor that was a bright spot in the class.

MISS DAR

Sallie Neal was awarded this honor by the Daughters of the American Revolution. She was chosen on the basis of her character and citizenship.

Mr. And Ms. Warhawk

Wittiest

Most Congenial
Most Versatile

MOST CONGENIAL

Bubba Williams and Kim Moody were selected as the friendliest people in the class. They were always there to lend a helping hand to whomever needed it. Their consideration for others was evident by the cheerful smiles that they shared with their classmates. Bubba and Kim were the epitome of congeniality.

MOST VERSATILE

Rob Young and Marsha McGinnis were two students who were involved in virtually every activity in the school. Rob and Marsha took part in athletics, publications, and almost all of the clubs at J.C.C.A. Each was able to handle responsibility in several organizations at the same time, and managed to keep up good grades. Their versatility helped them in becoming very well-rounded individuals.

MOST CONSCIENTIOUS

Kevin Hinton and Cathy Sams proved themselves to be extremely responsible students. They could always be depended on to do a good job at almost any task. Their commitment to perfection took them far as leaders in the classroom as well as in the organizations of the school.

MOST SCHOOL SPIRITED

Shan Pye and Marsha McGinnis were fine examples of school spirit. Shan showed his spirit as a member of the football, basketball, and baseball teams. He was always the first to encourage his fellow teammates to do well. As a Varsity cheerleader, Marsha displayed her spirit on the sidelines. Win or lose, she could always be found cheering for the Warhawks. Shan and Marsha not only had spirit in the area of sports, but also showed true school spirit in every area of J.C.C.A.

A big part of the year for many freshmen was getting their driver's license. The students felt an independence because they no longer had to ask anyone for a ride. Most freshmen want a car of their own to drive to school. Good luck!

The Circus Comes To Town

The Kindergarten participated in many activities this year. One such activity was the Kindergarten Play in which they used "The Circus" as the theme. The children worked hard rehearsing for the program with the help of their directors, Mrs. Hiers and Mrs. Warren. The parents contributed to the program by building the props used in the play. To go along with the theme, the children were able to dress up as their favorite animals such as monkeys and lions, and many of the students painted their faces to look like clowns. The program was a great success.

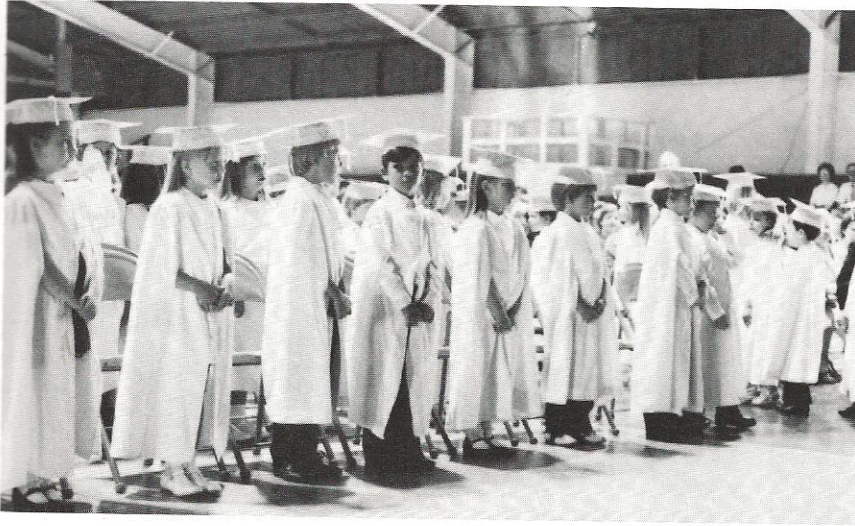

The children line up on stage to rehearse the program one last time.

Mrs. Hiers and Mrs. Warren help the children find their spots in the play.

This kindergartener is shy when it comes to talking into the microphone.

An End To The Beginning

Kindergarten graduation was the end to the beginning of education for fifty-two shining faces. Many of the students will remember the excitement and warmth they felt that night, and the parents will never forget the pride they felt as they watched their child ramble around the gym floor in cap and gown before the ceremony.

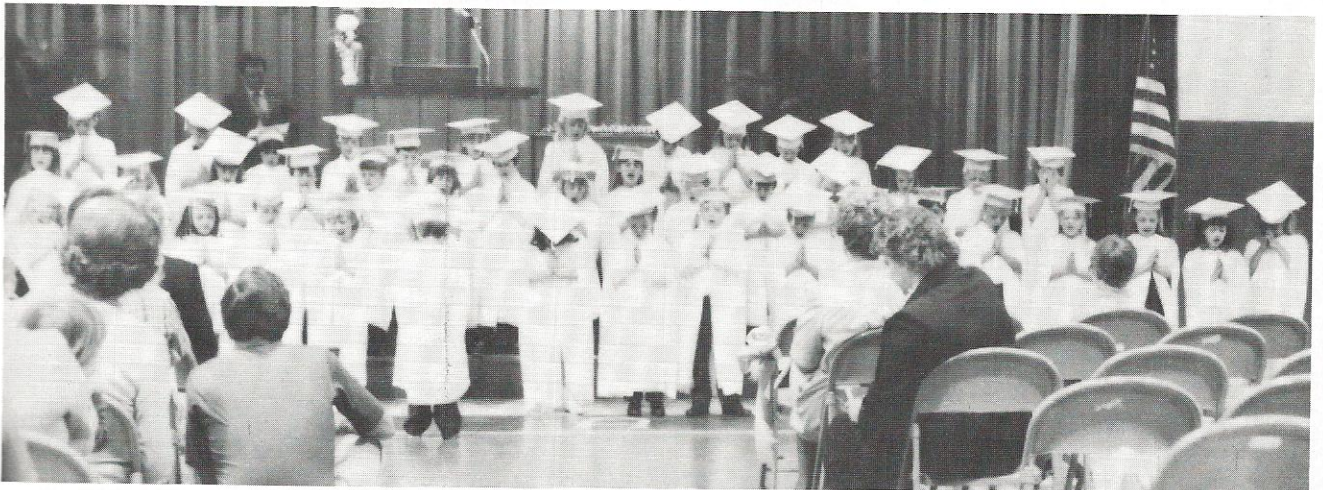

After a prayer and the "Pledge of Allegiance," the students sang "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and recited the Twenty Third Psalm. Then the students marched up on stage to receive their diplomas as many emotional applauses sounded from the audience.

Much will be expected from this class in the next twelve years. But they will always remember the fun times and the educational experience they had with Mrs. Hiers and Mrs. Warren. Who knows what these students will do in the future? But for now, their Kindergarten Graduation is a long-lasting memory.

It's Finally Over!

Excitement, tears, anxiety, questions of the future, and the thoughts that it is finally over go along with high school graduation. On May twenty-fifth, the Class of '84 said so long but not good-bye to the friends they made at John C. Each one of the graduates will take with him memories of his school days.

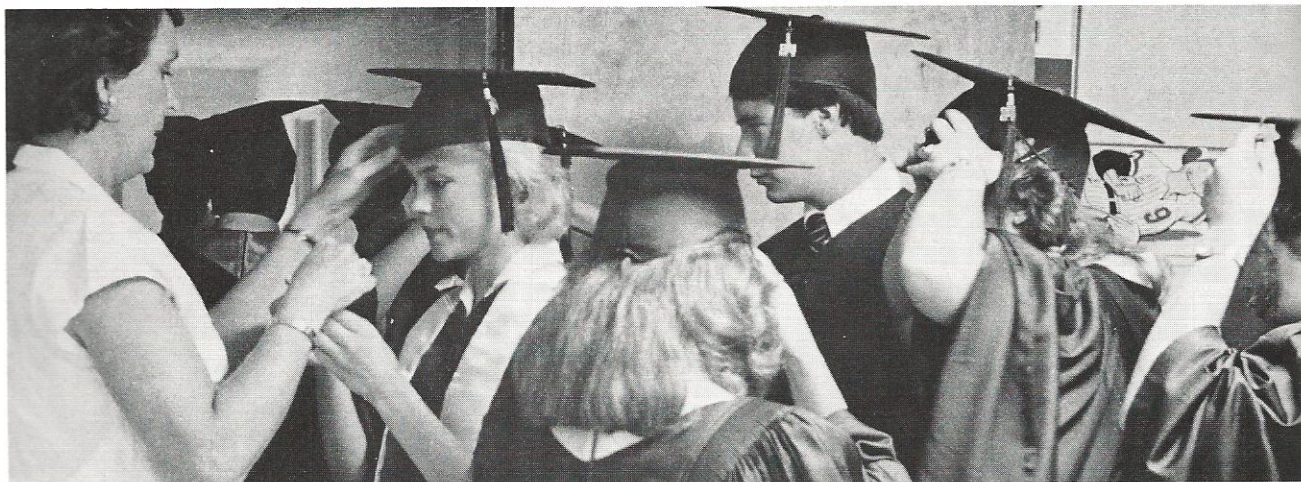

At eight o'clock in the evening, on May twenty-fifth, the Commencement of 1984 began. After the Processional, the Rev. Robert B. Morehead gave the Invocation, and later, the Benediction. The Salutatorian, Randy Addison, gave the welcome. Dr. Joseph Flowers introduced Rev. O. Woody Hammett, who was to give the address. Then came the big moment — the presentation of diplomas by Dr. Joseph Flowers. Randy Warren presented the class gift and Robbie Free accepted the position of Student Council President for '84-'85. A fond farewell was said by the Valedictorian, Jenny Savela. After the Benediction and Recessional, the ceremony was finally over for twenty-nine of the finest young men and women to step through the doors of John C. Calhoun Academy.

Remember the words of George Cohen, "Always leave them laughing when you say goodbye."

FACULTY

1984-85 was Robert Bennett's first year as a JCCA headmaster and 7th grade math teacher. He chose the "Sound of Music" as both his favorite movie and song. When asked if he had any pets, he replied that he had 460 of them and they are all called WARHAWKS.

Lillian Griffith, school librarian for nine years, said the library needs two things: shelves and books that Seniors would want to read. She chose TERMS OF ENDEARMENT as her favorite movie and "The Impossible Dream" as her favorite song.

Joann Wimberley, as guidance counselor, advises Seniors on college matters, assists Mr. Bennett in administrative matters, and schedules classes for all students. She also sponsors the student government. For exercise, she enjoys tennis, aerobics, and walking.

Jane Litchfield has worked at JCCA as a part-time secretary for three years. Her favorite movie is GONE WITH THE WIND and her favorite song is "Lara's Theme."

Nancy Beach, school secretary, said that in a typical day she does anything from counting and depositing money to typing and putting on band-aids. She chose "September Song" as her favorite song and GONE WITH THE WIND as her favorite movie.

MAKING IT WORK

Bob Bennett explains the fundamentals of math to his seventh grade students.

Joann Wimberley, JCCA Guidance Counselor, helps Kevin Young to rearrange his schedule.

Nancy Beach seems to be showing off her cooking skills.

Part-time secretary Jane Litchfield and handyman Jim Harmon discuss what must be done first.

PEOPLE WE NEED

Dorothy Beach has taught the 4th grade for fifteen years. She chose GONE WITH THE WIND as her favorite movie and the "Tennessee Waltz" as her favorite song. For exercise, she walks a mile or more every day.

Betty Black, a 2nd grade teacher, has taught at JCCA for eleven years. For her favorite movie she chose THE GREAT SANTINI because her daughter was in it; for her favorite song she chose "Send in the Clowns." In order to stay in shape, she attends an exercise class.

Mary Ester Crook has taught 5th grade for three years. She enjoys both biking and dancing as forms of exercise. She said BACK STREET is her favorite movie and "I Just Called to Say I Love You" is her favorite song.

Taking time out from watching their students, Betty Black and Betty Hydrick find some peace and quiet on "the stage coach."

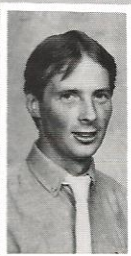

May Goodwin and Dot Beach discuss the science assignment for the day.

Nan Steadman and Mary Ester Crook demonstrate how they spend their time.

Deirdre Hawes spends a moment relaxing after a strenuous day of cheerleader practice.

Scott Hartshorn demonstrates the reason some of his students give him the nickname of Mr. Mutant.

WARHAWK advisor Kassie Haynes discusses the last issue of the paper with Matt Addison.

Scott Hartshorn has taught 10th grade biology, 11th grade chemistry, and 12th grade physics for five years. He sponsored JET. Belonging to a national organization, he feels, will bring the students more prestige than a school science club.

Deirdre Hawes taught 8th grade health, 9th grade physical science, and 11th grade typing. She sponsored both the Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders and the TALON staff. Her favorite movie is the SOUND OF MUSIC.

Kassie Haynes taught 9th and 11th grade English and 12th grade composition. She was a junior class sponsor and WARHAWK staff sponsor. When asked what her favorite form of exercise, she said that there is no such thing. She enjoys any music by Jimmy Buffet.

May Goodwin, a 4th grade teacher, has taught at JCCA for thirteen years. She commented that reading is her favorite "eye" exercise. She chose ON GOLDEN POND as her favorite movie and "The Carolina Fight Song" as her favorite song.

Esther Hiers has worked at JCCA as a Kindergarten teacher for fourteen years. She walks for exercise. Her favorite movie is GONE WITH THE WIND and her favorite song is "Stardust."

Betty Hydrick, a 2nd grade teacher, has taught at JCCA for twelve years. Although she could not pick a favorite song or movie, walking two miles a day is her favorite exercise.

Ron Lassiter taught 8th grade pre-algebra, 10th grade geometry, and 12th grade pre-calculus. He sponsored both the Varsity and Junior Varsity boys' basketball teams. His favorite form of exercise is playing golf.

Betty Linder taught 10th and 12th grade English, 11th grade typing, and 12th grade composition. She was a senior class sponsor, National Honor Society sponsor, and co-chairman of the JCCA Academic Bowl.

David McArthur, in his first year at JCCA, taught 6th grade math, 9th grade algebra, and computer science. He sponsored the Broadcast Club and the Boys' Tennis Team. He likes any John Wayne western. His favorite song is "Cat's in the Cradle."

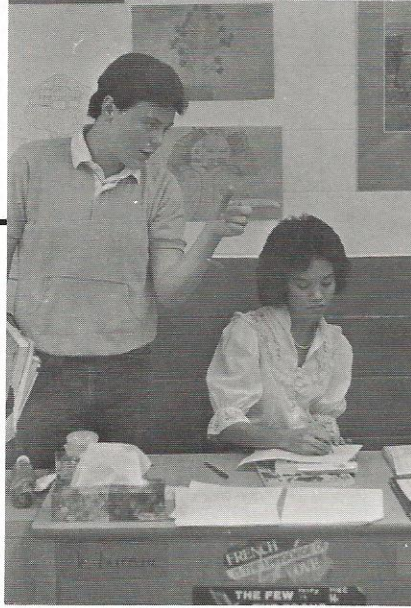

JoAnn Mathis has taught 3rd grade for eighteen years. Her favorite movie is GONE WITH THE WIND; her favorite song, "Moonlight Sonata." Floating in a pool chair is her favorite form of exercise.

JoAnn Mathis tends to one of her children's children.

Librarian Lillian Griffith and senior class sponsor Betty Linder discuss the latest best sellers.

Carol Meegan taught physical education to Kindergarten and grades 1 through 5. She sponsored both the Varsity and Junior Varsity girls' basketball teams. Basketball is her favorite exercise and "Break My Stride" is her favorite song.

Kim Miller taught 6th grade reading and science and 7th grade science. She helped sponsor the girls' tennis team. Her favorite forms of exercise are tennis and running. GONE WITH THE WIND is her favorite movie and "Always Something There to Remind Me" is her favorite song.

Sharon Mole taught 9th, 10th, and 11th grade French and Spanish and Kindergarten through 7th grade enrichment. She sponsored both the French Club and the Spanish Club. She enjoys aerobic dancing for exercise. Her favorite movie is the SOUND OF MUSIC.

Pat Harmon makes a point about his paper to Sharon Mole.

David McArthur and Kim Miller demonstrate their last tennis matches.

Belle Morehead, a three year veteran at JCCA, taught 8th grade English and literature and psychology. Her favorite movie is GONE WITH THE WIND and her favorite exercise is eating.

Tony Orsini taught 9th grade algebra and 11 grade Algebra II. He was the Athletic Director as well as the head football coach. His most favorite movie is THE GODFATHER. "Blue Eyes Crying In The Rain" is his favorite song.

Carolyn Powers has taught the 1st grade for fourteen years. SOUND OF MUSIC is her favorite movie and "Tiger Rag" is her favorite song. She keeps in shape by biking and swimming.

Eve Richardson, a 1st grade teacher, has taught for two years at JCCA. She chose ON GOLDEN POND as her favorite movie. "You Light Up My Life" is her favorite song. To keep in shape she plays tennis.

Helen Riddle taught 6th and 7th grade social studies and 7th grade literature. The movie that she likes most is THE SOUND OF MUSIC. Her favorite song is "I Did It My Way."

Belle Morehead prepares for her Psychology class instead of eating her lunch. What will power!

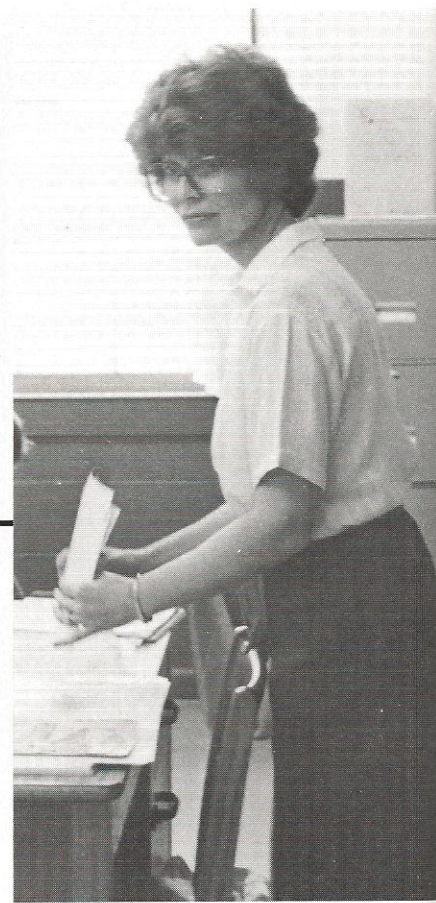

Peggy Smoak has taught off-and-on for eight years. This past year she taught 8th grade American History and 11th grade U.S. History. She was a junior class sponsor. GONE WITH THE WIND is her favorite movie and "Send in the Clowns" is her favorite song.

Carey Speaks taught 7th grade literature and 6th and 7th grade English. She was also the editor of "The Shrieker." The movie she chose as her favorite was Walt Disney's JUNGLE BOOK. Her favorite song is "The Impossible Dream."

Nan Steadman has taught 5th grade for twelve years. To keep in shape, she plays golf and tennis. She chose GONE WITH THE WIND as her favorite movie. She said that she enjoys listening to the "Hallelujah Chorus."

Carey Speaks gathers her papers together and prepares for her next class.

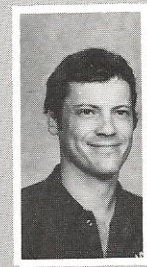

Nan Steadman points out the location of a U.S. city.

Sylvia Warren, a Kindergarten teacher, has worked at JCCA for eleven years. She said her favorite movie is THE KING AND I. Her favorite song is "Yesterday." For exercise she likes to walk.

Mimi Werntz, for her first year at JCCA, taught 10th grade World History. She was also the P.T.O. President. She chose "Summertime" as her favorite song and GONE WITH THE WIND as her favorite movie. She enjoys swimming and walking for exercise.

Jim Winslett taught 8th grade American History, 9th grade civics, and 12th grade government and economics. He coached both football and baseball. He enjoys country music and old movies. For exercise he plays golf and softball.

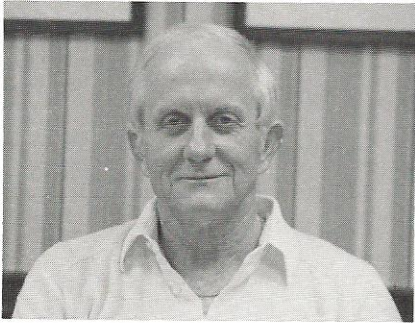

Jim Winslett and Tony Orsini debate on whose way of running the video machine is right.

'84 Season

After defeating the Mims Academy Patriots 7-6 in the annual Sertoma Classic on August 24, the Warhawks traveled to Manning to take on the Laurence Manning Cavaliers. Starting the season with about thirty players, the Hawks came up on the short end 18-26. The second game brought the Patriots of Mims Academy to Warhawk country. Because of the earlier defeat of the Patriots, head coach Tony Orsini said that he felt "comfortable" about that game. But, the aftermath of the battle resulted in a disappointing 7-12 loss and left the Hawks with a 0-2 record. For their third game, the Hawks hosted the Wade Hampton Rebels and once again, the Hawks came up on the short end 0-37. Although this was their third loss in a row, the Hawks pulled themselves together and prepared for the fourth game which was against Patrick Henry. This road trip gave the Hawks their first victory with a 32-0 score, and brought back the once-lost spirit at John C. For the next game, the Hawks traveled to Ridgeland to battle arch-rival Thomas Heyward. This classic game brought yet another defeat for the Hawks with a score of 0-26. The sixth game, which was against East Copper, gave the Hawks their second victory. Because it was Parent's Night, the boys were especially pleased with the game ending with a score of 40-22. The next Friday night took the Hawks to visit the Calhoun Academy Cavaliers in St. Matthews. Even though the two football teams were almost equal in size and talent, the Cavaliers prevailed 13-27 over the Hawks. Coach Orsini then noted that everybody on his team was "not playing 100 percent." For Homecoming, on October 19, the St. Angela Saints,

Coach Orsini's alma mater, traveled to Walterboro to try to beat the Hawks. Fortunately they did not succeed, and the Hawks won 48-7. Needless to say, "the hardest week of practice" had been well worth it. On the following Friday, the Hawks welcomed the May River Patriots, and unfortunately, another loss was added to the Hawks' record when the Patriots won 7-26. The last game, which decided which team went to the play-offs, left the Hawks with a crushed dream when the Country Day Rebels defeated the Hawks 15-34. Even though the John C. Warhawks ended their season with a 3-7 record, Coach Orsini was pleased with his boys and is looking forward to a big improvement in the 1985 season.

Senior Robbie Free (40) tries to break away from the defender's intended grasp as fellow classmate Barry Stewart (50) notices that Robbie is in trouble and rushes over to help.

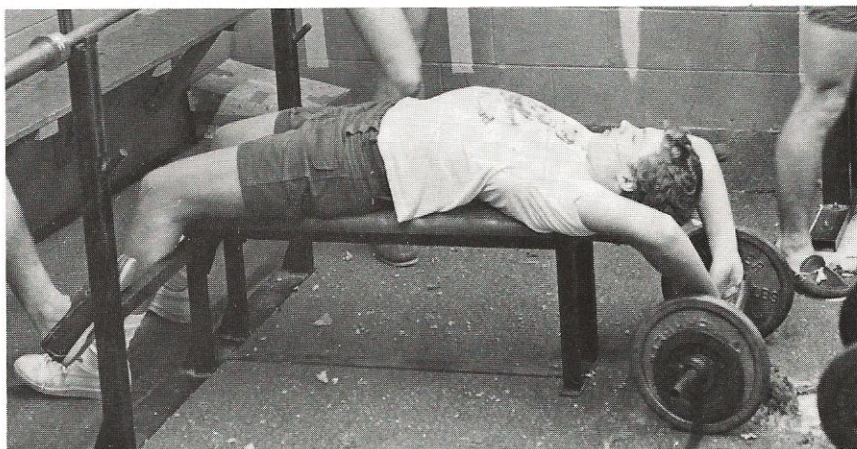

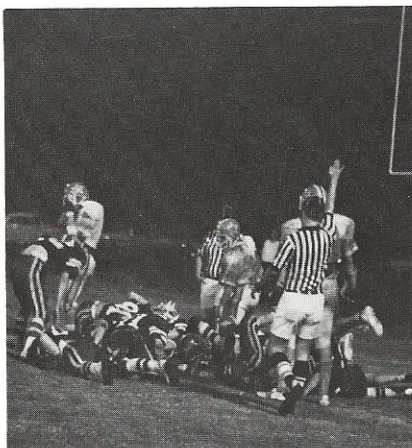

During a time-out, the players listen intently to head coach Tony Orsini as he explains what plays should be executed next.

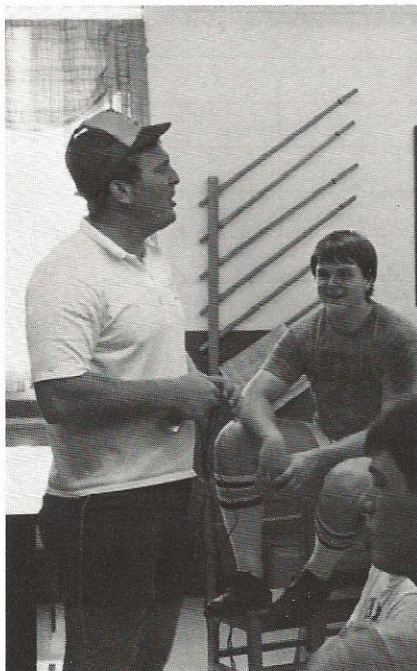

While in a meeting at which the team discusses their expectations for the next game, some of the players find something to amuse themselves.

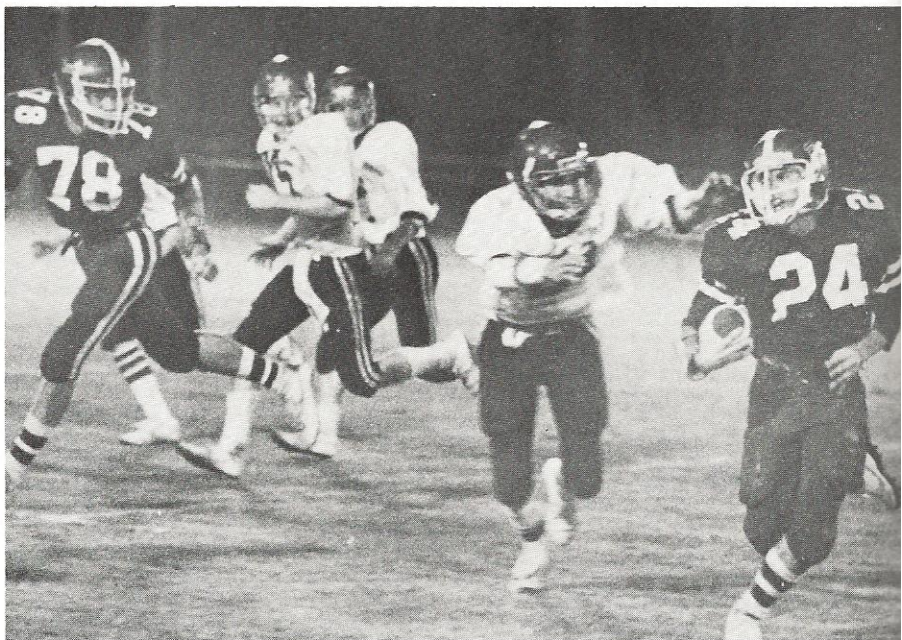

Freshman Mike Hiott, the Hawks' first string kicker, attempts to build up his strength by working out in the weight room.

As the referee signals that the touchdown has not yet been made, the Warhawks begin to get up so that they can re-group and try again.

Joey Craven, playing football for the first time this year, smiles while Coach Orsini discusses the film from the preceding game.

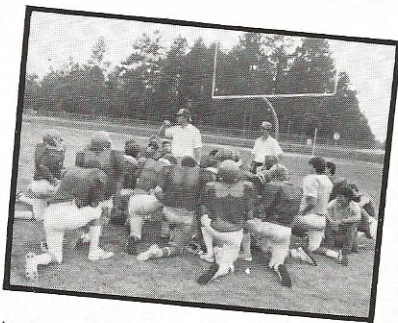

As junior Danny Beach (24) attempts to gain the needed yardage, classmate Billy Ritter (78) rushes to defeat the opposing player.

Senior Shan Pye takes control of the ball into his own hands and rushes for the touchdown.

Varsity Football

At the end of one of those grueling and hot days of practice, Coaches Orsini and Winslett gather the Warhawks together for a few closing remarks.

Dynamite Comes In Small Packages

For the first game of the season, the B-team hosted the May River Patriots. Ending the battle with a 26-20 score, the Hawks were elated. The second game brought the Mims Academy Patriots to Walterboro. The Hawks gained yet another victory with the game ending in a 14-12 score. The following week took the Hawks to Ridgeland for a defeat of 14-26 by Thomas Heyward. Bad luck seemed to continue for the Hawks as they were beaten 6-20 by Allendale. Hoping for a third victory, the Hawks traveled to Ehrhardt to play the Andrew Jackson Confederates. Fortunately the game ended in a satisfying win with a 46-8 score showing. The following Thursday brought Patrick Henry to Walterboro. The baby Hawks captured their fourth victory with a 14-0 score. For the final game, the Hawks welcomed the Rebels of Thomas Heyward. Unfortunately the game ended another defeat with a score of 0-32. Even though the B-team lost the last game, ending the season with a 4-3 record is something of which to be proud.

The anxious and anticipating baby Hawks break through the poster and head for the sideline where many cheering fans await.

Cheering: They Love It!

Loving to cheer is only one of the qualities necessary to be a Varsity Cheerleader. The 1984-85 squad certainly loved their cheering. The cheerleaders loved it enough to attend U.C.A. Cheerleading Camp at Columbia College where they practiced, and screamed their way to winning the overall camp championship. The squad loved it enough to cheer and show pride even when they were tired and needed to rest. The girls loved it enough to practice in the hot summer and to cheer their hardest even when the team was too low to come back. Someday, because of cheerleaders like these, school spirit will be had by all.

While at cheerleader camp, Monica Avant (above) has some fun when she gets to "punk out."

Much practice goes into the making of a good cheerleader. Junior Sherrie Rizer (above) surely does think so as she practices her cheer for the competition at camp.

What a change! Junior Kim Headen (above in the middle) definitely makes a change between these two pictures.

Bundles Of Enthusiasm

Although the 1984-85 junior varsity cheerleading squad had some of the same characteristics as all other squads — grueling practices, exhausting camps, colorful poster-painting, and undying spirit — this year's edition had a personality all its own. These girls had enthusiasm, and they brought that excitement to their peers. For instance, this year, the first B-team pep rally was held in the gymnasium by the cheerleaders. Whatever the task was that the cheerleaders were required to complete, they upheld their responsibilities with bundles of enthusiasm.

Persistence And Determination

Persistence and determination — the 1984-85 Varsity Boys basketball team showed the student body what those two qualities meant. Despite a lack of height, the Hawks used their blistering quickness and hustling defense to undercut several of their opponents. The team was led by a host of prominent individual talent: Shan Pye gave team leadership in difficult situations. The ball handling of Pat Harmon and the outstanding shooting of Brian Strickland also helped to make the Hawks a well-balanced squad. With these three young men, as well as the other team members, and also with their never-failing persistence and determination, the boys proved to be a satisfying group to watch.

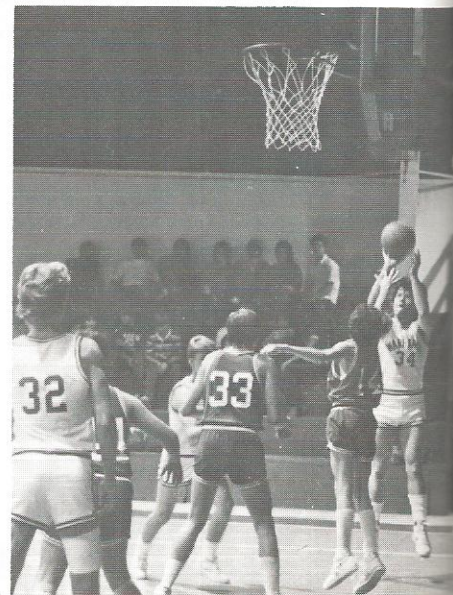

Junior Danny Beach dribbles the ball down the court while he thinks about how to execute the play.

As junior Ward Ulmer (32) watches his under-the-basket shot, freshman Chad Brightwell prepares for the rebound.

First-string Brian Strickland outjumps the opposing player and lays up another possible two-pointer.

While Ben Graham watches his free throw swish through the hoop, the other John C. players prepare for the possible rebound.

After breaking away from the other nine players, senior Robbie Free singles himself out and makes a beautiful lay-up.

Junior Billy Ritter easily over-towers his opponent and smoothly shoots another basket.

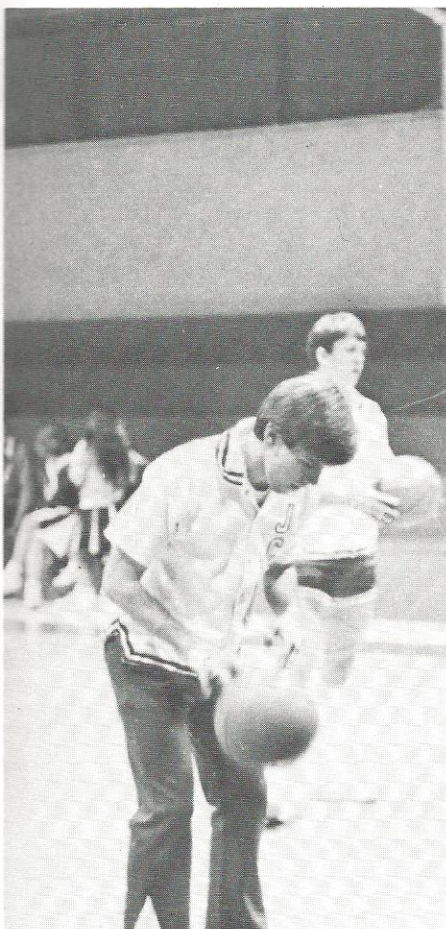

As the Hawks rush to get into their respective positions, Shan Pye (12) runs to catch the pass that Robbie Free has thrown to him.

As the Salem offensive player attempts to stop Jimmy Hiott's (14) talented moves with his foot, Jimmy allows himself to fall knowing that he will get his deserved free throws.

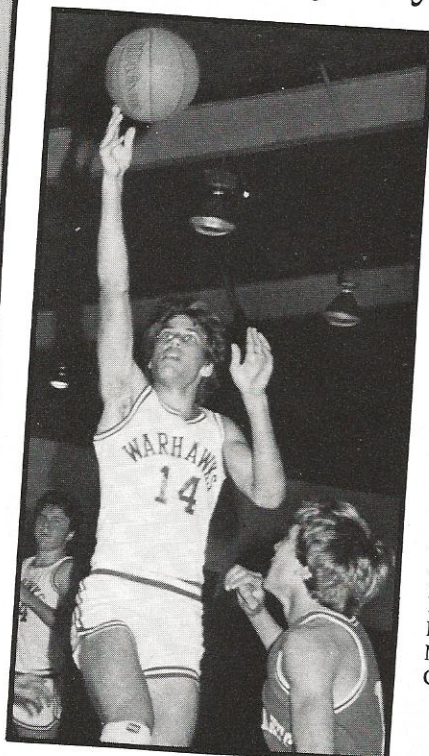

Ward Ulmer, earning his career high scoring of 26 points against Country Day, takes control of the ball into his own hands and looks for the basket.

Danny Beach, a three-year veteran, practices his free throw shooting as senior Charles Cook waits for his turn at the line.

Heroes In Hand-me-downs

Under the excellent coaching of Ron Lassiter and David MacArthur, the Junior Varsity Boys' basketball team of 1984-85 did a fine job of executing this season. Led by such talented individuals as Mike Hiott and Chad Brightwell, the team found it difficult to unite the many individual skills when playing as a whole. With this unsuccessfulness, a few disappointing games were experienced by the "heroes in hand-me-downs." Even so, the boys continued to play with enthusiasm and determination throughout the entire season. At the end of the basketball year, the boys agreed that even though the record was disappointing, the hard work at practices had proven to be very rewarding.

As five of the Hawks play their best on the court, coaches Ron Lassiter (far left) and David MacArthur concentrate on the game.

Talent Reflects Success

From the time when the spectators and fans proclaimed the Hawks to be one of the best teams seen in a while, much speculation was focused on the Lady Hawks. The senior-dominated team sailed into Christmas with a five-win record having suffered only two defeats. The highlight of the season came also during the Christmas season with the Hawks capturing first place in the First Annual J.C.C.A. Tip-off Tournament. Along with that thrill, a few of the girls were named to the all-tournament team, while Jan Ulmer was given the honor of Most Valuable Player of the tournament. After the first of the new year, the Hawks' starting line-up soon struck fear into the hearts of players everywhere. Although the team is losing four starters due to graduation, several underclassman can fill the leading roles in the future. With such talent prevailing in the hallowed halls of John C., it is no surprise that there was much success in the 1984-85 season.

Before the game, coaches Carol Meegan and Rhonda Rister (far left), a basketball alumnus of John C., discuss the upcoming event as they wait for the warm-up period to end.

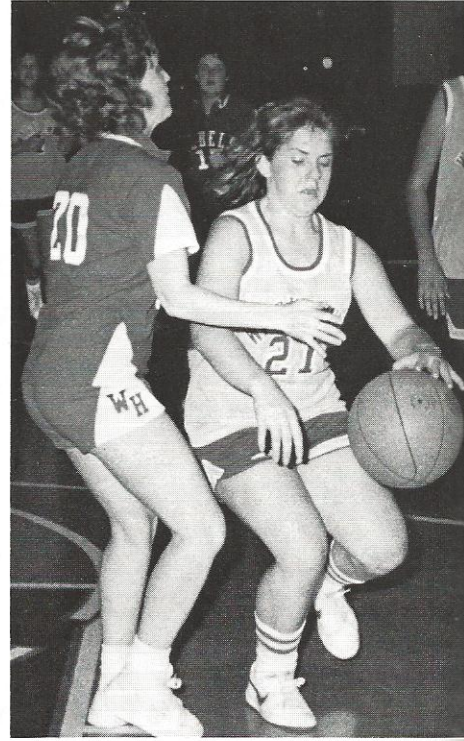

As senior Jan Ulmer shoots a smoothly executed lay-up, she adds two more points to her high school record of more than a thousand points.

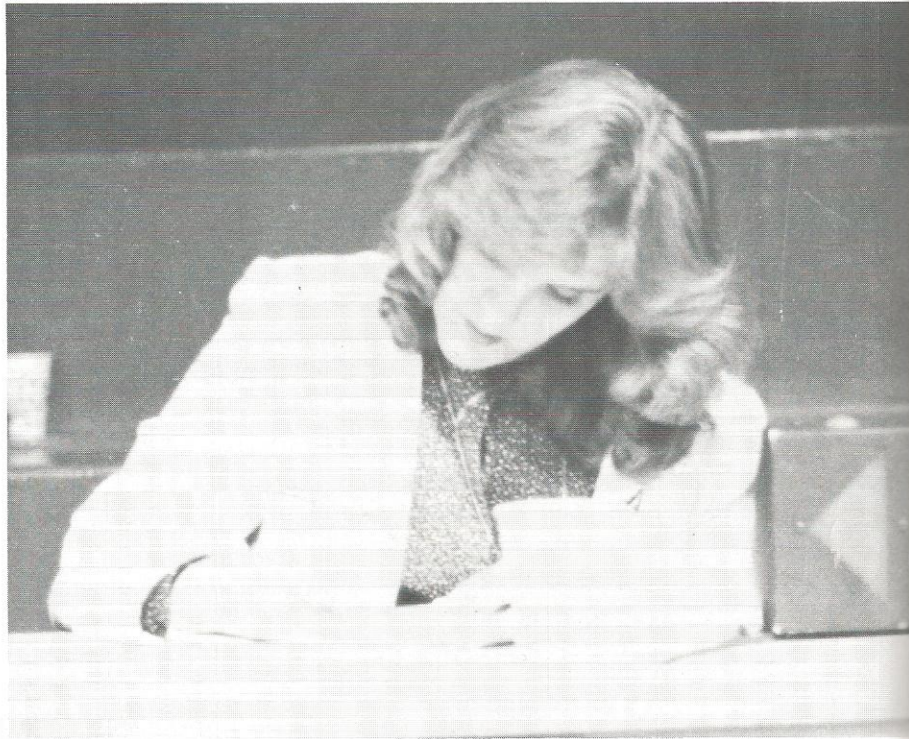

After the shot, Susan Thomas (51) and Debbie Powers, both being starters, wait for either the rebound or the two additional points.

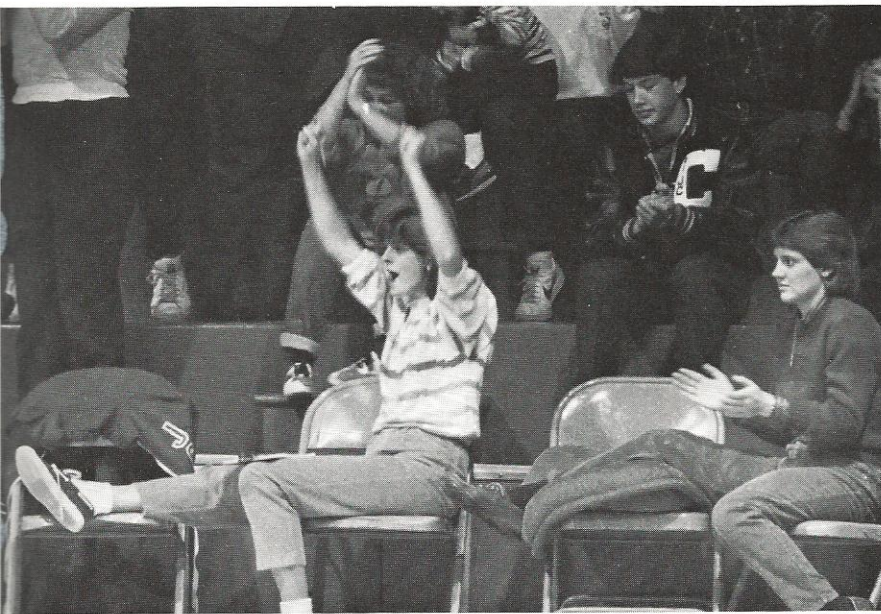

Senior Lane Trammell hustles her way around the Rebel opponent and maneuvers the ball to set up the offense.

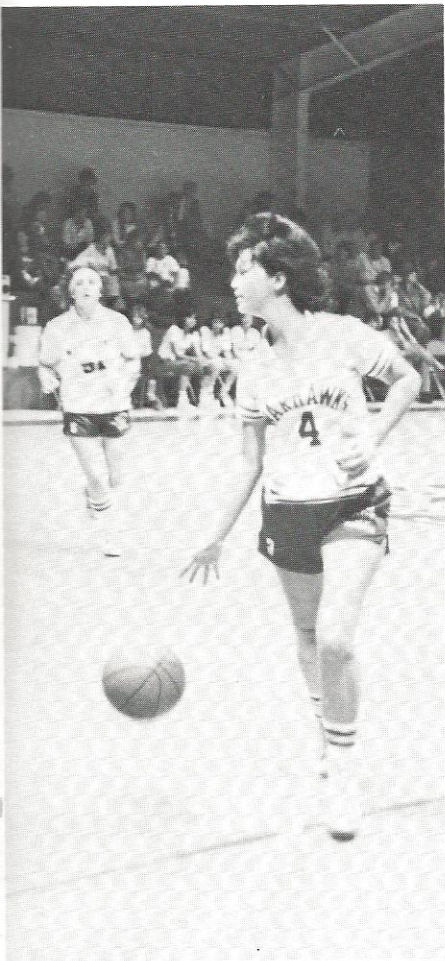

Freshman Wendy Ulmer, a starter for John C., almost loses control of the ball, but she manages to regain her possession before the opposing players steal the ball away from her.

Senior Cathy Sams, who has been keeping the varsity scorebooks since the tenth grade, adds up the totals from that particular night's game.

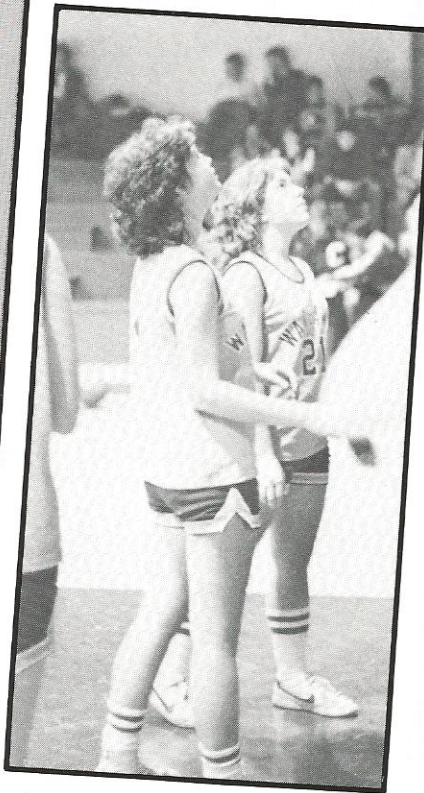

Right after the season started, the Hawks were plagued with bad luck. Both Tracy Ulmer (left) and Melanie Easterlin did severe damage to their knees, and both also had to have surgery. Even though Melanie was unable to return to the team as a player, Tracy regained her strength after the first of the year.

Junior Carole McCants dribbles the ball down to the Hawk hoop as sophomore Jo Lynn Bennett comes to help Carole maneuver the ball.

Courting Success

The Junior Varsity Girls' basketball team acquired a new coach for the 1984-85 season. Mrs. Carol Meegan came to guide the Little Lady Hawks. By the end of the season, it looked as if the girls had learned the fundamentals of basketball and how to play as a team. The squad showed tremendous determination and effort throughout the season. There were several successful moments on the courts, proving that practice and hard work pay off. The J.V. girls team had a better record than years' past. Hopefully the J.V. squad will continue to improve and post a winning season for next year.

As Kim Carter prepares to jump for the ball, Wendy Hiott (14) gets ready to retrieve it for the Little Lady Hawks.

As sophomore Cindy Smith prepares to jump for the ball, Christy Steele and Wendy Hiott (14) get ready to catch it.

For Coach Carol Meegan, sitting down for more than two seconds was an accomplishment in itself. But, whatever her styles, she helped to mold two of the finest girls teams that has been seen in quite some time.

America Discovered It, John C. Perfected It.

After ending the regular season with nine wins and four losses, the 1984 varsity baseball team advanced to the conference play-offs. The first play-off game, which was against the Wade Hampton Rebels, ended in a 5-3 victory for the Hawks. Later on that day, the Hawks played the Willington Patriots, and unfortunately, the Hawks lost 8-9. Even though the Hawks had to settle for the conference runner-up slot, they were able to compete for the State Championship. The team was scheduled to play three games against the Wilson Hall Barons. The first team to win two out of those three games was to play either Robert E. Lee or Willington for the championship. Much to their dismay, the Hawks lost the first game 9-5. The second game had a much better outcome with the Hawks capturing a 1-0 victory. It looked like the Hawks had a good chance to be the State Champions but bad luck still prevailed. The third and decisive game ended with the Hawks coming up on the short end 8-10. Even so, some hope prevailed after that game because a controversial call made by one of the umpires was protested by the Hawks. Nothing ever became of the protest; therefore, the Hawks finished the entire season with a 11-6 record.

At the awards banquet, coaches Robert Axson and Doug Beckhart recognized all of the talented players, but three of them impartial. Most valuable player Joey Ritter, along with Reggie Woods and Bert Snyder were named All-Conference players. Reggie and Joey were also given the honor of being chosen for the All-South baseball team.

As the Hammond Skyhawk swings at the approaching baseball, junior Shan Pye prepares his glove for the possible catch.

All-Conference junior Bert Snyder prepares to deliver the batter's third strike as third baseman Reggie Woods (8) watches carefully.

As the Thomas Heyward first baseman waits for the ball, Shan Pye rushes toward the base.

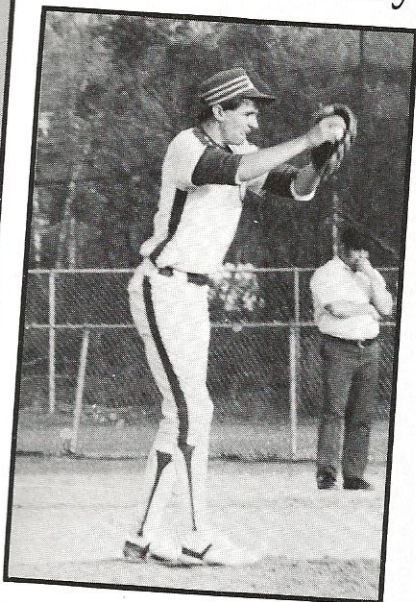

Just as the John C. runner reaches second base, the two-man Rebel opposition attempts to make another needed out.

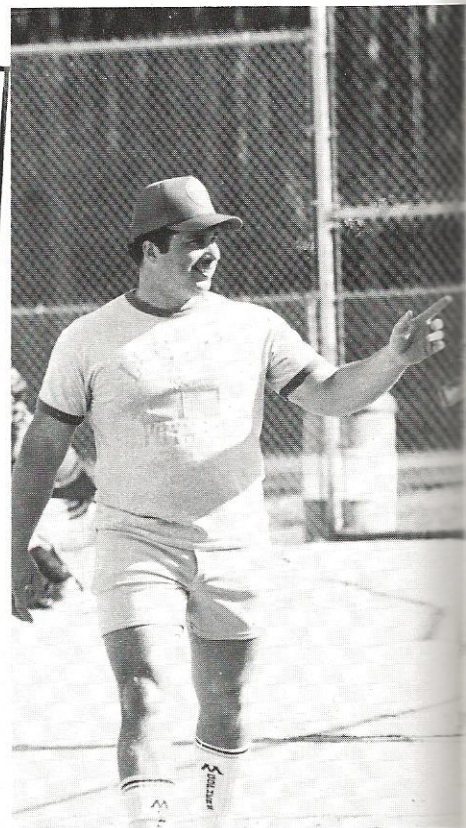

During a time out, coaches Robert Axson and Doug Beckhart discuss the perplexing situation with pitcher Heath Griffith.

Just A Swingin'

With nine members from the 1983 softball team returning, it was not a wonder that the 1984 softball team was just as talented. Coached by Alan Taylor and Scott Hartshorn, the girls practiced diligently every day after school until their catching and batting skills were perfected. Ending the season with a 6-6 record made the team happy and satisfied, and since there were only three seniors, the 1985 season looks to be promising.

During the awards banquet, Carmen Long was presented the most valuable player award by coaches Taylor and Hartshorn. She was chosen for that honor by her teammates.

As the Willington runner heads for second base, senior Jenny Savela hurriedly throws the ball to Wendy Litchfield.

The Baby Blues

For the second consecutive year, the junior varsity baseball team had an unusual season. Head-coached by Robert Axson, and assistant-coached by Chuck Bishop, the team consisted of a little under fifteen players. Many of those players were also members of the varsity baseball team; therefore, they had to complete double of the usual workload. With many of the boys participating on both of the teams, it was difficult to schedule games for the "Baby Blues." The team only played five games, but it ended its season with a 2-2-1 record, with which they were satisfied and proud.

During the awards banquet, the players were recognized by coaches Robert Axson and Chuck Bishop. Scott Pellum was honored by the two coaches and his teammates when the most valuable player award was presented to him.

Consisting of five dedicated members, the 1984 golf team ended its season with a 6-4 record. After losing the first match to Beaufort, the boys decided that this year they were going to prove to the John C. fans just how good they were. They did prove their theory not only to the fans but also to themselves. After the regular season matches, the boys, along with one of their coaches, Lee Ray Moody, traveled to Santee for the two-day State Tournament. The boys brought home the honor of being the fifth-seeded team out of eight teams in South Carolina.

At the Athletic Awards Banquet, the two coaches, Lee Ray Moody and Randy Peters, named Billy Howell as the most improved golfer and Bubba Williams as the most valuable player. These boys, along with the other members of the team, agreed that next year should be an equally, if not more successful, season since all five players are returning.

The Upper Hand On Love

Having lost three seniors, the 1984 girls' tennis team was proud that it ended its season with a 4-4 record. After many hours spent perfecting their serves and backhands, the girls played their matches to the best of their ability.

Occasionally last year, the girls' tennis team traveled to their matches with the boys' tennis team. Coached by Tuck McConnell and Kenny Rowe, the boys had hoped to do better than an 0-5 record, but considering that the team had not had much experience, the situation was understood.

During the awards banquet, Mr. Godwin honored Cindy Smith with the hustle award, Kim Headden with the most improved award, and Grace Ann Mitchell with most valuable player award. The boys' coaches presented the hustle award to Thomas Rowe, the most improved award to Todd Buddin, and the most valuable player award to Benji Black.

STYLE

Each student enrolled in J.C.C.A. has his own unique style. Whether it be a variation in clothes, personality, or hairstyle, every student possesses one characteristic that makes him special. The variety of styles present at John C. come together to form a single body of students made up of very different individuals.

This year there were many changes in style. Students were constantly seeking to express themselves in many different ways. Fashion was one predominant way to show style — from the mild to the extravagant. Personalities also showed changes as students strived to be unique. No matter what the change, every person is different and together these students form a school in which a variety of people can work together.

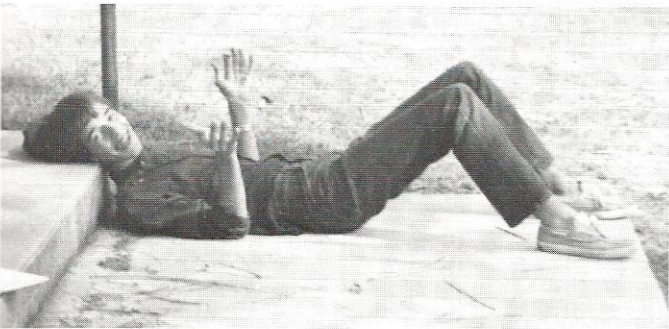

In their annual Halloween costumes, the seniors show that they are the most original trick-or-treaters around.

As a group of close friends, these freshmen can often be found clowning around together.

Matt Adddson, one of the school photographers, takes time to recline and rest from his work.

Boy Scout Jay DeLoach carries out his morning responsibility of raising the flag.

Carol McCants enjoys learning French culture in Miss Mole's class.

Changes In . . .

School is not just a time for studying, working on projects, and doing book reports. Although these are very important to getting an education, there are other areas of equal importance. Sharing special friendships, being involved in various clubs, going to football games — these are all experiences for which school days will be remembered. Being small in number, the students at John C. have had the advantage of having close relations with each other. They have had the opportunity to find excitement socially as well as academically. J.C.C.A. will leave all of its students with memories to cherish.

These seniors show that school is not all work and no play.

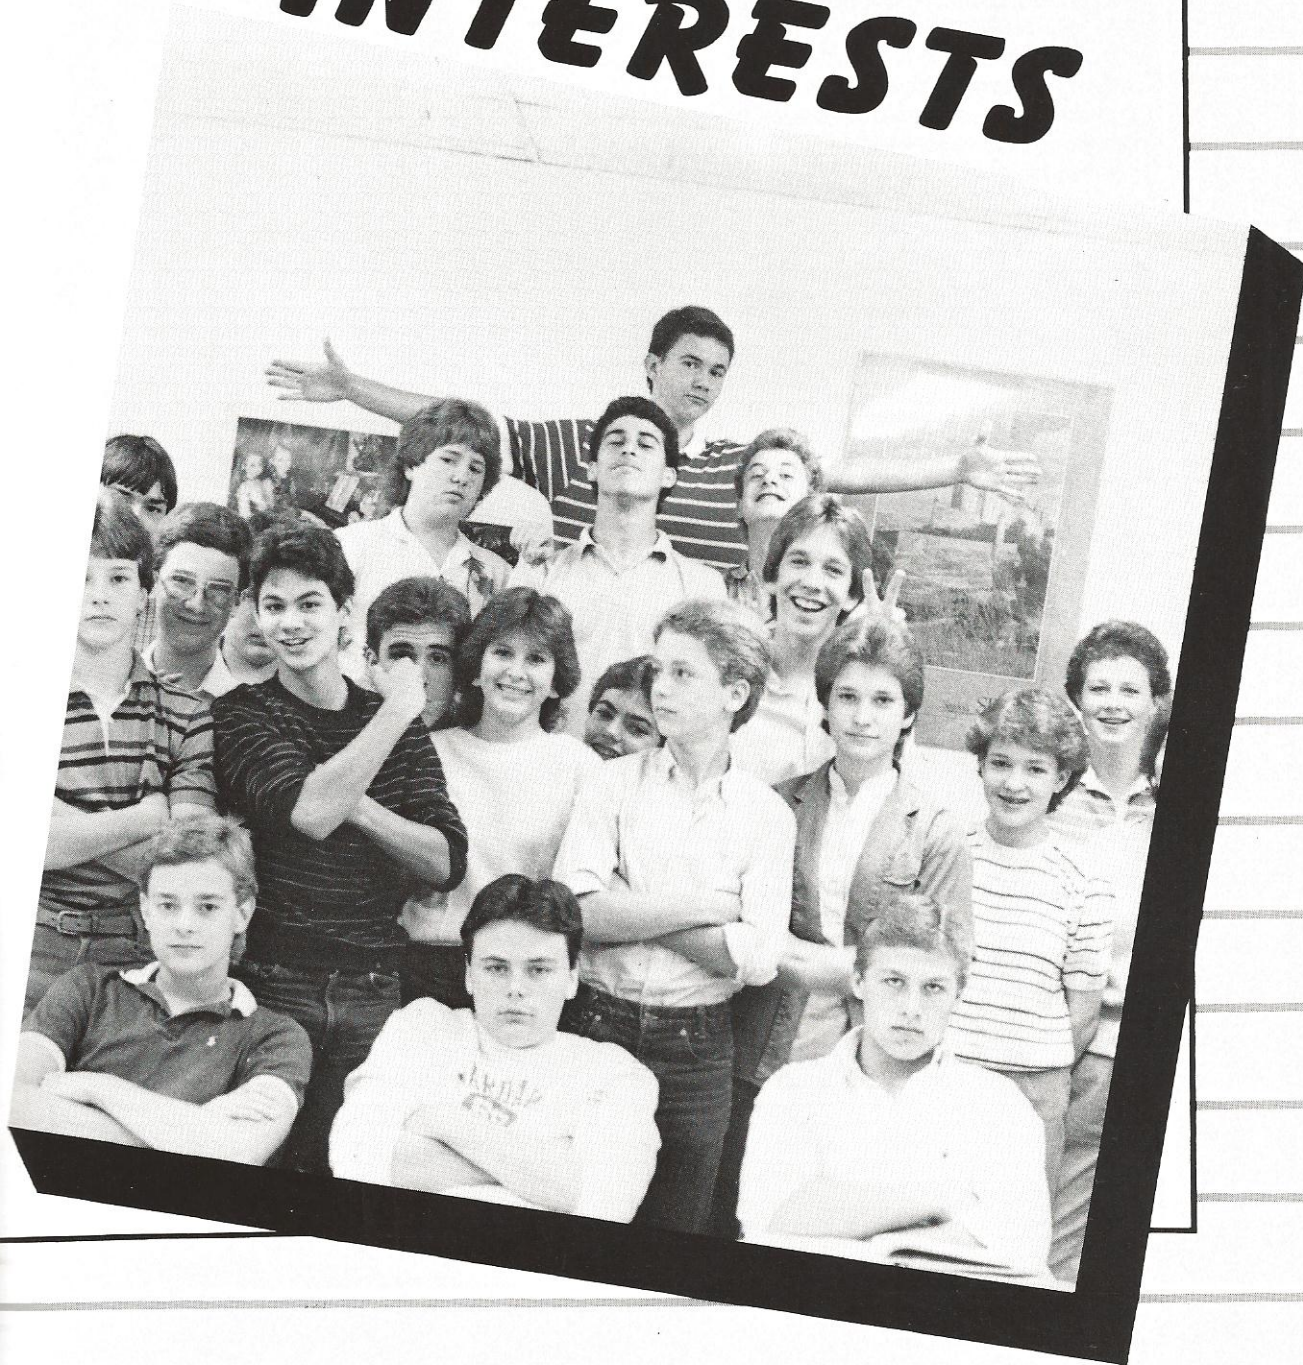

Toni Wilson, Kim Fennell, and Michael Ritter are spirited eighth graders.

STUDENTS

During the years between those fears of kindergarten and the "Pomp and Circumstance" of graduation, students undergo many changes as they mature. Being around new people and away from their parents, most kindergarten students have to make many adjustments. As the years go by, students in the lower and middle schools are also constantly changing from one day to the next as they begin to develop their personalities. High school brings times of excitement, confusion, joy, and exhaustion. These years are for making memories and remembering those of the past.

At kindergarten graduation, this student dreams of the time when he will be a senior.

... The Best Of The Class Of 1985!

Cathy Sams

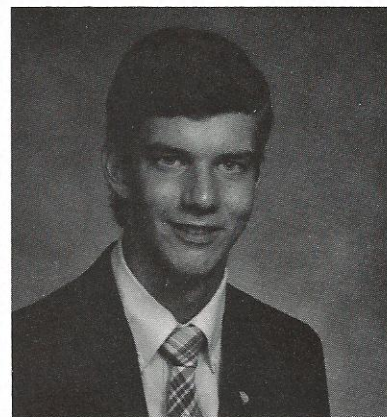

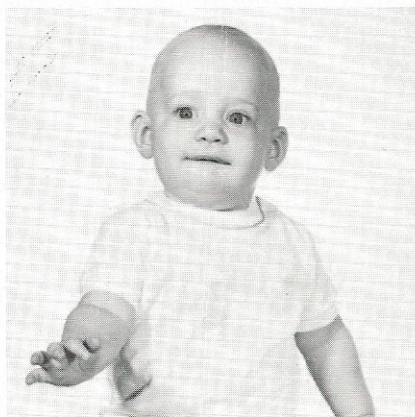

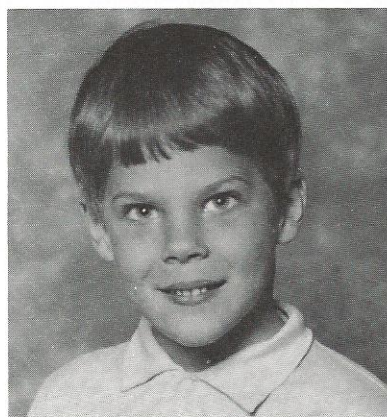

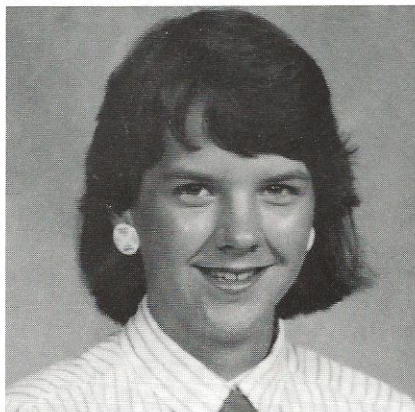

Susan Thomas

Mickie Turner

Congratulations, Cathy. We are proud of you and we love you. Mother and Daddy

We are proud of you. Annette and Dad

To the best ever. Love, Mom and Dad

One of the happiest moments in my life was when our son, Rhett, received his Eagle Scout Award. It proved to me something I have always believed in, which is that hard work and determination can get you just about anywhere you want to go!

Keith, we love you because you are our son. We are proud of your accomplishments and the young man you have become. Keep on growing. We love you, Mom and Dad

It is our pleasure to honor you in your senior year of high school. The years have gone by so quickly. We know they have been years of hard work and we hope lots of fun. We have enjoyed any part that we have played in these years and are very proud of all the accomplishments. We know that you will continue to do your best at whatever you decide to do in the future. With love, Your Parents

Stepping Out!!

Ned Willis

Thanks for all the joy you have brought into our lives. You have made us very proud. Love, Dad and Mom

Rob Young

Your years at John C. have been years of growing, learning, and fun. We are proud of your educational goals and of the standards of value you have set for your life. We love you because you are our son and because you are "YOU". Love, Mom and Dad

How Are Seniors Different Today Compared To Those Of The Classes Of The 1970's?

Belle Morehead

Respect for selves and authority, on the whole, has digressed to minimal proportions. Individuality has gone by the wayside. Peers decide all.

Robert Bennett

Seniors today are much more conservative. I have found them to be more easy going.

Joann Wimberely

The Seniors of the 80's seem to be better prepared for college than those of a decade ago. This may be due to the greater concern for their futures and also a greater willingness to conform to established values.

Betty Linder

I don't know that seniors today are any different. The surface things seem to alter: their clothes, perhaps the music they listen to. Deep down, seniors have the same concerns as those of a decade past. They think about college and how well they'll do and also about what the future holds.

Everyone's Grandmother

Mrs. Esther Hiers, generally thought of as everyone's grandmother, has been teaching kindergarten children at J.C.C.A. for fourteen years. Although her students are too young to understand her dedication and love for them, she gently enforces her beliefs in proper behavior, knowing that she is laying a foundation for learning. Most of the five-year-olds in her class do not see her as a friend in the way they see their other classmates; however, she does more and cares more than any friend they will ever have. For this reason, the editors of the Talon are proud to dedicate this yearbook to Mrs. Hiers.

Many students at John C. have fond memories of Mrs. Hiers' class. Matt Addison is one of those who replied, "Though she may seem strict and terrifying to a small child, the worst part of doing something wrong is knowing that you have disappointed her, though she never gives punishment without more than enough love to equal out the pain."
