

Eric McGill, a junior, safely slides into home plate to get the winning run against Thomas Heyward.

Baseball

Won — 5, Lost — 13

Dorchester — lost 12-6
Mims — lost 9-6
Country Day — lost 8-4
Orangeburg Prep — lost 6-3
Clarendon Hall — lost 6-0

TOURNAMENT

Thomas Heyward — lost 4-2
Bowman — won 18-2

Thomas Heyward — won 7-3
Mims — won 7-1
Holly Hill — won 8-2
Roy Hudgens — lost 18-0
Orangeburg Prep — lost 8-0
Holly Hill — won 11-8
Roy Hudgens — lost 11-1

PLAY OFF

Thomas Heyward — lost 2-0
Thomas Heyward — lost 6-2

TOURNAMENT

Orangeburg Prep — lost 10-1
Orangeburg Prep — lost 5-2

Enthusiasm And Determination

Although the Hawks had both of these elements they still didn't have a winning season.

The 1986-1987 Varsity baseball team consisted of thirteen players. This was a rebuilding year for the War Hawks. But, what they lacked in experience, they more than made up for in enthusiasm and determination.

A usual War Hawk practice lasted about two hours. It began with some running. Next the War Hawk team practiced playing the infield. This was followed by batting practice. The team practiced long and hard, but when it came time for the game, the scores didn't reflect all of that hard work.

The Hawks ended the regular season with five wins and nine losses but, fortunately for the Hawks, the only other team in the conference was Thomas Heyward. Because of this, the Hawks were automatically in the playoffs even though their regular season was not as good as they would have liked.

As they went into the playoffs, the Hawks still had high hopes of a victory. If they could have won the games with determination alone, there would have been no contest. But to no avail, they still came up short on the scoreboard. The War Hawks ended the season with a record of five wins and thirteen losses.