

Freshmen

"May (the Declaration of Independence) be to the world what I believe it will be, to some parts sooner, to others later, but finally to all, the Signal of arousing men . . . to assume the blessings and security of self-government."

Thomas Jefferson