

During the '71 season the Patriots started off with a bang defeating Bowman 21-0. Randy Ulmer had a fine day in his debut as quarterback. A week prior to this game the Patriots suffered a setback by losing Larry Glover for the season due to an injury and discovering that Johnny Jones would have to undergo surgery prior to playing.

