These members, who are trained by the current cheerleaders, learn all the tricks of the trade. They become adept in making the twists, turns, jumps, and, of course, the proper use of their vocal power. Then, those who want to take over the job of cheerleading are put to a test. This group must be judged by a committee and then by the student body. Thus the cheerleaders are chosen. So, you see, there is much more to this club than just vim, vigor, and vitality.
