Perhaps this "pistol packing" club will be shooting for the stars in the future. This past year though, this target shooting group, which consists of thirty members, met at the National Guard Armory every Friday after school, under the guidance of Mr. Leftwich, to try to improve their shooting techniques. They practiced marksmanship from four positions: prone, kneeling, sitting, and standing.

The six best marksmen were chosen to represent SW as a team. These six shooters kept plugging for perfection and succeeded in clinching second place in their division in the league with other St. Louis area schools.

These top six were Bill Mason, Rich Lohse, John Burch, Johnny Leonard, Dave Wisc, and David Glaves.
