

Fourth Graders Eagerly Face New Challenges

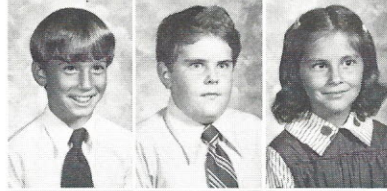

Vibrant fourth graders encountered many new experiences throughout the year. Large relief maps provided an unusual method of studying social studies. In science, students made insect collections and performed experiments which increased interest in the world about them. In preparation for participation in the Bicentennial celebration, projects were completed in history class.

Karen Adams
Kelley Adcox
Dalton Adden

Brett Andrae
Tracy Ayer
Jackie Bair

Lonnie Bair
Cheryl Bell
David Biggers

Lynn Blanton
Pauline Bonnette
Sheri Brezillac

