

EXPERIENCES

Often working with limited time and materials, students combined creativity and industriousness to produce a tapestry of events that spanned the year. Whether making floats, decorating the gym, or coordinating Queen of Hearts talent, students learned to respect organization and to assume leadership. Then came tired smiles of accomplishment as the hours of work produced successful results.

